John Addison, Liberal Candidate for York North, is deeply concerned with the problems facing the farmer in these days of high costs and cut-rate prices. He is taking every opportunity to become fully conversant with the problems of all the many farmers in the riding. He is seen above discussing possible remedies with Stewart Rumble of Markham Township.

The Farmer, Too Needs a Break

As an independent business man, the farmer, everywhere in Canada, is caught in the squeeze between high costs and low prices. The York North farmer is no exception. But he has many other problems.

The York North farmer, for example, is also concerned by contract farming and its looming threat to the family farm. So far it has had little study or attention by governments anywhere.

One thing is certain, farm incomes and living standards must be raised — and the Liberal Party of Canada has farm policies to achieve this! Some of the means proposed by the Liberal Party to help the farm population are the following:

- (1) Improved price-support measures
- (2) Improved farm credit
- (3) Area development programs, and with necessary capital, to improve farm land use and draw new sources of jobs to rural areas
- (4) Expand Canada's export of farm products
- (5) Serve farmers with information on the market outlook
- (6) Establish a research council for marketing, processing and production to help sell farm products and raise farm income.

Marketing Help
 There are also policies to provide long-term capital for co-operatives, to encourage co-operatives — and marketing boards, where farmers want them. Other plans include moving the butter surplus and undertaking a better nutrition program using dairy products.

Especially interesting is the development of plans for new sources of revenue for rural areas, including farm towns and villages. Industries associated with farming and better municipal services can do much to make Canada's farm communities strong.

John Addison, who lives on a farm in King Township and spent much of his life as a farm resident, while a successful business man, is concerned about farm problems. In Ottawa, he will give close attention to them if he has your support for Parliament.

We cannot recapture a moment from yesterday, nor can we borrow a minute from tomorrow. The girls served refreshments to their parents and friends, after the service in the basement where their work was on display.

Next Sunday morning there will be a sunrise service at Lemonville Church at 10:30. All are very cordially invited to attend.
