

Four Year Old Buttonville Boy Dies After Taking Medicine

Four-year-old Brett Webster died in the hospital for Sick Children on Friday afternoon of last week after a struggle for life which lasted several days. The small boy, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Webster of Hughson Drive, Arncliffe Hts., took medicine meant for an adult early last week. The child was rushed to hospital but could not be revived. The funeral service was from Hope United Church, Toronto.

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Webster in this great sorrow. Brett is survived by one brother, four-month-old David.

NEIGHBOURHOOD NOTES
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Graham spent several days with their daughter at Oshawa last week. Mr. and Mrs. James McQuay were also visitors in that city, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Scott.

On Sunday of this week Mr. and Mrs. E. Crisp returned from a camping expedition with members of their family at Onemece.

The community extends condolences to Mr. and Mrs. Alex Gardner and their family in the loss of Mr. Gardner's brother whose death occurred last week. The funeral was held on Thursday, with interment in St. John's Norway cemetery.

Young friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Rae Donaldson, North Buttonville, recently, to honour Mary Hooper whose marriage to Howard Brumwell takes place on September 17th. Last week Messrs Jack Rodick, Henry Harper, Mrs. Morrison Seller and Misses Mary Rodick and May Harper spent several days motoring through Haliburton, Muskoka and Parry Sound districts, returning by way of Georgian Bay.

W.I. members completed a quilting assignment at the home of Mrs. John Donaldson last week. The second of two quilts made during July was placed in frames early in the week and workers gave time as they could.

MOTOR ACCIDENTS
On Thursday of last week Markham Township Police were called to two road accidents on Don Mills Road.

The first occurred south of No. 7 Highway at 4 o'clock in the afternoon as a car driven by Nora Bungay of Toronto made a left-hand turn into McQuay's Garage and was struck by a north-bound car driven by Arthur Fauvert of Mt. Albert. Miss Bungay's father, an 87-year-old man, was thrown to the pavement and suffered a severe shaking up, but was able to be taken home in a taxi. Dr. Seaver of Markham attended and Sgt. Bob Hood investigated.

Later in the evening a car driven by Peter Nishanen of Toronto went out of control and rolled over just at the residence of James Rodick, North Buttonville. Mr. Nishanen escaped with a few cuts and bruises, but his car was a total wreck. P.C. Doug Tribbling investigated.

FARM ACCIDENT SURVEY
Farm accidents can be costly affairs according to the recent Farm Accident Survey taken county by county throughout Ontario during the year ending February 29, 1960.

During that time, in York County, there were 4 fatalities among farm personnel, 8 permanent injuries and 118 temporary injuries. Total property damage amounted to $221,211.00 and medical bills added up to $8,774.00. That there is no place like home for an accident, is born out in this report, which shows that the greatest number of mishaps occurred in the homes, gardens, barns or fields of the farmer, with the next most popular place being the provincial highways.

The survey also bears out the fact that the human animal can come to grief all by himself without half trying. In the majority of cases accidents around home were due to stumbling and misjudgment; motor accidents took second place, with a slightly lower toll. Non-power tools and lightning were the least dangerous accident agents.

The time element enters in as well. The safest hours for farm personnel are 4 a.m. to 5 a.m., while the most accidents occur between 2:00 p.m. and 4:00 p.m. with the second highest peak at between 10:00 a.m. and 11:00 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Farr and Francis were at Gowanda over the holiday weekend. They report the pickering fishing was terrific, landing eleven in about an hour.
The Summitview Public School, which was built in 1917, has just been equipped with its first set of screens. Seventy-two windows were screened with aluminum screens, at a cost of $1,300.00. This was the lowest tender and was submitted by Mr. Vandolyer, R.R. 2, Stouffville. This was a project that had been urged by the Dept. for several years.
Mrs. Joyce Heatherington, wife of P.C. Heatherington, of the Stouffville Police Dept., became the first local lady to solo in an aircraft at the Goodwood Airport. She has completed thirteen air hours of training and hopes to obtain her private pilot's license. Her husband successfully passed his pilot's tests only recently.
Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Lemon arrived home on Tuesday from a 6000-mile trip to Western Canada. They report having had very hot weather. 70 Cars Carry Farmers to Sunrise Tour

