They were Brian and Bradley Raymer and John Gandy, aged eleven, seven and eight years, respectively, who had left their farm home in the morning, armed with a jug of milk and a few sandwiches. They had told their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Raymer, that they were going on a hike. They had walked the entire distance from 14th Avenue, Markham, up the 9th line to their aunt's home on Main Street in Stouffville, a distance of about 8 1/2 miles. After a big supper their uncle drove them home to a hot bath and to bed with very little persuasion.

BEWARE of FALSE CLAIMS
When someone makes a claim like "Our Paint Stays White when ALL Others Turn Yellow" he should be made to prove how he claims other paints are inferior, and if he has not been in the business as long as some decorators, and is not a decorator himself, what gives him the right to make such false claims?
There are paints on the market for exterior work, as low as $5.95, and others at $13.95. If you want to judge what quality you are getting, I suggest you pick up a can of each price mentioned and feel the difference in weight. After all I have used all brands in my 27 years as a decorator, and I have found some very poor quality, and others pretty reasonable, but although I use "Tone-Craft" in preference to others, I would not dare make a false claim about other brands, so I say, "Beware of False Claims!"
I do not sell cheap paint, but I do sell first grade paint, and my sale price means I am prepared to cut my profits so that I may have a quick turnover, and I only sell trusted and tested brand names "Tone-Craft" and "Sturgeons".
If you need any advice or information, don't hesitate to call on me.
