

Architect's drawing illustrates the new Bell Telephone Company exchange building which will be completed in May. Located on the west side of West Lawn Crescent in Stouffville, the one-storey brick wall building will house the new automatic dial switching equipment. All-figure numbers, which will be introduced here coincident with the change to dial service, will begin with the figure prefix, 610, followed by four more numbers. A typical Stouffville number might be 610-8888.

WEDDINGS

BARKEY — HENSLEY

A pretty wedding took place in Dickson's Hill United Missionary Church on Friday, Feb. 16th, when Jane Lillian Carol Hensley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Maynard, became the bride of Gordon Barkey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Barkey, Ballantrae. They were united in marriage by Rev. Rees.

The bride, given in marriage by her stepfather, Mr. James Maynard, wore a traditional white wedding dress with a fingertip veil and carried white mums and red roses. Attendants were Miss Lillian Plaxton, cousin of the bride, as bridesmaid, wearing red velvet and carrying white mums, and Miss Karen Baker, niece of the groom, as flower girl, wearing white velvet and carrying a nosegay of red roses. Lawrence Barkey acted as best man for his brother, and the ushers were Floyd Plaxton, the bride's cousin, and Glen Barkey, the groom's cousin. The music was played by Mrs. Howard Baker and soloist was Mr. Howard Baker, sister and brother-in-law of the groom.

The reception was held at the Orange Hall, Markham. The bride's mother wore a blue flowered dress, blue accessories and a corsage of white and yellow carnations. The groom's mother wore navy with pink accessories and rose pink carnations as her corsage.
