From the minister's study

By V. G. Shillington

"Churches are always asking for money" someone said to me the other day. "If it's not for a building it's for some other drive." He's right, you know. Churches do ask for money.

I don't have to tell you the kind of Christian this man is, do I? He hasn't been in church since his friend's wedding a couple of years ago.

The people I want to hear talking about giving to the church are the people who give. But I don't hear them. The difference is their perspective on life. The man who doesn't give to the church thinks his life is his own to use as he pleases. That includes his money, too.

The Christian, on the other hand, thinks something quite different. He believes that he is not his own, but that he is bought with a price. This man knows that he cannot control his ultimate destiny. He knows that death will finally seize its prey, and he will have to breathe one final breath, and speak one final word. He is not in control.

To hear some people talk, anyone would think that Christian churches are out to make a killing! That's all wrong. People give THROUGH the church. They give to God. People who do not believe in God should not give TO the church. The church is not God. If you are not a Christian and you are complaining about the church wanting money for missions, for buildings or for salaries, stop complaining. The church doesn't want your money.

But once you commit your life to the rule of Christ that changes the whole picture. Do you know what you will ask? "You will not ask, 'How much of my money will I give to God,' but 'How much of God's money will I keep for myself?'"

The same rule will apply in every area of life. Your work, your education, recreation, money, home life; all of life will be governed by the rule of Jesus Christ. That's the way it must be to be a Christian. If you don't like it His way, then have it your way. But the wages of your way will mean death, and who wants to die?

York Board of Education

Oral French in all senior grades

YORK CTY. — All grade seven and eight pupils in York County will be getting lessons in oral French in September if the County School Board can find the teachers.

In an attempt to further its objective of equal opportunity for all children in the county, the Board has agreed to extend the oral French program to Newmarket, Sutton and Georgina, the only areas in the county that do not have oral French instruction in the elementary schools.

All York County boards, except the three to the north, already have oral French classes starting at grade seven, and two start French in grade five — Markham TSA 1 and the Town of Markham.

French starts in grade six in Stouffville, Markham TSA 2, Vaughan Township and Woodbridge. All others start in grade seven.

prising all local members from the Stouffville area, had brought much favorable publicity to the town since its formation.

In making the recommendation to the Board, Stephen Bacsalmasi, superintendent of planning and development, said the high school courses in French are accepting the fact that the majority of students have had instruction below grade nine level.

Five more teachers would be needed to provide instruction in Newmarket, Georgina and Sutton.

