Thank You to Rick Tribbling at whose service station the event was staged. The financial results we hear were worthwhile.
 On Saturday evening, with Jack Stewart and Bob Leitch in charge, an enthusiastic group met at Buttonville W.I. Hall for an evening of square dancing.  W. J. Hears Mrs. Clarke Young Mrs. Russell Boyington introduced Mrs. Clarke Young of Unionville, when she spoke to Buttonville W. I. Members at their November meeting, held Wednesday afternoon at Buttonville W. I. Hall.
 Always an engaging speaker, Mrs. Young brought to her listeners little-known facts of the private lives of ladies of our Royal family. "On a recent tour," stated Mrs. Young, "the royal luggage for 30 people weighed eight tons." Other items of interest included the facts that in Buckingham Palace there are 128 clocks which must be wound at regular intervals; there are three miles of red carpet, 12 chefs, and the kitchens and royal dining table lie one-quarter mile apart.
 Mrs. Adam Brown, W. I. president, chaired the meeting, and the roll call taken by the secretary, Mrs. J. Rodick, was a joke or an antique which the member was asked to explain. Among the latter were a china plate from Holyrood House which a member of Mrs. Henry Harper's family had been given at the accession of Queen Victoria to the throne; a wooden spoon made by an early Dutch settler who had carved it for his lady love after she accepted his offer of marriage (this was said to be spooning!); and a summer parasol which had been carried by an ancestor of one of the members when she rode to Toronto on one of the first trips made by the Grand
