KEEP THAT HONEYMOON SHORT
The honeymoon is much sweeter when short, says a wedding consultant, and short honeymoons are better for a marriage, too. "The most surprising thing is that many times a couple gets bored with each other on a long honeymoon," consultant Louis Seno said in an interview. "The shorter the honeymoon the better, and two weeks is the most I'd advise," he said. Seno, a wedding consultant for 20 years, said the anxiety and excitement leading to the wedding put a couple on their best behaviour. "Then suddenly they are married. They think they know each other, but then they start spending 24 hours a day together, and discover they don't. "In a strange resort, surrounded by strangers, the discovery that prince charming snores or has a few minor faults can be devastating. "The newly married couple obligate each other to constant entertainment. They see little or nothing connected with their home life."

Mrs. Edna King, from Regina, Saskatchewan, spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Heber McCague.
