Requires plastic surgery

By Pat McClennan CEDAR GROVE - Oh mothers, watch those bottles! Give the kids honey pails to catch poliwogs and plastic to play with.

Wade Williams, tried a bottle last week and ended up in the hospital and a job of plastic surgery to undo the damage caused by a very severe cut on his thumb.

Now he is in a cast and he'll have to do some left-handed fishing this summer.

Unless you are a Dr. Do-little, it's pretty hard to explain a helicopter to a pony. That's the type of thing a pony makes up his own mind about.

Last week, when Chris Chapman had a helicopter soar over his house looking for a place to land, Snuffles, the pony, did a little free thinking all on his own.

That is certainly what he was, locked up in his little wooden house. His instant decision was to BUST OUT.

Up went the hooves, away went the locks, off went the door and Snuffles, free to compete with the huge, noisy bird, tore around his paddock at breakneck speed that was bound to discourage any bird, even one that size and that determined.

When the dust settled, the pilot was sure the pony would get used to it. Now, all that remains is to convince Snuffles.

The highlight of a most enjoyable community picnic at the Park on Saturday evening was a presentation to our newlyweds Marilyn and Kevin Izzard.

Until Saturday, Marilyn was having a tough time keeping her new home clean, her washing ironed and her mixes mixed. That's all history now. The community presentation included a vacuum cleaner, a hand mixer, a frying pan, steam iron with ironing board and cover and both laundry and waste basket for the bathroom. It was all a bit overwhelming a n d , although all could see the pleasure and gratitude on their happy faces, they still want to say a big Thank You to all the neighbors.
