A woman rushed excitedly up to a zoo attendant and exclaimed: "Young man, you should see what is going on in the monkey cage. Four monkeys are sitting at a table playing cards!"
 The attendant shrugged. "So what?" was his nonchalant reply. "They're only playing for peanuts."

Mt. Pisgah anniversary

A service filled with nostalgia

By Mollie Stewart

WHITCHURCH TWP. — For the gentle people who packed the pews of the tiny Mount Pisgah United Church, Sunday, October 20, it was an occasion steeped with nostalgia. For the event was the annual service commemorating the church's 98th anniversary.

Built in 1870, the wooden frame building held memories for at least two and three generations of Whitchurch residents. Although the church had functioned on a fulltime basis until two years ago, low attendance and lack of funds had caused it to close its doors. However, due to the interest of a small local group, the annual service was continued.

Officiating at the service, guest minister, Rev. Davis of Stouffville commented on the age of the little church in the wilderness. He said it would be wonderful if the 100th anniversary service could be held in the building.

It was Reverend Davis' second visit to Mount Pisgah. During his sermon he reminisced of churches he had visited in England, all of whom left him with the spiritual feeling "it's good to be here." "And I say it again to you good folks" he said. "It's good to be here."

The theme of Rev. Davis sermon was "the place where you stand is holy ground." He told the congregation they did not necessarily need to be in a church to worship God.

He went on to say "the place where you stand should be a place of anger and action. Too much sweet reasonableness is being shown and not enough anger exerted against corruption."

Candor: What a woman thinks about another woman's dress.

service with their singing were "The Harmonaires" — Shirley Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Will Wright and their son Wayne.

Assisting at the organ and piano was Mrs. Roy Smith. Ushers were Mr. Harry Smith, Mr. George Boynton and Mr. Jack Gamble.

On hand for the service were Mrs. George Leary, one of the older members of the parish. Other visitors included Mr. W. H. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. R. Keffer, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Pattenden, Prof. E. R. Smith, and many others.

WHEN DOES AN OUNCE WEIGH TWELVE POUNDS?

When it's on the rim of a wheel travelling 60 miles-per-hour. It's enough weight to make a finely sprung new car ride like a truck. Increase the speed to 80 mph and the hammering pressure of the ounce nearly doubles. Considering that one ounce of imbalance is small on average, you have some idea why tire balance is vital to driving comfort and the life of tires and suspension assembly. If your car rides smoothly below 50 mph, but begins to vibrate above that speed, it is likely you have tire imbalance in one or all four wheels. It's money well spent to remedy this fault. Compared to its importance, the wheel is one of the least expensive automotive parts, averaging seven dollars each. There are some 15 different types of wheels for passenger cars compared with over 750 for trucks. Despite the precision of modern mass-production machinery, achieving curvilinear perfection of 365 degrees is very difficult in wheel manufacture. So a 1/32 "radial runout" is allowed. Tires have similar faults. Both are corrected by balancing. The best wheel balance is dynamic balance where tire and wheel assembly are spun together at speeds up to 100 mph, and the exact point and amount of imbalance thus located. This is a job requiring a trained mechanic with the right equipment and nothing less will suffice.
