Buttonville Folk Injured When Car Caught in Twister

Early last week Don McQuay flew west to accompany his mother, Mrs. James McQuay, and his wife Connie back home. While on a motor trip to visit relatives the two women were caught in a twister and suffered personal injury and some damage to the car—a sad way to end a holiday.

Other western travellers are the Lent family who motored out last week on their annual vacation and Miss Mary Rodick left Sunday evening by train for Calgary, Edmonton and White Horse, Yukon.

Mrs. Wm. Rodick is about a gain after her recent indisposition.

David Prentice is expected to go back to work early this week. Dave was injured in an accident several months ago, when his car crashed into a bridge abutment on Kennedy Road north of Cashel. He suffered severe head and internal injuries and remained in a coma for months. His recovery is something of a miracle.

Best wishes to Doug Clark and his bride who were married in Toronto recently. Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Hill were guests at their neighbours wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. B.D. Poyser and their daughter have been

This was a memorable occasion, the first time in five years there has been no rain.

A church service in the park was planned for 11 a.m. and the guest speaker was Winston Moorehead of Mount Albert, last year's secretary of the organization.

In the afternoon there was a program of games and sing songs and a trophy for the winning baseball team was awarded to Queensville. Among those present were July Hord, Janet Craig, John Houck, Margaret and Patricia Patterson, Wayne Patterson, John and Reg Crawford, Ron Tucker, Allen and Anne Binnington, Don Nichols, Agnes and Sylvie Kernehan, Marcelle Storey, Bob Wilkins.

Music Pupils in Recital Pupils of Mrs. S.J. English presented their music recital Wednesday evening at Brown's Corners United Church and as usual this was a highlight of the pre-vacation season.

There were perhaps twenty-five boys and girls on hand from six years to high school age, to entertain parents and friends. An air of shivering expectancy was everywhere as little girls in crisp pastels and little boys with that special scrubbed look awaited their turn on the piano bench. From the first performer the evening was a triumph. Of course there were times when the fingers faltered but Mrs. English is a genius with children and always she was there to murmur "Alright now, start back at the top of the page," or "third finger on the A." Without exception everyone came through with flying colours and a sigh of relief.

Playing solos were Irene Craigie, Patricia Orr, Barbara Rooley, Lynda Jones, Connie Revo, Susan Tenyson, Margaret Empringham, Susan Verus, Paul Steffler, Melarie Watt, Cathie Sanderson, Dorothy Craigie, Bruce Cowie, Karen Chadwick, Anita Orr, Neil Armstrong, Patricia Patterson, Judy Gough, Debbie Hood, Dawn Tatton, Mary Champion, Barbara Empringham and Mary Steckley.

Melanie Watt joined Mrs. English in a piano duet and Margaret and Patricia Patterson sang "Moonlight Bay" and "Easter Parade." Marguerite Jones, soprano soloist sang selected numbers and a former pupil, Joy Fuller played "O Canada" and "The Queen."

Refreshment were served following the recital and assisting were Miss Mary Rodick, Mrs. Edgar Fuller, Miss Joy Fuller, Mrs. Don Reesor, Mrs. Norman Reid, Mrs. Harold Steffler, Margaret and Patricia Patterson, Mrs. Marguerite Jones, Janet Craig and Mrs. F.H. Leaf.
