Public Personalities

(By Eric W. Baker)
As both major party leaders approach the age of retirement other men move into public notice.

Younger talents will grapple with future problems, so we may take a look at the "idea-men" who are lieutenants of the present leaders. Such a look discloses interesting contrasts.

Walter Gordon is a product of Toronto's affluent society who won his first election with ease only to get his lumps in Parliament as a Minister of the Crown.

Alvin Hamilton is a product of depression days on the prairies who got his lumps in winning a seat under the Conservative banner in Saskatchewan. Only after his work as a Minister became known did he receive real recognition. Because of their differing backgrounds, one can appreciate why Gordon seeks to control while Hamilton seeks to create. Also why Gordon tends to live in the past, while Hamilton lives for the future.

One of the issues in this election is our choice between these two sincere, perhaps over-serious, planners.

Going for former economics teachers Hamilton is his economic insight in creating ARDA his dynamic insight in promoting the wheat sales and his business insight in bringing enterprise into public policy.

Hamilton's success record builds confidence in the future success of the development plans he now proposes. On this comparison, a Tory future looks good.

GORMLEY

Mrs. Chas. Milsted

A speedy recovery is wished for our hospital patients — Mrs. Jim Rice is in Women's College St. Hospital, Toronto, and Mrs. Frank Harvey is in York County Hospital, Newmarket.

Master Terry Doner came home on Tuesday after spending several weeks in Sick Children's Hospital.

Some have misunderstood the announcement of the re-opening of Buttonville post office. This does not take the place of the Gormley post office. The only difference as far as Gormley is concerned is that Mr. Russel Taylor, the RR 2 courier, will have 79 less people to deliver to. He will be travelling exactly the same route as he does now.

Mr. Andrew Jones and Mr. Walter Kelly of Emmanuel Bible College, Kitchener spent Thanksgiving weekend with their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Climenhage of Stevensville spent several days with the Misses Henderson.

Mrs. Beulah Jones spent the Thanksgiving with her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones and family of Windsor.

Master Kyle Barber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barber of Rockwood, is spending some time with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barber. Kyle has a new baby sister, Susan Ellen, born on Oct. 1.

Mrs. E. W. Jones and Mrs. A. Hollands accompanied Mrs. Geo. Leary to visit Mrs. Ida Cook at the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. Spence of Stouffville.

Mrs. Chas. Milsted and Charlene spent Thanksgiving weekend with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fogarty, at their cottage near Parry Sound.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Empringham spent Thanksgiving weekend in Ottawa.

Rev. and Mrs. L. K. Sider were among those in attendance at the Inter-Conference Ministerial of the United Missionary Church held in Faith Church, Kitchener, last week.

PINE ORCHARD

Our sympathy is extended to Mrs. John Ash, and family, in the death of Mr. Ash last Sunday.

Miss Helen Reid spent a few days in North Bay and attended a Registrar's convention.

Mr. John White of Owen Sound spent a few days with the Rae McClure family.

Mrs. Storror and daughter Joyce have returned home following three weeks visit with relatives in Scotland. Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. David Summerfelt on the birth of their daughter last week.

Mrs. Harold Eveleigh spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. Walter Johnston and family while convalescing following

Use Of Rust Preventive Saves Money On Repairs

An unprotected moldboard plow can incur as much wear from rust as from an entire season of use.

