The Canadian Conference On The Family

Rev. Gordon L. Hamill
 Before I went to Ottawa for the Conference I was asked if I would write something on the Conference. There has been excellent coverage by the daily newspapers that I feel that I need only outline what the Conference did and make some personal observations.
 First of all, that the Conference happened at all, was due to the personal influence and initiative of the Governor-General and Madame Vanier. Their personal concern was shown by the fact that the Governor-General was with the delegates at least once each day. Madame Vanier was present for the whole Conference and visited the small round-table discussion groups. I am sure that it was their appeal that brought together, from Newfoundland to British Columbia, a cross-section of the professional life of our nation from Supreme Court Judges to Lawyers, from University Presidents to High School Principals, they came. Not only Psychiatrists, but the whole range of medicine, was represented in the delegates. Taking part also were community social workers, Federal officials of the Department of National Health and Welfare, and Clergy from most of the Denominations - English and French speaking; Jewish, Protestant and Roman Catholic; they were there because of their interest and work on behalf of the Family.

In the opening address at Rideau Hall the Governor General set forth the religious significance of the opening of the sessions at the Plenary Sessions were "Permanence and Change in Ideas on the Family" by Dr. Phillipps Garique, Dean of the Faculty of the Social Sciences of the University of Montreal; "The Inner Life of the Family" by Dr. Nathan Epstein, Psychiatrist-in-Chief, Jewish General Hospital, Montreal; "Social Forces Affecting the Family" by Dr. Kaspar Naegle, Dean of the Faculty of Arts of the University of British Columbia. Following each address a panel of experts expressed their opinions on the issues raised by the speaker. This was followed with questions, or remarks, from the delegates. Tuesday evening a panel of six young people spoke on the theme "Age of Choice." On Monday and Tuesday afternoons the delegates met in small Round-Table groups. Each group was assigned one of the 11 different aspects of Family Life. These ranged from Law and the Family to Leisure and the Family. I took part in the one on Preparing for Marriage and Family Life. These groups brought the delegates together in their special area of concern and work with the Family. Here was the place where problems, new experiments and results could be compared. Here insights were given as to what was happening across the country. A great deal of help was provided to each other. Wednesday morning was spent drawing together all that had been said at the Conference. This was done through a panel speaking on the Subject "Canadian Families Present and Future." The Conference closed with what I can only call a Family Atmosphere. Their Excellencies the Governor-General and Madame Vanier called this first Canadian Conference on the Family.

ALTONA
 Mrs. Stanley Thompson was hostess on Saturday last when nearly thirty ladies in the community gathered for a farewell kitchen shower for Mrs. Jim White and Mrs. Norman Fretz. Both ladies and their families moved this week to their homes in Stouffville.
 Remember there will be no Women's Institute meeting in July and August.
 We welcome Mr. and Mrs. Rusch into our community. They have bought the Glen Byr home.
 Judy Alyward of Toronto is holidaying with her brother Michael and family.
 Lorne Thompson and two friends from Pickering travelled by train to Banff where they will spend the summer month. Lorne will be working in a service station.
 On Sunday last the Stan Thompson family celebrated 3 anniversaries and 4 birthdays by having a barbecue supper. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. Lee and her mother Mrs. Bennett of Ringwood.
 Sunday morning was Promotion Day at the Altona United Missionary Church and dedication of babies. The Sargeant family have been with us for 8 years and will be greatly missed both as church workers and neighbours. At the annual Sun-

What about the results of such a Conference? The Governor General in opening the sessions reminded us that we were not to expect miracles from our prayers together. But he hoped that this was a beginning of increased concern and work for all our families. And it proved to be a good beginning. The delegates were exposed in a positive way to the thinking and the work of people from the other professions. They discovered what was being done in other areas of this vast land. They went home with new ideas and a broader vision of the work for the Family. This influence of the Conference will be seen not only in the immediate personal work of the delegates but will also be expressed in their professional organizations. I believe that a new climate of co-operation and support for each other has been achieved. This exchange of ideas and knowledge will grow as the Vanier Institute on the Family begins to function. And all of our families will receive the benefits.
 One worthwhile personal by-product of the Conference that I have not noticed in reports was in the area of Bi-Culturalism. I was impressed by the ability, the warmth and the vitality of the French Canadians throughout the sessions. The remarks of a Roman Catholic priest from Montreal that he appreciated being exposed to the English way of thinking revealed that this was a two way exchange. The Separatists are giving us a distorted picture of what is happening in Quebec. I feel that the present unrest in Quebec which is spilling over into Canada is a revolt against the old way of living and thinking. It is an explosion in all directions and not simply directed against the English Canadians. If we are prepared to have patience and understanding for Canadians of French origin, while at the same time holding on to those things that we consider our heritage, we shall see a greater day ahead for our nation.
 The Conference found no cure-all for the problems of the Family. But there was developed a new awareness, a greater confidence, a new work with the Family is of first importance to the nation. We realize afresh that the parents hold the key of the well being of the family. There is now a real hope that in the future there will be more co-ordinated research on the Family in Canada. With this will be coupled a greater effort to help the families of our nation achieve emotional health and happiness under the conditions of modern living. The day may come when the nation will be as grateful as the delegates now are that their Excellencies the Governor-General and Madame Vanier called this first Canadian Conference on the Family.
