MARKHAM ELECTION

 son Mumberson, chairman of the Finance Committee touched on the efficiency of operation of all committees of Council. Ward 1 Councillor, Allan Sumner mentioned the additional equipment acquired for the Unionville fire brigade and suggested that a new site was under consideration for a fire hall in the westerly portion of the township.

Taxes Reduced
 Ward 2 Councillor Charles Hooper, pointed out that municipal taxes had actually been decreased by two mills in '61 but education costs had gone up. As Chairman of the Police Committee, he noted that break-in incidents had been reduced during the past year. He urged that the '62 Council should divide the tax payments into three installments.

Ward 3 Councillor, Stanley Watson admitted that no paving had been completed during the year. He noted that the mild winter had resulted in a saving in the cost of sand but the dry summer had consumed additional dollars for dust layer.

"Never has the township had it so good, and never has it been taken away so fast," said Stewart Rumble, candidate for Ward 2. He suggested that improvements could be made in educational facilities, police and a road-paving program.

Mr. W.L. Clark, also a candidate for Ward 3, promised to work in the interests of the electorate if successful.

LEMONVILLE

Lemonville United Church was the recipient during this past week of a Communion Set, the gift of Stouffville United Church, to mark the occasion of the reconstitution of the Lemonville congregation.

Life Members Honoured
 A large and representative gathering of the women of the Stouffville area was present in Lemonville United Church on Thursday afternoon, Nov. 23rd.

5-Man Race

 industry was looking for rural sites and many more enquiries could be expected with the beginning of the new highway 404. These remarks were added to by Reeve Wallwork who stated that a large feed mill was to be erected near Vandorf and enquiries were being received for considerable office space along the Don Mills Road.

Mr. Williams announced that the International Plowing Match would be coming to York County in 1965.

Welfare Picture
 Councillor Ross Farquharson stated that over-all welfare was 33% more in 1961 than 1960. However, he said that only 10% of welfare was for able-bodied men without work, and there were less able-bodied men on relief than a year ago.

Whitchurch township, he said, would benefit from the proposed county welfare plan. Along with the other speakers he said the completion of the Official Plan was urgently needed.

Councillor Ivan McLaughlin, who was chairman of the By-laws and Permits Committee, told the ratepayers that amendments to the land use and building bylaws were being prepared.

Councillor Elsie Gibb drew attention to the improvements in the township hall and spoke of the saving to be realized from the purchase of a new machine to keep the voters' list constantly up-to-date. She said that the garbage dump south of Ballantrae, about which there had been some complaints, was to be covered up and a new site opened up near the Aurora sideroad.

Stress Planning
 Mr. Grills, Mr. Richardson and Mr. Hennessey each stressed the need for a speed-up in planning in the township, particularly in view of the new highway. They all viewed the next ten or twenty years as years of tremendous development in the township.

The rally was held, under the auspices of the Lemonville Women's Association, to honour the Life Members of the Association. Each of the Life Members received a chrysanthemum corsage.

Special tribute was paid to the long and distinguished service in church and community of Mrs. Henry Burnett and Mrs. Walter Gray who were granted their Life Memberships at this time. In their honour new United Church Hymnaries were presented by the Women's Association to the Lemonville congregation.

The meeting was ably conducted by the President of the Women's Association, Mrs. Grant Wells. Mrs. Earl Cook read the Scripture and Mrs. Hans Hirsch led in prayer.

CEDAR GROVE

Dec. 4th at 10 a.m. the adjudged case between Hilliard Beare and Metro, comes up again. It is important that the Court be filled with farmers. Unless something intelligent is done about farmers' tax assessment, the call will be going next from the farmers in Markham Township. The Court is at 145 Queen St. W.

Last Christmas many of the people in our Village donated presents to the Mental Health Organization in this area. The call is out again. It seems unbelievable, but the donated present is very often the only one received by mental patients. Boxes to receive the gifts will be in evidence at many places, and it is only necessary to remember that no glass or sharp objects are welcome.

The Euchre series came to a glorious end last week and the winners were Joyce Lapp and Cec. Latham. Winners for the evening also included some local talent: Elsie Reesor, Margaret Coatup, Leola Martin; Ben Loton, Levi Coatup and Gordon Dimma. Carrying prizes went to Mrs. Hood and Levi Coatup. Next Euchre and last for the year will be held in Cedar Grove schoolhouse on Monday, Dec. 4.

Fantastic is the only word for the score Marg Walton achieved in last week's bowling. Total for three games—816, and the split was approximately 303, 290 and 233. Congratulations.

Myrtle Hammill took a tumble this week and is navigating with the aid of a walking cast. This may put a curb in the Christmas shopping but it is evidently not stopping her from teaching. Hope it won't take too long to heal.

The children turned in over $78.00 in their Halloween UNICEF drive this year which makes it a very worthwhile effort.

Christmas dates are settled at Zion Church and the White Gift service will be held Dec. 17 and the Concert Dec. 22nd.

The next Euchre series will start in the New Year on Jan. 8. A number of committees were appointed by the Community Club to investigate an afternoon program to replace or supplement the Garden Party.

was Mrs. Robert Windsor Jr., organist of Ballantrae United Church. Mrs. Windsor delighted those who were present with two piano solos.

Mrs. Jean D. Newman, former Controller of Toronto was guest speaker. She congratulated the Lemonville United Church on the fact that they are now once more a living congregation within the Church of Christ and she commended them on the significant and growing work which they are undertaking. She challenged every woman present to a new determination to strive reservoir had been attributed to the dry season. The iron content in the gusher was very high, while in the Stouffville water it is very low, which indicated that these water supplies were not coming from the same water area. There was also the chance however, he pointed out, that if one area was depleted it might tend to drain water from an adjacent area, possibly only separated now by a clay bank.

Runaway Well

Few Teeth in O.W.R.C.
 Mr. T. J. Yakutchik, engineer for the Ont. Water Resources Commission who was present, said there was no doubt that the farm wells mentioned and the new flowing well all came from the same water-bearing zone. Mr. Ratcliff, he said, being the closest, noticed the depletion most.

He pointed out that since the Stouffville wells had never had any effect on the farm wells west, this was further proof that the new well and the Stouffville supply came from different locations.

Mr. Yakutchik said that there were not funds in O.W.R.C. to finance repairs, to runaway wells—it was up to the owner. He said it could be controlled but considerable cost would be involved. It was indicated, however, that an owner could be compelled to control a well if it was damaging his neighbors.

Action Called For
 "What do we face then, a water famine, with this waste going on?" asked Mr. Ratcliff. "Why is this not a community project?" he said. "What is the Water Resources for if not for conservation?" said Mr. Ratcliff.

Mr. Avery said he didn't think it was a personal affair, but a municipal matter.

Mr. Fred Timbers said, "Something's got to be done, this is a serious matter, my well is only down a little but what about the future? What about all the money that's paid into conservation?"

Mr. Frank Williams, deputy-revee of Whitchurch said he thought legislation should be sought right away to prevent any more such wells. The Engineer pointed out that undoubtedly the driller had no idea he was going to get such a flow.

It was agreed that help should be sought from the local member of Parliament, and Mr. Ken Laushway, Stouffville's deputy-revee, suggested that Metro Conservation should be contacted.

Mrs. Gibb, Whitchurch councillor, said that Whitchurch and Stouffville could be expected to pay something towards this project but that government aid should be forthcoming as well.
