

Bonnie Taylor Leads Girls To First Victory

Eight runs in the third inning and five in the sixth enabled the Stouffville girls to pile up a 16-11 victory over Ballantrae. The game, played Thursday at the park, gave the girls their first win of the campaign.

Stouffville, the team that doesn't shine until the chips are down, spotted Ballantrae two runs in the first two innings. They trailed 3-0 mid-way through the third.

Around The Order
Coleen Hisey started the ball rolling in the bottom half of the third with a single. The girls went around the batting order and as the side retired, Stouffville led 3-3. The home-runners added three runs in the fourth, then cruised along as Ballantrae closed the gap. Ballantrae scored a run in the fourth, two in the fifth and three in the sixth to narrow Stouffville's margin to 11-9.

Realizing the heat was on, Stouffville came to life again in the bottom of the sixth with five runs.

Ballantrae, with their last chance at bat, added a pair of runs, but couldn't tie the score.

Best Batters
Big gun for Stouffville was Bonnie Taylor, who in four appearances at bat, belted out two doubles and a single. She was intentionally walked in the sixth inning. Bonnie's first double could have been a home run, but she slipped leaving home plate, and the fall slowed her down considerably.

Other hitters for the winners were Ann Brown, Gale Goudie, Marianne Malloy, Trudy Cadieux, Coleen Hisey, and Nancy Hopkins.

Sharon Renaud, hurling for Ballantrae, started off well, but couldn't keep up the pace. She struck out five Stouffville batters, but was tapped for 13 hits.

On the mound for Stouffville, Nancy Hopkins whipped five batters and gave up 16 hits. Most of the safeties, however, were singles.

Stouffville meets Aurora Thursday (tonight) at the park. Game time is 8 p.m.

"Aces" Drop Third Straight, Lose To Newmarket 11-0

The Markham Aces used their entire pitching staff to no avail as the Newmarket Plasas stumped the Aces 11-0 at Morgan Park Thursday night.

Rich Lunney coasted through a fine pitching chore as he met with little opposition from the Markham bats. Lunney threw an impressive three-hitter. He gave away one free trip and struck out 13 Markham batters.

The Aces pitchers were not as fortunate. Ted Matthews started and struck out five of the first six batters he faced. The 3rd frame was Ted's undoing when he gave up four hits and four runs. Wayne Evans came to the mound in the top of the fourth and lasted two frames. Wayne allowed four hits and three runs scored. Bob Ellis completed the game giving up six hits and four runs in four innings.

Newmarket plastered the scoresheet with 11 solid squares, scoring in the third, fifth, sixth and seventh innings.

Plazas' Bill Collier led the way with a 4 for 4 effort. Bill banged out a double and three singles. Larry Dunlop added 3 singles. Rich Lunney lapped for a double and a single; Ken Smith and John McKnight added ed singles and Don McKnight blasted a homer off an Ellis slow ball.

Bernie McGriskin rapped out two singles and Phil Hebert added one safety. Phil boomed out a long ball in the 1st inning that seemed to be destined for the park road. This hit was only overshadowed by a fantastic catch by Plasas centre fielder, Bill Foran.

The Aces were out-pitched, out-hit and out-played in the game, but will be out to end the slump in the remaining six games.

Markham Boy Fires Perfect Golf Shot

Twelve year old John Kiernan of Markham drove a golf ball 125 yards to record a hole-in-one at the Willows Golf Course last weekend.

Playing with his father, Wally Kiernan, John sank the shot on the fifth hole of the nine hole par three course.

Two witnesses beside his father testified to the accuracy of the drive.

Girl-type Hair-do Warrants Bathing Cap

Bob Berthelotte, 14, of Downsview is obviously quite proud of his Beetle-type haircut but it has its drawbacks. For instance, when he attempted to enter the Community Swimming Pool at Markham, he was ordered to wear a bathing cap. When he objected to this rule, he was told to leave. He admitted that the "mop-top" had also got him in trouble with teachers at Dufferin Jr. High School. —Staff Photo

Golfing Goaltender

"Clipper" goaltender, Chuck Doyle, topped all rivals in a team golf tournament held at The Willows on Saturday afternoon. He received a little assistance on this drive to the 6th hole. —Staff Photo

Intermediates Drubbed 11-3 By Port Hope

Stouffville Intermediates turned on a brief spurt of power in the final two innings of a game against Port Hope, but their efforts were in vain. The homesters dropped the match 11-3, before a negligible home town crowd Monday night.

