Hydro Reduces Rates For Electric Heating

A 7½% reduction in electric home heating rates for rural customers living in heavily populated suburban areas was announced today by Ontario Hydro. Effective on bills issued in October this year, the new rate of 1¼ cents net a kilowatt-hour will apply in areas where 100 customers or more in a group have a customer-density of at least 12 per quarter mile of road or street. Some 90,000 rural Hydro customers living in suburban areas across the province are in this classification. Customers affected by the rate change will be informed by a letter from their local Hydro office.

The reduction in electric home heating rates is the second within a year. When a special electric home heating rate was first introduced by Ontario Hydro, a kilowatt-hour rate of 1½ cents net applied to rural customers. The two reductions since September 1961 total approximately 17 per cent for suburban customers served by Ontario Hydro's rural system.

Electric heating rates are also being reduced for customers of many municipal utilities. In some municipalities, customers are now paying 1 cent net a kilowatt-hour for electric heating as compared to 1.5 cents per cent.

UNIONVILLE

(Bill Walker).
 Ratepayers Discuss New Development —

A meeting of Unionville Community Ratepayers met recently to discuss the Varley Village Development planned by Tallden Investments Ltd. The meeting was called by a local four-man committee with A. M. Hill as acting chairman. Mrs. Metcalfe was nominated as secretary, until the installation could be made, of a permanent committee.

The chairman asked for a clarification of the duties, obligations and constitution in forming a Ratepayers' Association. He called upon Donald Deacon who then referred to the Property Owners' Association and asked Mr. Wm. Champion to discuss its workings in further detail.

Mr. Champion as chairman of the Property Owners' Association, suggested that it be an educational type of Association, gearing its programme to hear and evaluate reports of the different parties and departments such as assessors, builders and school boards that will be affected.

He pointed out that the advantage of having all the facts, by education, makes such a group the true sounding-board of the community for such development as the suggested Varley Village.

Mr. Champion cautioned, however, against such a group calling itself Ratepayers because it is associated with trouble.

Mr. Geo. Metcalfe moved that the group be called the Unionville Community Association.

The boundaries were set that would be inclusive of the group being able to be represented within the Association. It was set at School Area No. 10 extending as far south as Helen Ave. for the present.

Don Deacon made a motion of Constitution: that the object of the group was — to study the effects of subdivision within the founded area and to insure proper representation in Council with reference to subdivision and the views of the Association. This motion was carried then amended by Mr. Woods to include, and all other matters of importance having bearing on the Village and surrounding area. It was seconded by Wm. Henwood and carried.

The newly formed group was then cautioned by Wm. Clarke against becoming a local pressure group. The executive for the new Community Association was elected, as follows: —

President, Mr. Wm. Henwood; Vice Pres., Wm. Sendall; Sec. Treasurer, Mr. Lunney.

Acting Chairman Hill handed the gavel to Mr. Henwood who promised a start at investigating Tallden's proposed development before June ends.

The meeting was given over to Mr. J. S. Grant of Tallden Investments Ltd. Grant commended the Ratepayers' interest and said that his company would welcome any constructive suggestions. He hastened to outline that in building the new subdivision, they did not want to split Unionville into the old and new but rather to enhance Unionville. This would be done, Grant said, by building the subdivision in keeping with the atmosphere and character already established here.

The subdivision has left room for and includes a 5.24 acre school site adjacent to a 6-acre park. Industry has also been provided for. It is hoped, Mr. Grant said, to attract pharmaceutical and medical research organizations to locate in Unionville. This industrial area would be surrounded by park land.

It looks at this moment as if there are three sides shaping up. Those with an interest in Tallden's proposed subdivision, those who wish to protect their own personal interests in land development and the public already living in this area. Questions raised were: "Would the subdivision mean an increased tax burden?"

To this Mr. Grant replied: "Not necessarily; that would depend in part upon whether or not Unionville residents wished to connect to the services provided for the subdivision."

Another question was, "Would the water supply in any way endanger the wells of the residents?" Mr. Grant answered: "Very little to shallow wells," and produced a Hydrologer's report. However, no satisfactory answer was given by outright statement. It was suggested a little trouble might be incurred.

Unionville now has a chance to move forward. It remains to be seen how the residents will take the proposal, or if they will accept it at all.

90 Imperial scientists and technicians pose for their pictures in the ultramodern wing of Imperial's research laboratories at Sarnia. Not shown: another 115 members of the Sarnia research staff, and another 130 who work in Imperial laboratories at Calgary.

90% of all oil company product research in Canada is done by Imperial

At Sarnia, Ontario, and Calgary, Alberta, Imperial operates the largest petroleum research laboratories in Canada. At Sarnia, the company's scientists and technicians are working to improve present products and to develop new ones. Their research covers many fields, from gasolines to household detergents. At Calgary, Imperial research personnel are exploring means to find and produce more Canadian crude oil and natural gas. Imperial does more research than all other oil companies in Canada combined.
