

Teen Instrumental Group Wins Kin. Talent Competition

Large Crowd Attends Sunday Afternoon Show In Park

This group of five teenagers, stole the show in the Sunday afternoon talent competition, sponsored by the Stouffville Kinsmen Club in the Park. Members are Donna Gibson, 13, Debbie Foulds, 13, Mike McCarthy, Robert Danilels and 'Doc' Brown, all 14.

Second prize went to Ann and Gloria Smith, an accordion duet from Sandford, Uxbridge Township. There were eight entries in the competition that attracted a large outdoor audience. The Master of Ceremonies was Norman Faulkner.

Accordian Duet Second

STOUFFVILLE — It was basically a country and western show but two non-western type entries captured top honors.

Many of the competitors were adults but it was the kids who won the awards. That was the story of the all-for-free talent contest, sponsored by the Stouffville Kinsmen Club and held in the Park, Sunday afternoon. The weather was perfect for the occasion and the program attracted an enthusiastic crowd.

'Doc' Brown, supported by instrumentalists, Mike McCarthy, Robert Danilels and a pair of home-town go-go girls Donna Gibson and Debbie Foulds hit 1,000 in the applause meter. Runners-up were Ann and Gloria Smith of Sandford, Uxbridge Township. They presented an accordian duet including the very appropriate number, 'Whispering Hope.' Honorable mention went to Stouffville's own Rodney Bond, Ninth Line, North. Other entries who shared in the prize money were: Gordon Henderson and 'The Horizons'; Bud Herbert and Bob Brown of Bloomington; Bill Yake of Baldwin; Frank Steele Jr., Ninth Line, North, Stouffville and Mrs. Norma Jean Herbert, Bloomington. The judges were, Kinsmen, Ross Hetherington, Alex Wilkins and Mickey Hunt. Norm Faulkner was Master of Ceremonies.

A feature of the show was Bill Johnson and The Country Showman who gave liberally of their talent both before and after the contest. On Sunday night, they performed as the backup band for Hank Snow at Rock Hill Park.

Official Opening

CLAREMONT — Although donations to the Claremont Centennial Fund have come to a temporary standstill, work on the project is proceeding well.

The new refreshment booth and picnic shelter is almost completed and an official opening will be held next month. New teeter-totters have also been installed.

Names previously omitted from the Centennial Fund list include Mrs. W. Cowie, Cec. Redman, Al Fryer, Don Hedges, Bruce Redshaw and C. Knapp.

Mrs. Percy Wideman Sudden Death Saddens Markham

MARKHAM — Markham Village lost a well-known and highly respected resident, Saturday, in the sudden passing of Mrs. Percy Wideman in Scarborough General Hospital.

Her death came as a shock to a wide circle of friends in the Markham community where she had lived for the past 45 years.

Mrs. Wideman, the former Barbara Eihel Hargrave, was born on the Ninth Line of Markham Township, the daughter of Thomas Hargrave and Mary Forgie. She attended the S.S. 19 school and was active in the First Markham Baptist Church.

Following her marriage, she lived for a time near Claremont, moving back to Markham in 1922. Mr. Wideman has operated a Main Street barbershop in the Village for the past 44 years.

Mrs. Wideman was a member of St. Andrew's United Church and the United Church Women's organization. The respect with which she was held in the village was displayed through the beautiful floral tributes and the many who called at the Dixon Funeral Home to express their sympathy.

Surviving, besides her husband, are two daughters, Dorothy (Mrs. Fred Wilcock) and Marion (Mrs. Lorne Carter) both of Markham. There are five grandchildren, Ian, Douglas and Mary-Anne Wilcock and Brian and Alan Carter.

Service was conducted on Tuesday afternoon at as a crossing guard at Summitview Public School. Born at Ringwood, he had lived his entire life in the Stouffville area. He was 71.

On June 29, 1957, he was married to Clara Mary Ross who survives along with one daughter, Audrey (Mrs. Eldon Cober) of Pickering. There are four brothers, John and Fred of Toronto, Frank of Milliken, William of Unionville, and one sister, Myrtle of Unionville.

Pallbearers at the funeral were George Kerswill, Gordon Kerswill, Norman Kerswill, Ted Barry, Henry Slack and Willard Moreau. Interment was in Stouffville Cemetery.

Late Earl Keith Funeral Largely Attended

STOUFFVILLE — Rev. Gordon Gooderham of Stouffville Baptist Church conducted the service, August 16, from the O'Neill Funeral Home, for the late Earl Keith who passed away suddenly at his Stouffville residence, August 14.

Mr. Keith was well-known here as was indicated by the large number who called at the parlours prior to the service and attended the funeral. The floral tributes were beautiful.

Following his retirement from farming, Mr. Keith had been employed as a carpenter. Later, he served

Legion News

Blood Donor Clinic Aug. 29

By ELEANOR JOHNSTON
STOUFFVILLE — The Blood Donor Clinic will be held in the Stouffville Legion Hall on Tuesday, August 29, both afternoon and evening. Support of this very worthwhile project will be appreciated.

We are sorry to report that Comrade Art Heaton is at present confined to the Cottage Hospital, Uxbridge and trust that his condition will show steady improvement.

The Legion Hall is badly in need of a face-lifting and that will require money. On Friday, Sept. 1, the branch is holding a dance and the draw for the colored television set. Proceeds from both events are for the Hall Building Fund. For tickets on the television set or the dance contact either Comrade Frank Steele or Comrade John Lindop.

The first meeting of the Friendship Club this fall will be in the form of a bus trip in September.

The Ladies Auxiliary are sponsoring the Portraits from the Past pageant in the Legion Hall Friday evening, Sept. 29. This is a fashion show with a difference and a "must" in this our Centennial year.

The foreman was angry and demanded, "Why it it that you carry only one plank while all the other men carry two?"

"I guess," said the fellow, "they're just too lazy to make two trips like me."

Stouffville Scene

Miss Terry Wilton has returned with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chal Wilton, to Belleville, following an enjoyable holiday with her grandmother, Mrs. E. H. Neville, Main Street, Stouffville.

Mrs. B. E. Wiancko and Mrs. John Lehman had dinner Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Gibbins of Lemonville.

The well-known farm property of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Smith, Ringwood, has been sold. Mr. and Mrs. Smith plan to take up residence in Stouffville.