Trailing 9-0 going into the sixth inning, Stouffville's Dave Slack laced a single that started what looked like a strong comeback. Ted Suzuki followed suit as did Glenn Jackson. The first two batters scored on Jackson's drive, however, Mike Pettit was thrown out at first leaving Glenn on base.

With their final chance at bat, Stouffville wasted no time filling the sacks. George McKay, Ross Madill and Roger Todd all hit singles to load the bases. Larry Sprang walked to first, scoring one run, but Ted Suzuki, with two men out, and a full-house count, struck out, ending the one-sided contest.

Belts Home Run
Meanwhile, Port Hope was vaulting up the scoreboard. A home run in the top of the first, with one man on, started the ball bouncing for the visitors.

Murray Kelly was the only player to send the ball sailing across Park Drive. Not to be outdone, Tom Holmwood belted a double and scored on Charlie Trimm's single. Port Hope was held scoreless in the 2nd and 3rd innings, but unleashed their weapons again in the fourth. Six runs scored as Jackson gave up five single hits. Port Hope iced the cake with a pair of runs in the final frame.

Glenn Jackson went the distance for the losers allowing 11 runs off eleven hits. He struck out seven batters.

Lorne Carson, credited with the win, gave up three runs off seven hits. Six Stouffville batters fell prey to strikeouts.

Pitcher Cadieux Displays Power At The Plate

Stouffville Juniors, after dropping a 9-3 decision to Little Britain Sunday, roared back Tuesday night and downed Courtice 5-2. The game was played at Courtice.

Stouffville notched two runs in the third inning, added one in the seventh and insured the game with a pair in the 8th. Courtice scored their runs in the fifth and eighth innings.

Mike Cadieux, who went the distance on the mound for Stouffville, also showed his strength at bat. The big hurler drove out a home run in the seventh inning, preceded by a single in the fifth.

Cadieux, who allowed four hits, struck out ten Courtice batters. For the opposition, Brian Down gave up nine hits and had only one strike out.

Hitting for Stouffville were Jerry Lewis, Barry McLean (2), Dave Slack, Larry Spang, Mike Cadieux, Bill Lehman, and Bill Harman.

Next home game for the Juniors is Sunday at the park when they meet Oshawa. Game time is 2 p.m.

Brougham No Match for Claremont Batters

Claremont came up with their most potent plate offensive of the Community League season on Thursday night and soundly trounced Brougham 13-4 in a 7-inning contest.

John Carson, the Brougham starter, was the victim of a 13-hit attack. He was relieved by the veteran Bob Miller in the 6th.

Claremont catcher, Gord McDowell, batting 9th in the order, tore the cover off the ball with two doubles and a single in 4 trips. Geo. Redshaw, one of the finest young prospects in several seasons, enjoyed a great night, both at the plate and on the mound. He slammed out a single and 2 doubles and hurled a fine 3-hitter on the hill. Bill Keevil, a veritable jack rabbit on the bases, belted 2 doubles and a homer. Al Redshaw also hit for the circuit.

Bill Rimmer had Brougham's only extra-base blow, a four-bagger in the 6th with the sacks empty.

Bad Break for Johnny Henrick

Golf is a frustrating game, as golf professional Johnny Henrick found out Monday.

The Willows Pro, after a shaky and hurried start, and a ninth tee interruption, shot a 76 but failed to qualify for the Canadian Open.

Henrick was informed that there had been a delay in the starting time, and he went for a coffee break. However, while downing the java, the other two of his threesome got on the course, leaving him behind. This forced a hurried couple of strokes to catch up.

Johnny was just getting over this misfortune when he discovered that the Spalding Golf Ball he was using had been outlawed by the tournament.

Discouraged and bewildered, he borrowed a regulation ball, and promptly belted it out of bounds.

