

Markham Ice Show Thrills Crowd Of 2,000

By MOLLIE STEWART
MARKHAM — Markham Arena saw one of its most vivid and charming ice programs last Friday and Saturday when the third annual Markham Skating Club Ice Carnival played to full houses.

After an opening chorus line of beauties glided their way past the spectators (solo performed by John Holly), the first half of the revue "The Little Lost Bunny" got under way.

David Hill, principal dancer of the revue played the part of the little bunny.

FANTASYLAND
The story with a plot vaguely reminiscent of the "Wizard of Oz" begins with the little bunny disobeying his parents and crossing a road only to become lost in a forest.

He rests on a bench and falls asleep. In his dream he meets trees who come alive and woodland animals, chipmunks, skunks, frogs and birds who frolic and frisk before his eyes.

Travelling deeper into the forest the little bunny meets a friendly lion (Ginny Carson). Further along he is confronted by bewigged Cavemen armed with clubs.

His luck changes when he meets the Good Fairy (Sandra Reid) who leads him to Storybook Land where he comes across such beloved characters as Peter Pan and the Deck of Cards from Alice in Wonderland.

The Good Fairy sets him on the right path for home. Along the way he meets Moon, Creatures, Astronauts and a Space Pair (Jane Curtis and Wendy Gunn).

As he wanders on he comes across a Rocket ship with Space Chicks to dance a-go-go. A Moon Maiden appears (Mary Ann Laurie) and dances a solo.

The story quickly winds up with an Astronaut taking the bunny back to earth.

ing the lost bunny back to earth where he rests on a mushroom and watches poppies and fairies dance (Sandra Blaine, Teresa Smith, Cindy Moore, Sandra Beckett, Patty Shannon, Lynda Hawkins, Carolyn Bennett and Susan Kiernan). Amongst them the little bunny spots another cottontail (Leslie Woodcock) who tells the hero it's all part of a dream and that she will take him back to his home.

The revue ends with each group of dancers performing a final number. EXPO — HERE WE COME

The second part of the carnival featured "Passport to Expo" when spectators were transported via dance interpretation and imagination to the various sites of Expo '67.

In the Jamaican number 24 girls in ruffled yellow and orange shirts with black leotards transformed the ice to the shining white sands of the home of the cadypo beat. Solo was performed by Cheryl Richardson.

From Jamaica to Ireland with celebs attired in shamrock green costume and white leotards. Solo by Susan Ludgate.

A radical transformation by dancers costumed in sequins, black leotards and wearing horns took spectators into a Mexican bull ring. Solo was by Karen Dorey dressed in a vivid, tiered skirt of red, yellow and black.

From Mexico to Russia and the ballet with prima ballerina Lucy Sharkey. From the Russian Ballet the spectators were taken to the U.S.A. and treated to "On the town Broadway" with Mary Lynn Lawrie, Sandra Reid, Karen Dorey, Cheryl Richardson, Sheila Campbell, Valerie Maynard all costumed in bright pink leotards, red, cutaway jackets and black top hats.

And then back home to Canada, the west coast and the Grey Cup. Cheerleaders in pink hoorayed Miss Grey Cup (Marie Jarick). From west to east and the legends of the sea, Angel fish, Sea Weed and Sea Nymphs in blue and green carried out the marine theme.

The finale was a salute to Centennial, with a military corps clad in royal blue jackets, epaulettes and silver peaked hats. For this number the guest dancers appeared, Anna Forster and Richard Stephens of Port Perry Skating Club who placed 2nd in the North American Senior Pairs Championship competition and 3rd in the Canadian Champion Senior Pairs.

PRESENTATIONS
At the close of the carnival presentations were made to the skating club professionals, Francis Allan, Mary Phillips and Karen Lewis.

Carnival Director, Mrs. Peggie Woodcock commented of this year's revue: "David Hill did an exceptionally good job since he has never done anything like this before. But all the dancers had improved and I thought the show was very good."

House plants should be moved outside around the 24 of May. To get them ready, repot if necessary and give more fertilizer and water than they had during the winter.
