

Trucks come to grief on 3rd concession, Uxbridge Township

Shown above, is the large, 18-wheel outfit of Ariss Haulage which toppled on unsafe ground and was completely immersed on one side. Right — Bill Coping struggles from the cab of a Mawson Haulage truck, after one side dropped out of sight on the spongy shoulder. These are just two of the several vehicles that came to grief on the third concession of Uxbridge Township. No injuries were sustained in any of the mishaps. —Staff Photo

Truck drivers nightmare

UXBRIDGE TWP. — The closing of the Brock Road and the re-routing of traffic along the third concession has started to take its toll. Two days after the re-routing was put into effect, the road north of the townline looked like a truck graveyard. Gravel trucks lay strewn on the side of the road, victims of the poor road conditions. Truck drivers Bill Coping, Pickering, and Bill Stewart, Bowmanville, told The Tribune that traveling along the third concession is a nightmare. "If another vehicle approaches you, your heart is in your mouth," said Bill Coping. Bill Stewart pointed out the fact that only 16 feet of the road is safe enough to use, the rest is built up of black loam, and to ride on it means ending up on your side. "If the road conditions remain as they are," said Bill Coping, "I can see the County getting whopping great claims against them." At the recent meeting of Uxbridge Township Council, strong protests were made by councillors Clark Muirhead and Frank Hendy, to County Engineer, Bill Twelvetrees, against using the third concession for re-routing the Brock Road traffic.

Markham studies township hydro

BUTTONVILLE — On a motion of Councillor Allan Sumner, Markham Township Council agreed to investigate the setting up of a municipal hydro system. The clerk was instructed to seek a meeting with officials of Ontario Hydro to discuss costs of a survey and the setting up of a township service. Rural hydro rates, because of miles of wire and poles required to serve a small population are generally higher than those in built up areas. However, it is felt that with the increasing urbanization of Markham Township and considerable building going on even throughout the rural areas, some re-

Well done Stouffville

STOUFFVILLE — At a recent meeting of the National "Save the Seals" Fund, in Toronto, Executive Secretary of the New Brunswick S.P.C.A. Brian Davis, praised the response of the citizens of Stouffville and area, to the cause.

Mr. Davis went on to praise particularly the Stouffville and Uxbridge Secondary schools where staff and pupils were unanimous in signing the petitions that were circulated. It is the sincere support of people like these, which heartens and encourages us to carry on the fight, he said, "we believe the seals should be saved from extinction through sanctuary."

Mrs. Pat Shaw, secretary, for the Toronto office, reported that over 10,000 protesting letters have been received since the 1968 hunt. It is the hope of the society that they will succeed in their appeal to the Government to declare the Magdalen Islands in the Gulf of St. Lawrence a sanctuary for seals.

Only one man without a vote

There is only one man in the riding of York-Simcoe, who will not have a vote in the federal election on June 25. He is Rex Smith of Queensville, the Returning Officer. He will have a vote only if there is a tie in the results. This event is highly unlikely, but it did occur in the 1963 election in the riding of Pontiac County, Quebec.

The new York Simcoe riding is composed of the Townships of Whitchurch, East Gwillimbury, King and the portions of Vaughan Township lying west of Bathurst St. north of the Maple Road and north of the Gamble' sidewalk between Bathurst and Yonge St., the Police Village of Maple, the Village of Stouffville and the Towns of Newmarket and Aurora in York County and the Townships of West Gwillimbury, Tecumseth and Innisfil, the Police Village of Cookstown and the Village of Bradford in Simcoe County.

In total, there are 196 polling divisions, 101 are urban. Each voter must be 21, a Canadian citizen or a British subject resident in Canada for a year, and whether he or she resided in the constituency April 23. Each enumerator will receive $32 plus 10c a name. The average pay check amounts to about $55.

Those who will be away on election day may vote at an advance poll on June 15 and June 17. Six of these advance polls will be open in the riding.

The final date for the nomination of candidates is June 10 and the deposit for a candidate is $200. If a candidate fails to register half as many votes as the winning candidate, this deposit is forfeited.

Men in their middle years (45-64) die of heart attacks almost three times more often than women in the same age group, according to the Ontario Heart Foundation. At age 50, men are five times likely than women of the same age to suffer a heart attack.