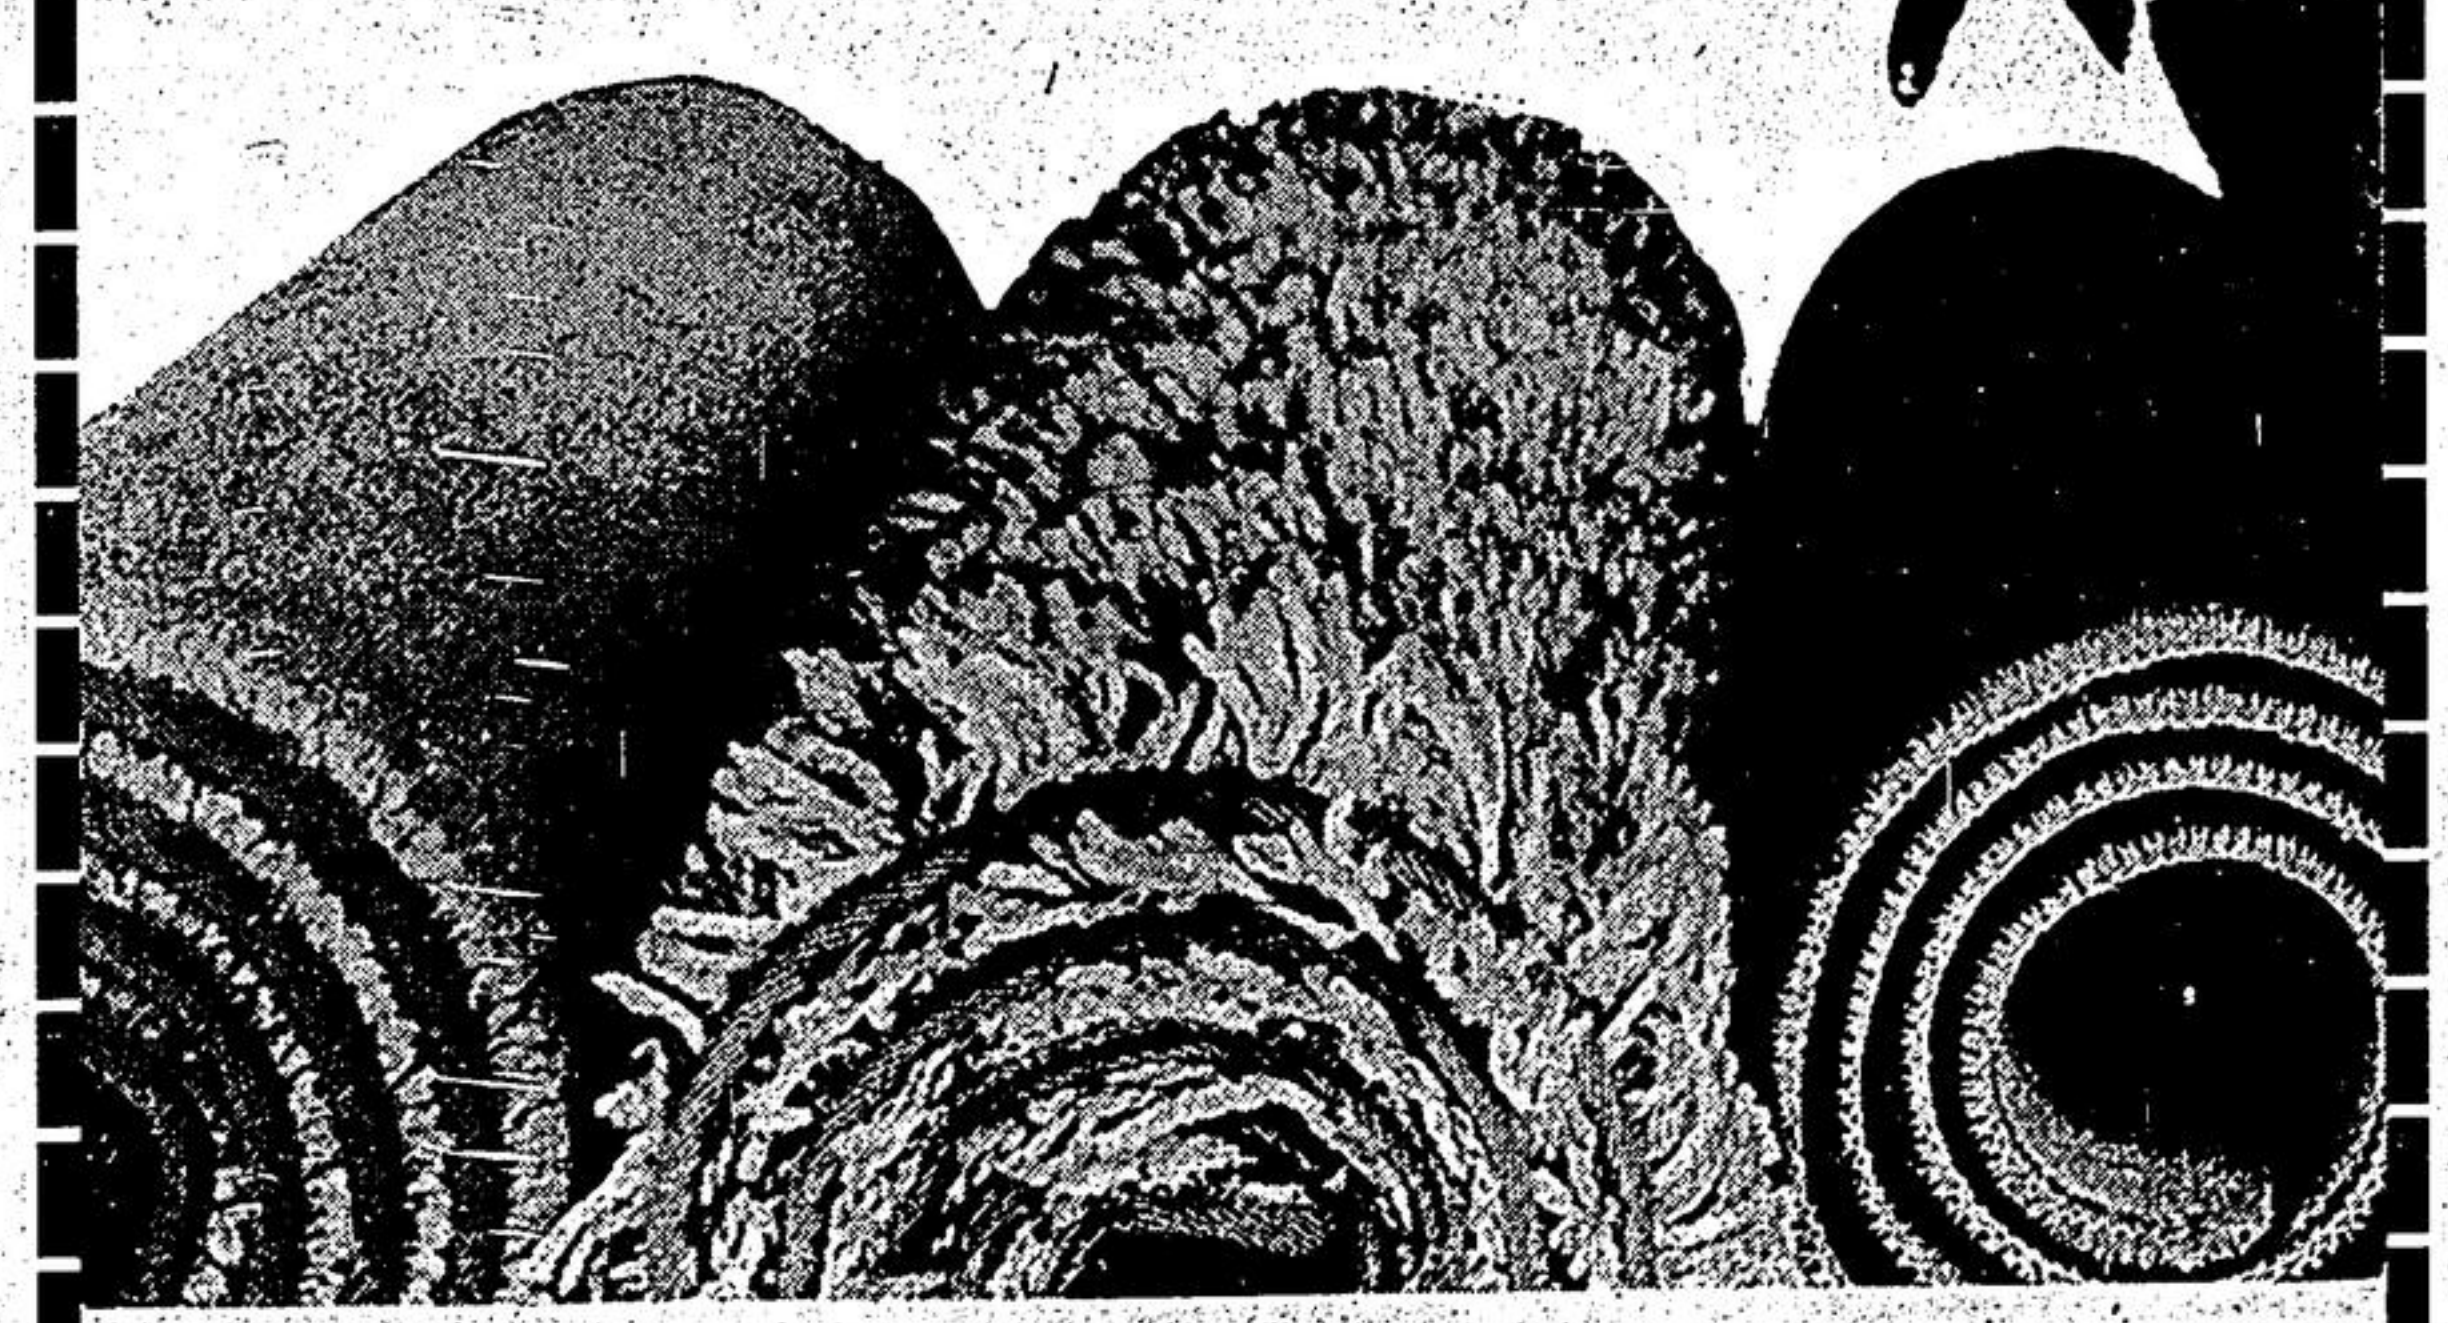

The board agreed to continue to teach French to grades five and six in areas where it is now taught at this level.

French is not taught below grade five in any school in the County public school system.
