Bible camp haven is 'heaven' for children

Willow Springs Bible Camp at R.R. 4, Stouffville, near Lemonville, has two objectives. To provide boys and girls from 8 to 18 years with a home away from home during the summer vacation period, and, in addition to outdoor recreation, a program of Christian education is also included. Shown here, Collin Foster and Tony Furness, both 11, display their skill at handling a canoe. —Staff Photo

Although camp activities keep the children busy from early morning to late evening hours, the Superintendent, Richard Ohlman makes sure each finds time for a word of prayer and Bible study. Willow Springs is sponsored by the Ontario Council of the Canadian Sunday School Mission. It is non-denominational. —Staff Photo

Attends Lion convention in Dallas, Texas

By Mrs. William Sandle

VICTORIA SQUARE — Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Mumberson have returned from the Lions International Convention in Dallas, Texas. While there they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Mumberson in Houston and Dr. and Mrs. Henry Sebesta at Still Water, Oklahoma. During their visit to Houston, they attended a baseball game in the Astro Dome.

Visitors at the church service were: Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Diceman and Lynda Greenbank; Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Weldrick, King and Mrs. Jean Penfold, Buffalo, N.Y.

Rev. and Mrs. Martin Jenkinson were guests at the Dunlop-Lingard wedding in the Anglican Church, Woodbridge. The many friends of Mrs. Mabel Frisby will be pleased to hear that she is able to be home following her recent illness in York County Hospital.

A speedy recovery is wished for Mrs. Emma Fennell, who is in the York County Hospital. Her room number is 444; also to Mrs. Don Matthews who is in the York Central Hospital, Richmond Hill.

Mrs. Jean Penfold, Buffalo, N.Y. is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tatton. Congratulations to Mr. Vincent Westbrook who will celebrate his 80th birthday, July 21; and to Mr. Fred McRoberts, who will celebrate his 87th birthday, July 21.

Birthday greetings to Mrs. John Kelly, July 22; to Kathy Brown, 13 years, July 24. Mr. Mervin Card, the recent purchaser of Hendricks Hardware, is erecting his own custom-built home on a scenic lot at conc. 9, Pickering Twp.

The Pencil Lake gang enjoyed a lovely afternoon and picnic supper in the Stouffville Park, July 14.

Wins academic award

ALTONA — Tom Bunker, a third year student of Applied Science and Engineering at the University of Toronto, has been awarded the James L. Morris Memorial Prize for academic achievement. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Bunker, Stouffville, R.R. 3.

News of the award was received by his parents in the mail, Tuesday from the faculty. Tom stood second out of 79 in the term of 1967-68. This summer, he is employed as a surveyor with office headquarters in New Liskeard.

Teenagers like to be treated as individuals, and they are at Willow Springs. Charlie Williams, 13 and Howard Robb, 15, put together their own man-made raft and it actually floats. Danny Shearer, 12, gets set for a plunge off the diving board. —Staff Photo

REAL ESTATE Questions and Answers

Question: Why the high interest rates and who is to blame?

Answer: No one is to blame — it is the law of supply and demand. When money is scarce like the present, rates are high, and when money is plentiful, rates go down accordingly.

Question: My husband and I have been looking for a small piece of land in the country maybe an acre or two, but all we can find are large farms. At today's prices we cannot afford that much land. Why do the townships restrict the severing of smaller acreages?

Answer: The Ontario Government has just passed a law restricting all land severances, big and small, unless approved by them — so don't be too hard on the municipalities.

If you have a real estate problem — briefly write it down and send it to the York County and District Real Estate Board, 31 Yonge Street, North Richmond Hill.

how come?

Most people don't realize how much money has to be squeezed into a tube of toothpaste — or for that matter, any product — before it can be sold.

There's an enormous outlay of time and money for product research, for consumer testing. Then there are the new costs of manufacturing... new machines, new containers, new packages. Then the consumer must be told of the advantages of the product. The product you eventually see in an ad has taken months, maybe years, and often millions of dollars to get there.

Does advertising reduce the cost of toothpaste from $1,500,000 to 79¢? Of course not. But, without it, manufacturers could not afford to invent new products or improve old ones. Advertising tells enough people about the product to make mass production possible and practical. That's why in today's manufacturing and marketing process, advertising is as essential as the ingredients that go into the product in the first place.

So if your teeth are a little brighter, and you're spending less money on dental care than last year... that's the point we're trying to get across: Advertising helps good things happen.
