On The Farm Front... Wheat Crop Damage Heavy From Winter Kill

(A. A. Wall, Agricultural Representative, York County)
 Good progress was made with seeding last week and if we get the right weather this week, the job should be nearly finished. Generally, seeding has been earlier in the north part of the county this year than in the south. Heavy rain in Markham and Vaughan has delayed spring work.
 Seeding is about ten days to two weeks late, but germination and early growth is good. Soil moisture and fairly warm weather is getting crops off to a fast start which compensates partly for the delay.
 The wheat crop suffered badly from winter damage this year. Quite a few fields have had to be broken up and reseeded. Some were overseeded with barley, and there is hardly a field that doesn't have some killed out patches. Generally, losses range between 15 and 30%.
 Fortunately, winter damage doesn't appear serious in forage crops. I have looked at quite a few fields and the alfalfa and clovers have survived well and are now making good growth.
 When seeding is finished, we usually feel that the pressure is off and we can relax a little with follow up work. I think that weed control should get special emphasis as well as weeding. This is especially true in corn. There has been a tendency in the last few years to leave Atrazine spraying until the weeds and corn are well up. Post emergence spraying is alright, but it will likely fall if the grass weeds are more than one inch high. If foxtail gets to two inches, it's very unlikely that any spray will stop it.
 The danger in waiting until weeds emerge is that it only takes a few days for them to pass the effective kill stage. Rainy or windy weather can easily give weeds a chance to get too far ahead. A custom sprayer too can get a few days behind schedule.

Plant Your Dahlias Now

In late summer and fall there are few plants with the size and color range of dahlias, say horticulturists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture. They can be the highlight of any fall garden with sizes ranging from pom-pom to the dinner-plate-sized, decorative type.
 Dahlias are grown from tubers which may be started indoors or planted directly into the garden. They should be planted four inches deep and the tubers laid in the hole horizontally.
 These plants like a soil that is high in organic matter and respond well to an addition of three ounces of bone meal per square yard. They prefer neutral, alkaline soil to acid soils.
 Throughout the season light feedings with a liquid fertilizer will help to produce an abundance of bloom. Dahlias, since they grow so quickly, must be kept well watered, as any dry periods will cause a check in growth. A compost mulch is of benefit in keeping the soil moist.

Checking Cars Now Will Save Trouble

Stouffville area residents planning vacations to the cottage country this summer would do well to have their cars in perfect mechanical condition before leaving home.
 As of last Monday, the Ontario Provincial Police and the Department of Transport started Ontario's first compulsory traffic check at two points in the province.
 The inspection teams, forces consisting of eight or nine men, will move from location to location on the province's highways, spending two or three days at each, until July 23rd.
 This is how the check will work:
 A policeman will flag down the driver and ask to see his driver's license. A Transport Department official will ask to see his proof of insurance. Officials say every fifth statement regarding insurance will be doublechecked with the insurance company.
 The car will then pass through a line of inspectors who will check headlights, taillights, signal lights, windshield wipers, emergency brake, muffler, tail pipe, tires, all glass, horn, king pins, ball joints, wheel bearings and tie rods. The front end will be lifted from the ground to check alignment.
 The procedure is expected to take about 10 minutes.
 The driver will be given a carbon copy of a form noting his car's mechanical condition. If the car is faultless, on all points, he will receive a green dated windshield sticker. If the car has defects the driver will be asked to have them repaired and show proof to the department or the police later. The crews can handle about 200 cars a day.

Tips re Fireworks

- Remember that younger children will always be fascinated by fireworks and make a good audience, but they should NOT participate in the actual firing of the pieces.
- One person should be in charge of the display.
- With the single exception of sparklers, NO firework is designed to be held in the hand when lit. Older children should be taught to participate under adult supervision.
- Read the printed instructions on each piece, and plan the order of firing. Keep in mind that firing location should be clear of overhead obstructions, trees or wiring.
- Assemble buckets or boxes of sand or a wheelbarrow filled with earth to be used as firing base.
- Items such as roman candles and other long pieces should be buried at least halfway down in the sand in your container and set at a 10 degree angle from spectators.
- If containers of sand are not available, dig holes in the ground deep enough to bury the firework piece halfway up the barrel. Stamp the ground firmly around each piece before firing.
- Have a large container such as a metal garbage can available to dispose of used firework pieces. When the display is over these items can be sprinkled with a garden hose.
- A glowing cigarette or cigar makes a good substitute for punk as an igniter. Hold