A procession of over 70 cars was made up of York County farmers last week for the annual Sunrise Tour. Those on the tour stopped at several farms to see crop demonstrations, as well as new developments in land use and farm buildings. The 230 men in the group saw chemical weed killers for corn, Simazine and Altrazine, giving complete control on Cliff Winger's farm at Gormley. Grass waterways were recommended by land use authorities, as a way to bring poorly drained, land back into production on Jack Fraser's farm near King City. Open ditches were rated only second best for this kind of land because they do not work well where pasturing is to be done and weeds and maintenance are a continuing problem.
As well as looking at the newest farm practices, the group had a good look at farming in pioneering days. The Black Creek Conservation Area near Woodbridge, was of great interest with the displays of old farm implements, houses and farm buildings.
One method of converting old farm buildings to modern use was seen at Virginia Lea Farm at Maple. The farm buildings there had been changed over at very low cost to a loose housing system for dairy cattle.
Carl Boynton at Nobleton had a good demonstration on seeding forage crops for the group, on his farm. His new seeding was much better developed in an area of a field where there was no nurse crop and where the nurse crop was in 14" rows, than it was where the seeding had been done normally. A new weed killer for forage crops, 2,4-DB, had also been used on part of the field. It killed practically all of the weeds and there was no damage to the alfalfa and clovers in the mixture. Those on the tour were also interested in the mechanical grazing for dairy cattle on Carl Boynton's farm. With this system, the acreage required for pasture was much lower than where natural pasture was used.
The group visited Shur-Gain Farm at Maple, saw the crops grown on the farm, along with the official Rod Row tests and Drill Width tests of oats and barley. Straw Hut Farming pens for the isolation of swine were also of interest to the group.
The tour was sponsored by the York County Soil & Crop Improvement Association.

Stiver's Aurora Mgr. Retires

J. Milfred McDowell has seen rail shipping give way to trucking, all his neighbors move away and subdivisions move in. And after three months of sleeping late of mornings, he still can't seem to get used to the idea that he is retired after 31 years as manager of the Aurora Stiver Bros. fuel and feed business.
He retired officially last April 1, and at a dinner in his honor was presented with a wall clock by E. J. Stiver, founder of the Stiver feed supply business.
Recollections? He recalls the daring days in his five years with Stiver's at their Unionville store when he drove the first truck they ever owned. It was a pedal operated old Russell axle job and it did a bolt-shaking 30 miles per hour on a good road and on a clear day when there wasn't much moisture in the air to slow it down.
Milfred, now 68, has lived in the same house on Yonge St. N. since he moved to Aurora with his wife 31 years ago.
When he took over management of the Aurora plant he found he had a problem. Business wasn't exactly humming along. He and Joe Waits spent their days cheering each other up. But feed, seed and coal he was determined to sell, so nights he would hike off into the country to try to drum up busi-

Farm Wives Vie In Plowing Match

A farm invention contest will be a feature of the international plowing match in Elgin County October 11-14.
A plowing match for wives and daughters of farmers will be another new attraction. So far 20 Ontario mayors have accepted the challenge of Mayor Barrie of St. Thomas to participate in a plowing match. Elgin County women's institutes and Ontario Hydro are planning an exhibit on power churning in the farm home.
A horseshoe pitching contest, open to farmers, will be held in conjunction with the plowing matches.
A demonstration of safe operation of farm machinery will be presented each day by the Ontario Agricultural College engineering department.

The trouble with cleverness is that understanding a thing too soon often prevents one from understanding it thoroughly.

In conversation with a curious child, says the Ottawa Journal, a word to the "why's" is rarely sufficient.

The way some women drive, we agree their place is in the home.

Shortage Of Nickels
Canada has a shortage of nickels but nobody knows why. N. A. Parker, master of the mint, said yesterday the mint is working overtime producing nickels.
Since the first of the year the mint has turned out 11,700,000 coins worth $585,000—more than was produced in 1959.
Mr. Parker said no one really knows the reason for the shortage but one reason could be a decline in United States nickels as a result of the decision of Canadian banks to charge exchange on American coins.
One banker suggested that perhaps Canadians are finding it so hard to save dollars that they are hoarding nickels.

ness among the farmers, his big customers. It was tough going for a while, but he made it. The following fall he was able to hire his first man.
