

Lovely Pre-Christmas Wedding At Kitchener

KITCHENER—St. John's Anglican Church in Kitchener was the scene of a pretty wedding December 16 when Beverley Isabelle Blackford became the bride of David Wayne Hamilton.

Brass vases of white Fiji mums were placed on the altar. Standing candleabra with white tapers and Fiji mum cascading sprays formed the setting for the 4 o'clock ceremony performed by Archdeacon M. C. Robinson. The guest pews were marked with white bows and holly.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Blachford of Kitchener and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Belfry Hamilton, Stouffville.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a lovely in a white silk faille A-line gown trimmed with an A-line panel of atecan lace. A faille cathedral train fell from the shoulders and a cathedral length imported illusion tulle veil fell from a headpiece of faille petals. She carried gardenias and stephanotis with a cascade of white Christmas bells.

The maid of honor was Corinne Blachford, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids were Karen Hamilton, sister of the groom, Peggy Beaven, Betty Jane Beaven and Susan Winterspoon. They wore laurel green velvet gowns with empire waistline, the velvet flowing softly over the shoulders to form sleeves and narrow capelet across the back. They carried white fox muffs with holly, white mums and Christmas bells.

The groom's 5 year old brother Michael was the ring-bearer. Warren Hendricks of Stouffville was the best man. Other attendants were Eric Hamilton, brother of the groom, Jack Blachford, brother of the bride of Windsor, Ian Spencer of Toronto and Norman Gledhill, London.

For the reception held at the Walper Hotel, Kitchener, the bride's mother chose a white satin coat and dress, stitched in silver with beaded cowl collar and silver accessories. She wore a green orchid and holly corsage.

The groom's mother assisted in a silver grey silk jacket dress with beaded collar, tulle grey and burgundy hat and a burgundy orchid corsage.

The bride chose a Kelly green dress and coat ensemble, black fur collar and matching fur hat for their honeymoon trip to Jamaica and Nassau.

Pretty Goodwood Wedding

GOODWOOD—Baskets of white shasta chrysanthemums and gladioli decorated the Goodwood United Church on November 25 for the wedding of Doreen Elnora, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wagg, Goodwood, and Jotun Home, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Home, Goodwood.

Rev. J. Mills and Mr. R. Ingleby officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire waisted floor length gown of white peau de soie. The gown was fashioned with a rounded neckline and bell shaped sleeves trimmed with lace and sequins. A chapel train applied with lace fell from the empire waist. Her waist length veil was held by a crown of organza flowers. She carried a cascade of white shasta mums. A pearl necklace belonging to her grandmother completed the attire.

The maid of honor was Miss Kendra Wagg, sister of the bride. She and the flower girl, Pamela Home, niece of the groom, were dressed alike in long empire waisted gowns of yellow crepe similar in design to the bride's.

The bridesmaids, Misses Nida and Edda Home, sisters of the groom wore similar dresses of wine crepe. All the bride's attendants wore crowns of wine flowers with yellow and wine net plumes. They carried nosegays of yellow mums and wine carnations. The flower girl held a basket of flowers similar to the attendants. Silver shoes and sterling silver necklaces, gifts of the bride, completed the bridesmaids' and maids of honor attire.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Claude Watson with Mrs. Harold Gribble singing "O Perfect Love" and "Wedding Prayer" prior to and during the signing of the register.

Mr. Lloyd Stonehouse of Agincourt, was best man and the ushers were Aegir Home of Goodwood and Bruce Richardson of Uxbridge.

For the reception, held in the church hall, the mother of the bride received the guests attired in a dark green two-piece suit with brown accessories. She wore a corsage of yellow roses. The mother of the groom assisted in a royal blue suit accented by blue accessories with a corsage of pink roses.

For the honeymoon trip to northern Ontario the bride chose a wine crepe dress with matching wine suede hat and a green boucle coat. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

The bride was honored at several showers given by Beth Forsyth and Gwen Dowdwell, and Mrs. Harry Leadbetter. A community shower was held for them after their marriage.

The happy couple will reside in Toronto.

Married In Florida

ST. PETERSBURG, Florida — Standards of white carnations and gladioli decorated St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, St. Petersburg, Florida for the candlelight wedding of Janis-Lynn Osterdahl to David Paul Reichenback on November 4 at 7 p.m.

Father Purdom performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. F. W. Osterdahl formerly of Stouffville and now of St. Petersburg, Florida. The groom is the son of Mrs. Earl Munson of Woodbury Connecticut and the late Dr. Frank Reichenback.

Lovely Mid-Winter Wedding

MARKHAM — On Saturday, Dec. 9, 1967, a winter wedding of exquisite loveliness was held in St. Anne's Anglican Church, Toronto, when Miss Christine Fleming, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Fleming, Windridge Drive, Markham, became the bride of Mr. Jim Sale, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sale, North Markham.

Rev. George Young officiated.

As the stirring strains of Purcell's Trumpet Voluntary pealed through the lofty reaches of the magnificent old church, the lovely bride entered on her father's arm, wearing a wedding dress of lily-white bambazine. Cut on the cage-line, with three-quarter length sleeves, the beautiful gown was appliqued with re-embroidered Guipre lace which also trimmed the cathedral train falling from the shoulders. Her headdress was a dainty matching Juliet cap, also of Guipre lace. The bridal bouquet was composed of red carnations, white mums and holly, set off to perfection by red velvet streamers.

The maid of honor was Miss Sheila Monteith and the bridesmaids were Jerry Cosburn, Judy Dalrymple and Janet Wells. They wore cranberry velvet gowns with Empire fitted bodices, three-quarter length sleeves and Aline skirts, which featured a back detail of draped panels finished with matching satin bows. Cranberry velvet headbands completed the ensembles and the bouquets carried by the girls were white mums, carnations, holly and white velvet streamers in simple contrast to the bride's bouquet.

The bride's mother looked lovely wearing champagne brocade with matching tulle hat and accessories while the mother of the groom was equally charming in mermaid blue embroidered lace also with matching hat and accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Sale will live in Toronto.
