Stouffville Tribune.

Dear Sirs. Today the assesor called and demanded $4.25 from us for keeping a six-months old female dog, which we paid him in eash, and which is good only until December 1960. I ask in all sincerity why are those of us who are willing to help keep dogs off the streets and from straying and getting into trouble, "taxed" for doing our share in looking after them? Why not tax all those who are NOT willing to help take care of the dogs and cats? These animals were created to live and be looked after-not to be destroyed at will as they are today. They are domestic and not wild animals; therefore, they are our responsibility one and all. It is not only unfair, but an un-Christian act to tax those who already have the expense of keeping these animals fed, healthy and at home, while the rest, who do nothing but complain if a single dog as much as crosses their lawn, are allowed to go scot-free. Why
