BUTTONVILLE HAPPENINGS

John Brown Passes

Last week Buttonville residents mourned the passing of a highly respected citizen, John Edward Brown, of Brown's Corners, whose family pioneered in the area, and were founders of Brown's Corners Church. Mr. Brown suffered a heart seizure last April, and spent several weeks in hospital, but recently he had enjoyed better health, and his sudden death came as a shock to his many friends in the community.

Mr. Brown served as secretary of Brown's Corners United Church and was for many years a member of the board of management and also a member of the Building Committee. He was a past president of the Unionville Curling Club. Surviving are his wife, the former Mildred Mason, a son Harvey, of Guelph, Nancy, Mrs. James Wolfe, Unionville, and Gordon, at home. Also surviving are brothers and sisters: Alex, Gertrude (Mrs. D. Hood), Jean (Mrs. R. Thomson) Marguerite (Mrs. J. Ash) Laura (Mrs. Norman Reid) Della (Mrs. L. Dimmard) Dorothy (Mrs. J. Rutherford) and Newton.

From the Pipher Funeral Home, Richmond Hill, the service was held Friday afternoon, Nov. 30, at Brown's Corners United Church, with Rev. Dr. A. F. Binnington officiating. Interment was at the adjoining cemetery. Honorary pall bearers were J. W. Russell, Clark Youg, Howard Stiver, W. Craig, George Lake and Henry Coleman; pallbearers were college classmates and friends of Harvey Brown.

T.S.A. No. 3 Sees Busy Year
The newly formed T.S.A. No. 3, in the north section of Markham Township is nearing the end of its first year. Board Chairman Arnold Morton and members M. Wellman, S. R. Patterson, S. Richardson and W. Hibbard have done a fine job.

Welding the five school sections — Nos. 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 — into one cooperating unit is a task which has required much patience and effort. During the year several measures have been adopted:

1) An opportunity class has been instituted at No. 4 school, and arrangements have been made to allow the teacher, Mrs. Helfenstein, to make aptitude tests throughout all the area schools.

2) A new room has been added at No. 4 school, and with pooled funds, and the government grant, the cost has been minimal.

3) A bus service has been arranged. This not only provides safe travel for children, it also allows control of grades so that no teacher has more than 4 classes.

4) A travelling library, music instruction, film strips, are other benefits.

5) A salary schedule comparable to the best, adoption of an accumulative sick leave policy for teachers, and S.S.I. benefits for full-time teaching and maintenance staff, assure good relations in this regard.

6) Emergency features have been adopted in case of an international situation, and a First Aid course has been made available to pupils and teachers. Transistor radios, flashlights and food packages are part of the equipment in each school.

As the board faces 1963, new problems confront them.

In a recent letter, Inspector Maynard Hallman warned that a new population influx is forecast for the near future, and stated that plans for new school accommodation must be made. Consideration has already been given to establishment of a senior Public School, and purchase of a new school site is a possibility.

At a meeting held in Buttonville School Saturday evening, the board reviewed the Inspector's reports for S.S. Nos. 6 and 7, and were pleased that at No. 6 Mrs. Barbara Tindall's teaching was judged "much superior to that ordinarily found in a rural school." The educational program was marked "excellent, interesting, stimulating." There are 23 children in grades 2, 3, 4, and 5.

At No. 7 school considerable time was lost in early autumn due to change of staff, but the inspector reports good progress. There are 48 pupils in two rooms, four grades to a room, and according to Mr. Hallman the board should study the possibility of transferring grades 7 and 8 to another school in September '63. The teachers at No. 7 exchange some classes to good effect, the inspector reports.

Physical aspects of the schools were rated from 1 to 5, and while water supply, chalkboards and pupils desks were given first quality rating, such items as ventilation, playground and physical education equipment need to be upgraded, as do some areas of lighting.

