He was born in Newark, New Jersey in 1898, a son of the late Jacob and Ada Boadway. In 1918 he married Effie Cunningham who survives him, along with their four children, Pauline (Mrs. Don Ratcliff), Rev. Harold Boadway of Breslau, Dorothy (Mrs. Harris Hallman) of Hanover and Rev. Rev. J. Williams Preaches His Farewell Sermons

Farewell services were conducted in Stouffville Baptist Church on Sunday by pastor J. Williams, prior to leaving May 31st to begin his new pastorate at Emmanuel Baptist at Barrie. Both morning and evening services were well attended and he spoke the high esteem in which he was held by both church and community.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams came to the local Baptist church from mission work in Africa just a little over four years ago. From the first the ministry demonstrated the blessing of the Lord. Congregations increased considerably and many were added to the church. Not only did the work go ahead spiritually but also materially.

As pastor and Mrs. Williams leave for their new work on a larger field with greater opportunity, we know that what is lost for us is gain for the new work.

In his farewell addresses on Sunday, Mr. Williams challenged the congregation to stand together and go forward in the local work which has grown so greatly during his pastorate. Mr. Williams specifically mentioned the doubling of Sunday School attendance and growing congregation.

On Wednesday evening, members of the congregation gathered at the church to honour the couple and present them with several tangible tokens of esteem, including a set of luggage and a purse.

Stores Keeping Up-to-Date

To a great extent, most of the Stouffville, business places which are announcing early summer and anniversary sales in this issue, have all modernized their premises to some degree in the last few years.

Stouffville Main St. presents a bustling business section of well-stocked stores with modern fronts, fine interior lighting and in a number of cases, air-conditioning.

Keeping up with the times has been the aim of Main Street, and shoppers have shown appreciation by patronizing these stores in ever increasing numbers over the years.
