Hat-tricks by Lois Taylor and Nancy Bernhardt on Friday night enabled the Uxbridge girls hockey club to hand the Stouffville team an 8-2 setback.

Uxbridge scored four unan swered goals in the final frame to gain the victory. Regular Stouffville goalie, Betty Anne Carruthers was absent from Friday night's contest and Carol Jagger had to replace her. Carol, her first time between the pipes this season, managed to kick out a number of difficult shots.

Other Uxbridge goals came from the sticks of Becki Book ham and Jayne Taylor. Stouffville's two goals were notched by Lillian Cordell and Irene Bryson. Only one penalty was called, that to Pat Hamill for tripping in the second period. Beat Orono

In a game played at Lindsay Wednesday night; the Stouffville "Hornets" downed Orono 5-3. Carol Jagger collected four points including three goals and an assist. Irene Bryson figured in all the scoring. She notched two goals and assisted on three others, Lillian Cordell also added five points to her credit when she assisted on all the Stouffville goals. The girls will be idle at home until the Friday after New Year's Day.
