First Guide-Brownie Rally Held In Stouffville Park

STOUFFVILLE — In a sea of blue and brown, hundreds of Girl Guides and Brownies converged on Stouffville Park Saturday morning to mark the first rally of its kind ever held here.

Sunny skies and warm temperatures played their part as girls representing companies from the East York Division turned out in full force. The rally, beginning with a 'march-past' on the ball field, concluded four hours later.

Attending the Rally meant the completion of ten challenges as set down by District Commissioner, Mrs. Philip Rummy and her committee. Each company was asked to complete ten duties, one a month, with the rally acting as the finale. As each challenge was accomplished, a petal was awarded, and ten petals

An attendance of 330 Brownies and Girl Guides was recorded in the Stouffville Park on Saturday. Miss Cheryl Morin concluded her final tests for her Guide Cord.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Arnold, William Street, spent Sunday at Beaver Valley and Meaford, accompanied by Miss Flintoff and Miss Doane of Newmarket.

Thieves gained entry to the Stouffville Dist. High School last week and removed $133 from the office safe. Nothing else was taken.

The Ringwood and Stouffville Christian Churches will once again hold open-air services in the Arena parking lot on Sunday evening with the approval of the Park Board and Council.

completed the actual symbol of the Canadian Centenary Council. Their theme was 'to better ourselves for 1967'.

GIRLS COMPETE

The companies that completed all ten duties were presented with their awards on Saturday. Following the ceremonies, Brownies and Guides took part in what was actually a scaled-down Olympic competition. Each company represented a country and each game was a contest that would be seen at the Olympics, except that it was in much simpler form.

When winners had been declared in the individual packs, the finals were held to decide the champions.

The Guides were also under the '10-challenge' program. However, the older girls worked more on their own.

"Our intention here," said Mrs. Rummy, "is to get the spirit working again in guiding, which has fallen off over the years."

With Guides, it was becoming that everything they did, had already been taught in school. Their aim now is to accomplish things that are not on school schedules.

HOST CITY CLUB

One of the challenges set down by the committee was to host another company. This could be any pack, anywhere. Mrs. W. F. Sherwood, who heads up the 1st Gormley Company, invited a group of Brownies out from Toronto. At the Sherwood property, the city girls observed something other than apartment buildings, street-cars and pavement.

The idea paid off. Saturday morning the same girls appeared at the rally to see what was going on. They became the guests of the Gormley girls and stayed through the duration of the day.

The last rally of this kind was held two years ago in Thornhill. Saturday morning marked the first time it has ever been held in Stouffville.

Companies represented were Stouffville (3), Markham (4), Gormley, Lemonville, Ballantrae and Green River.

Acadian... the dollar-stretching, budget-loving, trim-size beauty from General Motors.

Acadian. A low-price car and proud of it! It won't try to convince you it's an expensive car. Of course other people may get an inflated impression of Acadian's cost. They'll envy you your new Acadian. That's contemporary styling for you. And Acadian has so much luxury, comfort, roominess and performance, too. Pick any of Acadian's six low-price models and you've just added another budget-lover to the family. And as we all know, you just can't get too many of them! You'll find a wide selection of models at your Acadian-Pontiac-Buick dealer's. Trade-in allowances are high, the deals are great and delivery is faster than ever.
