Ontario County 4-H Club Members Travel To Guelph

On Wednesday, June 30, three bus loads of Ontario County 4-H club members travelled to Guelph to join a similar group from South Simcoe, for a tour of the University.
Upon arriving, the group was greeted by Dean N. R. Richards, of the O.A.C. In his introductory remarks, Dean Richards emphasized the need for advanced studies in the field of agriculture, and outlined the steps by which interested 4-H members may obtain such an education. In view of government loans and grants to university students, Dean Richards continued to express his belief that, in most cases, the only barrier preventing young people from obtaining such a goal was, indeed, themselves.
Later in the morning, Dr. Goble of the Biology Department discussed the use of pesticides, followed by a lecture on blackbird control by Dr. Dyer.
Throughout the afternoon, the 4-H members were taken on tours of the Animal Husbandry Department, the Crop Science Department and the Ontario Veterinary College.
Professor Raithby, head of the Animal Husbandry Department, outlined the programmes existing within his department, and associated areas. Next, followed a discussion and demonstration presented by Dr. Inybrige of the Meats, Laboratory on carcass quality and grades.
The 4-H members were also shown through the Breeders Service building, now under the Animal Husbandry Department, and engaged in the processing and freezing of bull semen.
The Crop Science Department provided for an inspection of the various experimental plots, including such crops as barley, corn, birdfoot trefoil, and alfalfa. Professor Winch, of the Crop Science Department, outlined a direct seeding program for alfalfa mixture, which would yield two crops in its seedling year.
At the Ontario Veterinary College, the visiting groups viewed the various laboratories, operating rooms, and clinical stables. Here, the 4-H members became aware of the latest techniques associated with the treatment of diseased livestock.
On the whole, it was a most worthwhile experience for the 4-H members, providing them with an insight of the many challenges awaiting them in the field of agriculture.
Accompanying the 4-H members on the trip were Mrs. Albert Hockley, Mr. Richard Colwell and Mr. H. L. Fair, Agricultural Representative, and Mr. Bill Cooper, Assistant Representative, Ontario Department of Agriculture, Uxbridge.

The ninth Annual Land Judging Competition for Ontario County will be held on Friday, July 16, in the Claremont area.
A true appreciation of the soil and its management, through proper land use practices, carries more significance each day in modern farming. Because of this, the Ontario Department of Agriculture, and the Metropolitan Toronto and Region Conservation Authority are co-operating in sponsoring this Land Judging Competition in Ontario County.
Instruction will be given on the various soil types during the morning period. There will also be discussion on how to best use the various soil types from a crop point of view. During the afternoon the contestants will be given the opportunity, on a farm in the Claremont area, to put into practice what they have learned during the morning instruction period.
The competition will be divided into three classes, Junior members must not have reached their 16th birthday. The Intermediate class will be made up of young men between the ages of 16 and 21, while the Senior class will be made up of men 21 years of age and over.
This Land Judging Competition has been well attended in the past. It is hoped that a large number of 4-H members, Junior Farmers, and senior farmers will again take advantage of this competition to gain a better appreciation of the soils on their own farm and in Ontario County.
