The fruits of a winter's work sprung from Les Milroy's cellar workshop at the first sign of spring. Up the steps and out the back door (in pieces, it must be admitted) came a bright red, highly efficient little tractor that purred into action at the first pull of the starting rope.

At a glance it looks like a beautiful model (only four feet overall length of the frame), painted and chromed, straight off a Massey-Ferguson assembly line. Only on close examination are a few inconsistencies evident. The plate covering the universal joint, for example, is stamped BUICK. One by one, parts of five different cars begin to identify themselves and the mechanical genius behind the little machine is realized.

The frame was cut down from a Chevy of the antique class; the transmission came from a Morris stock car wrecked at Pincrest; rear wheels once propelled a Morris Minor, and the front wheels might have ended up on a couple of wheelbarrows had Les not taken his busman's holiday.

The steering box is from a Prefect and the steering wheel once piloted a '60 Pontiac and there is NO horn—the thoughtful omission of a father-of-four lively children.

It is one up on the parent tractors, however with complete hydraulic brakes.

The little red tractor sails along like a boat on a chain drive that is all motorcycle and a transformer case protects the sprocket from small fingers—vice versa. It plows the garden, hauls freight and moves the family from A to B.

The Milroy children are delighted with their father's craftsmanship and terribly proud. Les modestly talks of assembling it "from the back to the front" and gives its cost (without time) as seventy dollars. He also adds that it weighs 412 pounds. Marg intervenes at this point — "On the bathroom scales, one part at a time." But Marg is proud too and pleased because this one, unlike the store variety, "doesn't interfere with the TV."

With their customary charm and efficiency, the girls of the CGIT entertained their mothers at tea on Saturday. Delicate table bouquets and a brilliant head-table centerpiece transformed Zion Church basement into a spring garden. A well-planned programme added fun to the occasion and, following a talk to the girls, Mrs. Milton presented well deserved chevrons.

The Bowling League ended their winter activities with a banquet at the Yangtze Pagoda at Richmond Hill followed by a get-together at Mike and Lillian Dean's. Prizes were presented to the winning team and the high scorers and a generous number of door prizes included even non-bowlers in the spoils. The winning team consisted of Mike Dean, Marg Walton, Bob Lapp, Ila Cricton, Phyllis and David Ritchie and Gert Shoudy. Marg Walton won the ladies high average and Mike Dean the men's. The ladies high single went to Ruby Reesor and the men's high single to Bob Dean. Lillian Dean and Lloyd Clendenen took the high triple honours and Bert Tapscott a medal for putting up with the 'regulars' as a very valuable spare.

Last week's Euchre winners were: Mrs. Velma Jackson, Mildred Wilby, Lois Wilson; George McCowan, Ed Williams and W. Lunau. Mrs. Jackson and Lloyd Taylor won the carrying prizes. Euchre will be held in Cedar Grove schoolhouse on Monday, May 21st. All players welcome.

MOTHERS! — Don't forget the 17th of May. That is the 10th Anniversary of the Mother's Club and all members are expected to attend the birthday party. Time 8.30. Place, Gert Shoudy's, May 17th.

Most everything is streamlined these days, including the streams.
