Priceless Cutter

While hundreds of items in the Markham Antique Show in the arena on Friday and Saturday carried price tags, such was not the case with this cutter, shown here. It was placed on display by Mrs. Mognes Philip of Markham but not for sale at any price. Karyl Smith, Main St., Markham tries the cutter out for comfort. It was made by R. and G. Pringle of Markham and retains the original royal coat of arms inscription on the back and front. "It will always remain in Markham where it was built and where it belongs," said Mrs. Philip. —Staff Photo.

For such a little time!

She's very busy discovering that a reflection in a mirror is not another playmate. She'll learn quickly, and all too soon she'll be discovering school and then boys and before you know it she'll be leading her own life. Meanwhile, thanks to her Dad's foresight, she — and her brothers and sisters — can count on Sun Life protection and a college education. If her mother and father have anything to do with it, their young miss will grow up with every possible advantage.
