Progress "up in the air"

You can call a halt to progress any time—even "up in the air". The quickest way, for both individuals and business is to stop planning for the future—or not to have the ability to plan for any future.

In essence, the principle of fire, automobile and casualty insurance is that it is a plan for the future. It ensures progress by banding people together to share the expected losses of the few among the many. Because it allows people to "average out" their chances of a completely crushing loss into a relatively small fixed expense, insurance enables them to move ahead on a planned basis.

The fact that Canada's fire, automobile and casualty insurance companies are paying out more than a million and a half dollars every day this year in claims indicates that prudent Canadians make safe plans for their future.

ORAL POLIO VACCINE CLINIC IN STOUFFVILLE ON FRIDAY, MAY 18

Through the first three weeks of May, everyone young and old in the County of York will be given the opportunity to have the new Oral Polio Virus Vaccine which is taken by mouth. This entirely new type of vaccine may be the key to complete eradication of poliomyelitis from the community.

The new vaccine now made available by the Province of Ontario is a pleasant tasting syrup preparation that will be given on plastic spoons at special clinics located across the County. It will be offered to all school children, with parents' consent, in elementary and secondary schools during school hours. Children not in school, and parents and other adults in the community will be offered the vaccine in special evening clinics strategically located in each community. The schedule of clinics will be published next week.

The new vaccine acts more quickly to confer its protection than all previous vaccines for this purpose. It is hoped that it will eliminate carriers of wild polio virus and thus prevent unwitting spread of polio infection in the household or community.

For best results it should be given to an entire household, or better still to the entire community, within a short space of time. For this reason York County Health Unit has set up a schedule of school and community clinics to begin operation as soon as the vaccine is received early in May. This will permit administration to every one in the County before the end of May when the polio season normally starts.

All health departments in York County, including Metropolitan Toronto, are co-operating to provide the new Sabin Oral Polio Vaccine at approximately the same time in May. This will be the first dose of the new vaccine in this area. A second dose will be scheduled for early in the Fall. It is hoped to cover the entire population of the County with this program.

Swimming Pools—Health unit inspectors are now contacting operators of public swimming pools across York County to ensure safe swimming conditions for the coming season. Public swimming pools are required to have automatic chlorinating systems as well as many other safety devices to protect the health

Sunday School Lesson

(Lesson for May 13)
SUFFERING FOR CHRIST'S SAKE
Acts 12:1-5; 1 Peter 4:1 to 5:14
GOLDEN TEXT — If any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God on this behalf. —1 Peter 4:16.

THE LESSON AS A WHOLE
The Christian church has been tried in the crucible of suffering. And if our present-day western civilization is not so openly hostile to true godliness, it does not mean that no suffering for Christ's sake now exists. It means that the suffering has taken on a different form.

We must not limit the world's hostility to the physical. It may also apply to other areas. For example, the sneer of the cynic, the thinly veiled contempt of some worldlings, and the chilling indifference of other unbelievers all cause genuine grief to him who seeks to live with eternity's values in view. The theme of Peter's First Epistle is a double one, and concerns both suffering and glory. The present conflict is in view of future compensation, and the trial is designed as training for the coming age.

Our Lord Himself trod this path. Peter was a personal witness of Christ's sufferings, and was also a sharer of His coming glory (see chap. 5:1). He emphasizes that the cross always precedes the crown. The evening, as well as the morning, make up one day (see Gen. 1:5).

Now, the Christian's sufferings may flow from one of two sources. They may descend upon him because of his own misdeeds. Or, again, they may stem from his fidelity to Jesus Christ. The former brings embarrassment and shame; the latter triumph.

Because God constantly cares for us, we are to cast all our care upon Him (see 1 Pet. 5:7). Obedience here will not make us careless, but rather carefree, like the tree planted by the waters that spreads out her roots by the river. Hidden sources of strength will bring unfailing supplies of grace, and give us a glorious abandon to the doing of our Heavenly Father's bidding.

But while we are to cast away our care, we must not cast away our confidence. Regardless of the biting wind of adversity, we must retain unswerving faith in our unchanging God. "Cast not away therefore your confidence, which hath great recompense of reward (Heb. 10:35).

There have been and will be times when a Christian is looked down upon for the sake of our Lord Jesus Christ. But let us remember that many compensations are present. The Holy Spirit strengthens the suffering believer now, filling his soul with joy. This provides a powerful apologetic for the reality of the satisfying power of the Gospel.

Suits would fit a lot better on some men if it weren't for all the junk in the pockets.
