DICKSON'S HILL

Members of the Wm. Grove Grove family visiting at home included Miss Evelyn Grove and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Overland of Toronto also Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Grove and family of Stouffville. Mr. and Mrs. R. Moyer and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley McDowell of Stouffville called at the Bob McDowell home in Uxbridge. They renewed friendship with Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Farquhar son and family of Victoria Sq. Members of the local church congregation gathered at the parsonage at Mt. Joy to tender a pantry shower for Pastor Rees and family. With the diversion of traffic to the new section of highway 48 those living close to the Hill are enjoying quietness from the distracting lights and noises that sent them to areas back of the house. Last week new pavement was laid and the passers-by break any monotony that might be experienced by the sudden change. We are glad to report that Chas. Mallett and Mr. Mervin Harper are again back on the job in spite of a broken toe, and a fall from a load of hay. A number of our children are attending the Bible Classes in Stouffville which are being sponsored by the Child Evangelism Fellowship.

Mrs. Ken Walker visited her niece, Mrs. Watson who is a patient in Uxbridge Hospital.

On Thursday, July 28th, a bridal shower was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Moss, Langstaff in honour of Miss Joyce Jones who will become the bride of Wm. Gilchrist of Milliken on Saturday, Aug. 20 in the Dickson's Hill United Missionary Church. The hostess was Miss Viola Moss. Many attractive gifts were presented to the bride.

CREATION

Some say man "evolved" from a monkey in a tree, Others, from a jelly-fish floating in the sea. But while our scientific friends deny its inspiration, We'll just keep on believing in the Story of Creation.

I sometimes think the monkeys are ashamed of mortal man. They see him doing many things a monkey would not plan. You never saw a monkey puffing at a cigarette, Or stagger drunken down the street: I haven't seen one yet.

No scientific monkey ever made an atom, bomb Or other cruel weapon to tear men limb from limb. No — only man invented these instruments of war, And now he's trying very hard to land upon a star.

When God created mortal man, He made him pure and holy, But man has "deviltuted" into every kind of folly. So all you evolutionists, come down from up your tree, Take the Bible as it says and show mentality.

The God who made the universe at men must surely laugh, Who try to be so over-wise and feed their souls on chaff. A monkey never cursed his God or lied about his fate. 'Tis only man who fell so low and filled this world with hate. —Leslie Grove, P.R. 2, Gormley