It wasn't until Henrick turned in his card that he learned the Canadian-made ball he was using was perfectly legal. It is the highly compressed U.S. ball that has been banned although this distinction was not indicated on the list of rules.

THE CALIFORNIA CUTIES

Dubbed "The World's Funniest Softball Team" the California Cuties proved that they have earned the title, by thrilling more than 1,000 fans in Markham last Tuesday night. It had to be the funniest sports performance since the NHL Oldtimes invaded last winter.

From the pre-game warmup to the final pitch, fans and players alike were literally 'rolling in the aisles' from the comical antics of this ball club.

It was impossible to pick out the funniest player on the team, as each member had his own personal trait that set the fans off in constant roars of laughter.

Liza Jane, the starting pitcher, perhaps, had the most to say . . . and why not, after all, it was his idea that started the California Cuties. Liza, in normal life is Trino Palacios, 5'8", 175 pounder, a former Compton College baseball star.

With Liza coaching, Fireball Freida bunted in the fourth inning, and set a beeline to third base.

Called 'out' by plate umpire 'Gabby' Lapointe, Liza protested, "that's fair, the base was empty." However, Freida stayed in the position, and at the opportune moment, rushed to home base. Catcher, Mike Huggins of the 'Aces' was waiting for 'her' with the ball. But, before he had a chance to tag her out, Freida pulled an authentic .38 caliber cap-gun, and shot poor Mike three times in the stomach. The run scored.

Bernie McGriskin after belting a solid double, found out that getting to second base wasn't the easiest thing in the world to do. Polly Flesch, standing near the bag, yanked it from under McGriskin's feet as he approached and led him on a merry chase around the ball park.

With Liza pitching, Morris 'the Mouse' Procenko got the surprise of his life as he swung at a solid fast ball. The ball turned out to be a grapefruit, and it disintegrated upon contact with the bat, showering juice and seeds over batter, catcher and umpire.

"That was my juicy pitch," boasted Liza.

Umpire Loring Doolittle narrowly escaped with his life later in the game as 38" high Beulah was up to bat. He called the first pitch a strike, and Beulah kicked sand all over the plate. He called the second pitch a strike, and this time Beulah, losing all control of senses, drew a four-inch dagger, and chased the umpire down the first base line. Had it not been for a fellow Cutie who tackled the midget, Mr. Doolittle might have had a knee cap removed . . . but that would be the extent of it, as Beulah can't reach much higher. The umpire returned to his position, and on the third pitch, mopped his brow and hollered "ball four." Beulah, trotted to first with an evil smile on her face.

While on first base, the 39 year old midget bent low between Bernie McGriskin's leg, and lifted the huge first baseman into the air.

The evening was full of comical antics. Dinah Sore carried Mike Huggins to the ball and tagged him out.

"That's fair," cried Liza. "The Dodgers do it."

Liza Jane pitched a ball complete with rubber hand that sprung back before it crossed home plate . . . Dinah Sore lit a Roman Candle in the field . . . Dumpty Dory, although at bat, caught the ball and threw it clean out of the park, bringing in seven unearned runs . . . Dinah Sore brought her own base, and set it down whenever the ball was in the vicinity . . . Beulah struck out batters blindfolded . . . Liza called one of the Aces 'cute' then warned 'keep calm, I'm already spoken for' . . . Scraggy Maggie lost her girldie near second base and was immediately scolded by Liza, "I warned you to buy Play-tex" . . . and the crowd loved every minute of it.

The California Cuties actually originated when Trino Palacios was serving a tour of duty in the Air Corps during World War II. He was assigned to special services and was asked to figure out a way to entertain the men on the island of Guam during the war.

With a flair for the flamboyant, he hit upon the idea of fielding a men's team attired in ladies garments, but on a base where such clothing was scarce because of the seriousness of their mission, it took a bit of time to properly dress the team.

Once the date was set and the club appeared on the field, any doubts of uncertainty were soon forgotten in the myriad of laughter that enveloped the GI's in this mid-Pacific bastion.

In 1948, the team, composed mainly of the best players in Compton, California, started out. Since then it's record has been tops. From that year to the end of the 1964 season, the Cuties have played 1,371 games of which they won 1,203 and lost 168. Oh, what the New York Mets would give for a record like that.