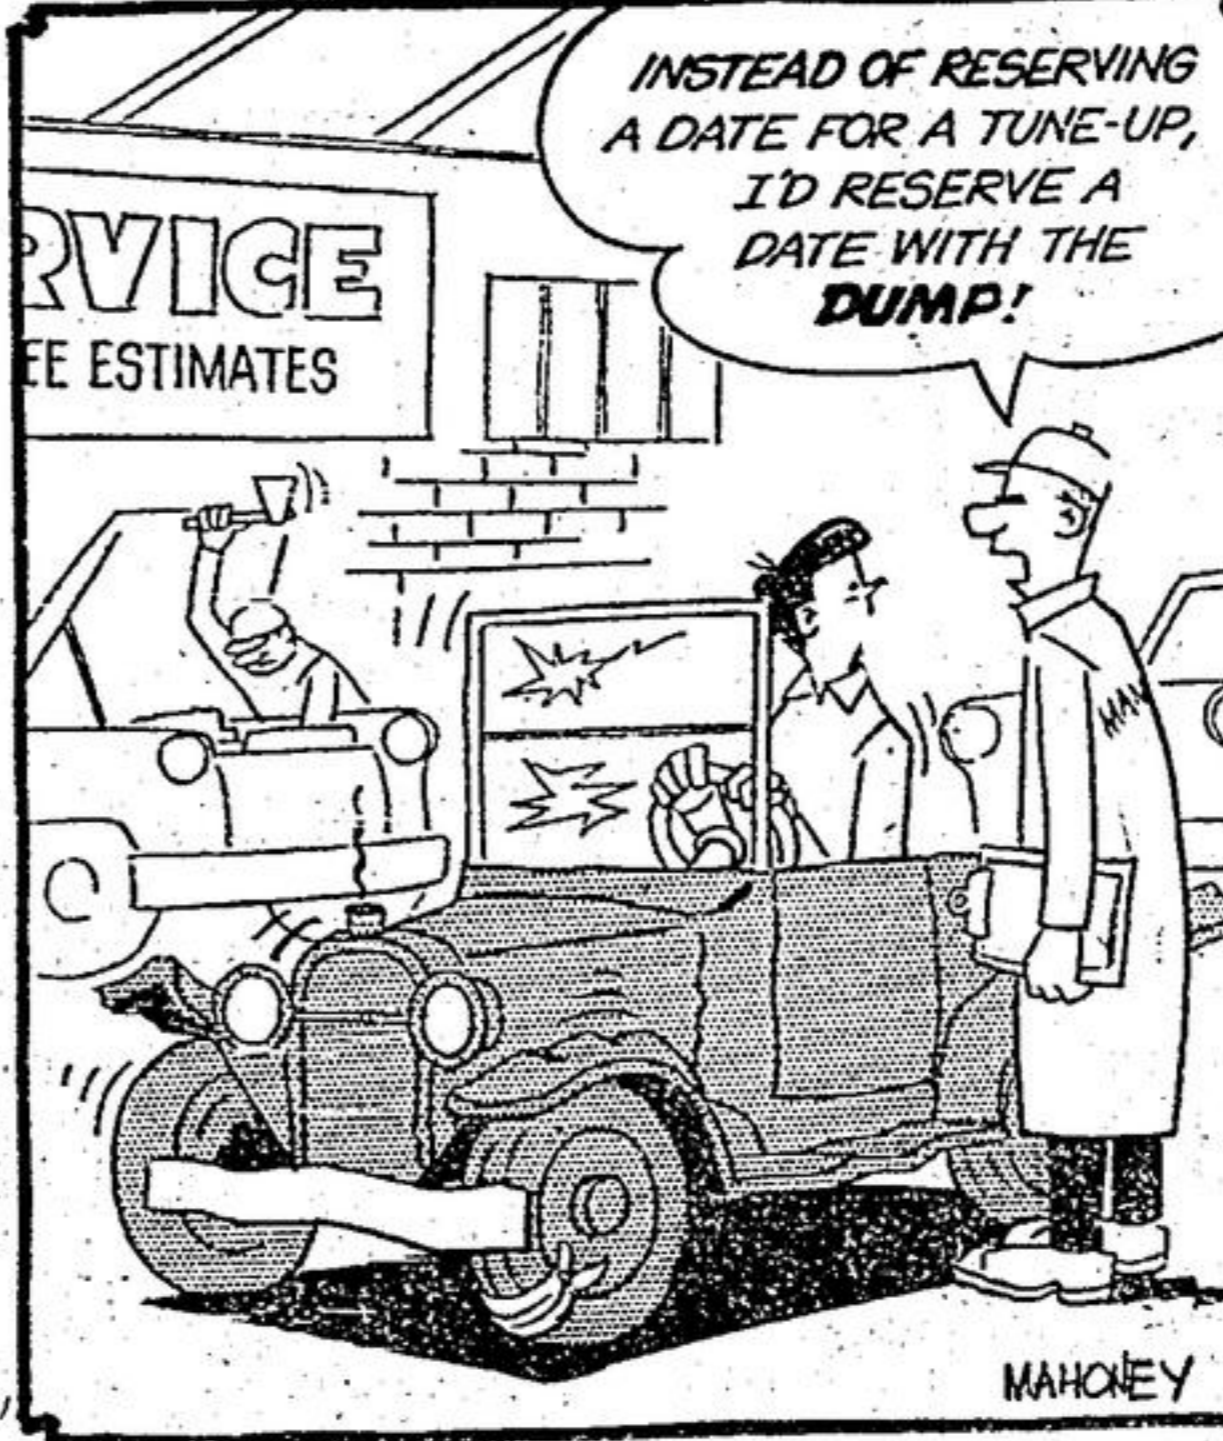

In fact, a large portion of repair and replacement costs of farm machinery can be attributed to corrosion, points out Dr. W. K. Bilanski, School of Engineering, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph. Rust is a year round problem, so rustproofing, even for short periods of storage, pays.

"After each period of use and before the implement is put away for storage, be sure that all layers of mud, grass, and other dirt are removed, since rust is likely to form under them," advises Dr. Bilanski. "After the implement has been cleaned, touch up paint wherever necessary and spray each corrodible part with a modern rust preventive."

A fairly even layer of preventive film, which can be applied readily with either a fly sprayer, hand spray gun, or low pressure air-line spray, will keep rust from forming, even while machines are left outdoors for prolonged periods of time. Applied over non-flaky, thin coats of rust, they penetrate and loosen the rust to assist removal while also preventing further corrosion. These preventives do not depend upon the thickness of the application for the amount and length of prevention they give. However, because the film is broken or removed by machine use, weathering, or environmental abrasion, persistent touch ups by re-spraying are necessary. Therefore, Dr. Bilanski advises keeping application equipment convenient and ready for use.

HALF-PAST TEEN

surgery at York County Hosp.

Mrs. Allan Cody is visiting her sister in Manitoba.

The ladies of Union Church met at the home of Mrs. G. Mason at Ravenshoe on Wednesday for their regular meeting. Mrs. Earl Toole and Mrs. W. Johnston had charge of the Thanksgiving program.

Miss Betty Graham of York County, Children's Aid was guest speaker at the W.I. meeting Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. N. Barnard.
