What Is "That"

STOUFFVILLE — What is a "that"?

This is the question, all Stouffville will be asking within the next few weeks.

The question will be prompted by the title of Sheila McLeod's play "Marvello and The Magic That," to be presented by the Stouffville Players as well as children from the Edgevale Dance School. Musical arrangements will be in charge of Jerry Waite.

Tickets will go on sale shortly at 35c for children and 75c for adults.

Reside In Stouffville

STOUFFVILLE — Miss Eleanor Elizabeth Wagg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Wagg, Stouffville, and William John McNelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett McNelly of Stouffville, were united in marriage on Friday, November 10, at 7 p.m. Rev. Douglas Davis conducted the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked charming in a floor length white peau de soie, with empire waist, lace bodice and a train from the waist. She carried a bouquet of Centennial roses and yellow mums.

Matron of honor, Gaye Lehman of Stouffville, wore an avocado green floor length gown with lace jacket and matching shoes. She carried yellow and bronze mums and yellow roses.

Mr. Dwaine Hie of Stouffville was best man. For the reception, held at the home of the groom's parents, the bride's mother wore a brown lace dress with beige accessories and a white orchid corsage. The groom's mother chose a pale green lace dress and a white orchid corsage.

For the honeymoon which was spent in Niagara Falls, the bride chose a red wool dress and black accessories.

The happy couple are residing at 55 Main Street, Stouffville.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. McNelly. Guests were present in Stouffville, Whitby and Richmond Hill.

"A man who gives up wine and women wouldn't have much to sing about anyway."