Toward the conclusion of last Saturday's meeting secretary Harold Hill distributed $60.00 cheques to the board members for their year's service. This represents token payment for the year's meetings (29 in this first year of organization), mostly 4 hours duration plus all the hours of time and talent expended in getting the baby area on its way. School board members are a dedicated lot. They have to be. For the most part, their only reward is the taxpayer's criticism. The next time you meet your school board members, shake them by the hand and let them know you appreciate their work on behalf of the community.

Last Saturday, Dec. 1, we put trees, listened to the Grey Cup game (fogbound), and cut a few stray blades of grass all in sunny shirt sleeve weather. White Gift service will be held at Brown's Corners United Church next Sunday, with Sunday School and church combined at 11:30 a.m. Miss Etta Hart of the Fred Victor Mission, will be the speaker, and the junior choir under the direction of Mrs. George Hooper will sing.

The Christmas concert will be held at the church on Dec. 19 — Wednesday. On that same day the U.C.W. will hold their Christmas meeting.

The Cancer Society Benefit will be held in Buttonville W. I. Hall on Friday, Dec. 14, and the sponsoring club are planning an interesting evening of bridge and euchre. Mrs. Gordon Purvis is convening draw prizes and Buttonville W.I. Social and Work committees are in charge of refreshments and arrangements.

The children in the community will be entertained by the Lions Club members at Buttonville W.I. Hall this Saturday, Dec. 8. There will be films and fun.

Mrs. S. J. English has been on the sick list recently. On Sunday Joy Fuller, who recently represented York Presbytery N.P.U. at a conference in Hespeler, played the organ at Brown's Corners.

On Monday of last week Arnold Farms Market was closed and the community regrets this reverse for the Arnold family. Mr. George Arnold has been in poor health for more than a year now.

Gerald Reesor who recently celebrated his first birthday by learning to walk, had his first serious fall last Sunday morning. He cut his nose and had to have stitches to repair the damage. The Patterson family visited at Meaford last Sunday.

Mrs. Yvonne Mathieu has recently taken over as Beauty Counselor in the area.

A W.I. quilt was completed at the home of Miss Mary Rodick, last week.

Mrs. A. W. Miller entertained at tea for several neighbours recently, among the guests were Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Hampstead, Mrs. K. Johnston, Mrs. Clayton Jones, Mrs. H. R. Paterson and Mrs. Fred Leaf.

Our hats are off to Mrs. Charles Hooper who was a sturdy supporter at every meeting during her husband's campaign for municipal office.

The former Nelson Boyington home at the corner of No. 7 and Don Mills Road has a "SOLD" sign on it, but we understand that the Lohman family who now reside there do not have to move.

Douglas DeNike, whose parents recently moved from Hughson Drive to Agincourt, entertained several local friends last Saturday: Paul and Philip Johnson and Donald Yeates.

Buttonville has made quite a donation to the Unionville Atoms. The "Buttonville Line" of aspiring hockey players at the Crosby Memorial rink lists among its members Wayne and Stephen Bobbett, Paul and Philip Johnson, Roger Warnock, Josh Lehman and Greg Hood.

Buttonville School graduates (1962) will be entertained at dinner, Monday evening, Dec. 10, at Buttonville W.I. Hall. Among the guests will be the graduating class, their parents, school board representative to T.S.A. No. 3, S. R. Patterson and Mrs. Patterson, Inspector and Mrs. Maynard Hallman. Buttonville teachers and their husbands and wives, a party of approximately 50.

It was a close race Friday evening at the W. I. Hall when Euchre fans played the final game of the current autumn series. At the end of the previous game approximate scores had been: Miss Evelyn Trimble (281) Mrs. Olga Denby (279) and Mr. Charles Attridge (271). Friday evening Mr. Attridge added 92 to this score, bringing him the winning total of 363, and a plump Christmas turkey. Miss Trimble's score was 80 and Mrs. Denby had a disappointing 56. Prizes for the evening were won by H. Mizen, H. Hill, C. Attridge, Mrs. M. Kilneck, Mrs. S. Trimble and Alice Brown. The lucky draw went to Mrs. Russell Boyington. There were 13 tables.