When baseball season is over, the club turns to a different sport, namely basketball. That must be even funnier when one thinks of Beulah dribbling a ball down the floor, when the ball is about half as big as he is.

You certainly have to hand it to the sports promoters in Markham. With men like John Lunau and Fred Dyke, sports can't help but be successful. Last winter, the NHL Oldtimes drew a full house at the arena, with people being turned away, and this baseball game did the same.

Is it any wonder a good percentage of the gate was paid by Stouffville customers. And as long as they don't get this type of sports entertainment here, then they might as well go elsewhere. Fortunately, they don't have to go too far.

POOL SHARKS: Our lifeguards have been identified. After a few inquiries from people asking who was in charge of the pool, Mr. Andrew Williams ordered a number of blue sweat shirts with "LIFEGUARD" spelled out clearly in two inch letters on the back. Navy blue bathing suits complete the outfit. At all times that the pool is open to the public, there are at least three guards on hand. Two sit in the stands while a third keeps a sharp eye from ground level. A fourth guard is assigned to the wading pool. This meets with the pool regulations, and now, there is absolutely no excuse when people say they can't find a lifeguard . . . they were there all the time.

Thursday, July 22nd, the Management and staff of the pool will put on a public demonstration of artificial respiration and drownproofing. The two-hour show is open to anyone who is interested in learning these essential instructions . . . and that should include everyone. Don't get this confused with the water show. The latter will be held July 27th. Starting time for the safety demonstration is 7 p.m.

Speculation has it that during the Water Show, the Kinsmen Club will challenge the Lions Club in water jousting and water basketball. Also included in the program will be a diving exhibition and a number of water competitions.

We're not sure whether our wise words of wisdom had anything to do with it or not, but some 300 persons have enrolled in the swimming lessons at the pool. The four-week course, which started July 5, will give each student some twenty lessons of instruction. A second course will begin the first week of August. Courses are available to anyone from Juniors up. It's good to see this tremendous response to such a worth while cause.

John Kiernan, 12 year old son of Markham Pharmacist, Wally Kiernan, sank a hole-in-one at the Willows Golf Course on the weekend. The youngster drove the ball about 125 yards on the fifth hole of the nine hole par three course. Two witnesses, Bill Simpson and B. Murphy, verified the feat. Could it be that Markham may produce another Arnold Palmer?

Boys certainly do have their problems. In Markham on Saturday, a 14 year old was asked to leave the community swimming pool because he refused to cover his beautiful head of hair with a bathing cap. The Downsview youth sports an authentic 'Ringo Starr' Beetle cut that hangs off his shoulders. The cap was ordered by the manager, Bruce Conley, because long hair tends to loosen in water, and inevitably will plug up the filter system. The lad said that he had run into this problem at other pools in Metro. The way we look at it, he would be wise to don the bathing cap. That way, his hair would stay dry, and he wouldn't have to set it before going to bed.

Stouffville Loses 11-7 to Ballantrae
Stouffville's next home game is Thursday (tonight) at the park when they meet Aurora. Game time is 8 p.m.

Mrs. Edward Hill of Georgetown visited her recently with her daughter, Mrs. Roy Minton. Other visitors included Mrs. Minton's sister, Mrs. Clara Reith and husband of Seaforth.

Ceremonies to officially open the new Bruce's Mill Conservation Area will be held on Thursday (to-day) at 2:30 p.m.

Goodwood Beats Brock Road on "Bunt Attack"

Goodwood had their hunting hats working well on Thursday night and clipped Brock Road 7-3 in a Community League contest.

The short-hit offensive appeared to catch the Brock Road infield napping. Gerald McGuckin, Roger Forsyth and Ron Evans appeared particularly effective.

Ray Peters, who had hand-cuffed Claremont in an earlier game, was clubbed for 11 safeties including a home run and two doubles by Ron May. The McGuckin brothers, Ray and Gerald, each poked out a pair.

Eric Barber went the distance on the Goodwood mound for a 6-hit effort.

Ernie Langford cranked out a triple for Brock Road and Joe Moody clubbed a 2-run double.
