

LET'S TALK CARS

Some Old Cars Never Die

Next time I hear a driver complaining that his car has depreciated in value I have a true story to tell him.

Back in 1888 an outfit named the Winton Horseless Carriage Company made a two passenger car, by hand of course, that sold for $310 against the stiff sales resistance of the times. The first owner kept it until 1907 when he sold it to a dealer, who finally resold it, after much haggling, for $175.

You can imagine the reluctance of the third buyer seven years later when he inquired if the asking price of $40 included a horse! Well, the poor old car really depreciated right clean through the bottom of the market in 1925—27 years after it was made—when its owner had to pay a junk dealer $15 to haul away what was left of it.

Now comes the cheerful part. For 13 years it lay in the junkyard gathering dust, until one day an antique car collector bought it for $5. Just to show you what good care and reconditioning can do (as we've always said), this fellow worked on it replacing some parts and repairing others, for about ten years.

In 1948, on its fiftieth birthday he had an antique auto that was winning prizes in competitions. He turned down $5,000 for it once, but finally sold it in 1953 for around $9,000. That owner has it still.

We haven't any 50-year-old Winton Horseless Carriages (I just ran out and checked) but we have some fine young toddlers of two and three years with a great future ahead of them.

Uxbridge Youth Jailed 15 Days

Robert Walter Emmerson, 18, of Uxbridge was sentenced to 15 days in jail for driving while disqualified. He appeared before Magistrate R.E. Doleper in Whitby Police Court last week.

Constable David Kernohan of the Whitby Detachment of the OPP testified he saw Emmerson driving west on Beach road on July 15. The officer said he recognized the accused who worked at the Uxbridge Dairy.

The accused, said the officer, maintained he was road-testing the car in which he was found.

BLOOMINGTON

The W.A. meeting was held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. D. Burnett with the vice-president Mrs. E. Lemon in charge. The devotions were led by Mrs. H. Tomlinson and Mrs. C. Lemon read the Scripture. The roll call was answered by the word "bring" and birthday greetings extended to Mrs. A. Wagg.

Mrs. E. Baker conducted the missionary program of excerpts from some of our best known hymns, and missionary items were presented by Mrs. Nesbitt, Mrs. J. Winterstein, Mrs. Wagg and Mrs. Tranmer. A duet was sung by Mrs. Winterstein and Mrs. Tomlinson. Hostesses were Mrs. V. Wagg and Mrs. O. Tranmer.

Mr. M. Burnett of Rothsay spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Herb. Burnett.

Rev. Mr. Soper conducted the Sunday church service. Solos were rendered by Miss Janet Davis and Rev. Soper.

Mr. Moxam of Toronto visited with Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd. Mrs. Shepherd of Toronto has taken up residence in the Shepherd apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. Dose of Toronto have bought the former Art Smith property and are doing extensive renovations prior to their moving in.

Two carloads of young people spent the holiday at "Fair Haven Camp" for the Youth Conference held there.

Visitors at O. H. Tranmer's home on Sunday and the holiday were Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell Jordan, Springfield, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Fairies, Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Shantz, Janet and Gwennie of St. Catharines.

Mr. Dow. Nesbitt is under the doctor's care and we hope will soon be better.

Mrs. I. Hill is in St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, with a broken hip.

RINGWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. E. Matthews of Riverdale Ave., Toronto, had supper on Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Nigh and family and later attended the open air service in the park.

Miss Margaret Morrison, Miss Ruth Fox and Miss Shirley Steckley had supper on Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Steckley.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fockler, Gary and Diane spent Tuesday at the Exhibition.

Miss Mary Anderson of Stouffville enjoyed the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bullock of

TIME TO FREEZE CORN

Now is the time for fresh garden corn. It's equally good on the cob or off the cob, and if properly treated, will freeze well too.

Here are the two points that Professor E. W. Franklin, refrigeration specialist at the Ontario Agricultural College, considers most important for high quality frozen corn.

First the corn must be at the proper stage of maturity. This means the ears should have tender, milky kernels. Immature ears have under-sized kernels and a watery milk. Overmature ears have relatively tough kernels with thick milk that does not spurt out when the kernel is split open with the thumb nail.

The second point is that freshness is essential. You should pick the corn and have it in the freezer within 3 hours.

All vegetables require blanching before freezing, to preserve their natural colour and flavour. If the vegetables are not blanched, the enzymes present cause deterioration and the frozen vegetables may have an unpleasant taste.

If the corn is to be cut from the cob for freezing, blanch the whole ears for 4 minutes. For frozen corn-on-the-cob, blanch the ears for 9 minutes.

Blanching requires a kettle with at least two gallons of vigorously boiling water. Place the ears (husked and with silk removed) in a wire basket, col-

TIPS ON HOW TO MARKET YOUR HOGS EARLY

Cutting down on time to market and feed to market means greater hog profits. One of the surest ways to cut down your total feed cost is to creep feed your baby pigs with Purina Baby Pig Chow and Purina Pig Startena.

Get your baby pigs away to a flying start without setback with these "Fast-Start Twins." They supplement the sow's milk and contain built-in vitamins, minerals, and antibiotic fortification needed for fast sturdy growth.

Creep feeding your baby pigs with Purina's "Fast-Start Twins" takes advantage of their early urge-to-grow. This is important to you because it lets you take advantage of their early feed converting efficiency. It takes less than 2 pounds of feed to put on a pound of gain when they're young. As your pigs grow older, they just can't make as efficient gains at such low cost. Give your baby pigs a quick start on the road to market by creep feeding Purina Baby Pig Chow and Purina Pig Startena. You'll increase your profits by sending more pigs per litter to market, and you'll keep up the sow's condition, too.

See us about the complete Purina Hog Program—the Program which helps hog growers produce more Grade A pork at low cost—at the Store with the Checkerboard Sign.

ander, or cheesecloth bag. Immerse the ears in the boiling water. When the water returns to the boil, start timing the blanching. Accuracy is very important. Don't try to blanch too much at one time. Chill the cobs immediately after boiling, by plunging them into cold water or holding them under cold running water.

Package immediately. All frozen foods must be tightly sealed in a moisture-vapour-proof container or wrapper, to keep the moisture in and the air out. Polyethylene bags are handy for both corn kernels and corn-on-the-cob. You will require longer bags for cobs than for kernels. Press the air out of the bag before you twist the top and secure it with an elastic band or other tie.

Freeze immediately. But remember your freezer can only freeze about 2 to 4 pounds of food per cubic foot of freezer space in 24 hours, so don't overload it. If you have too much to freeze at one time, have it quick-frozen at the local freezer plant and then store it at home.
