How to raise CHINCHILLA for fun and profit!

More Canadians are discovering that ranching Chinchilla for profit is not only easy — it is enjoyable. They are the most profitable animal in domestic production to raise.

Domestic production is the only source of Chinchilla available to satisfy the increasing demands of the world fur trade. Most of the pelts sold on today's market are produced by families who are raising Chinchilla as a second income.

Our stock is supplied from a ranch which has won National Championships in both the U.S. and Canada, and is an annual winner of Master Breeder awards in both countries.

Chinchilla are the cleanest animal in the world, absolutely no odor, and vermin cannot live on them.

They can be raised in a basement, garage or spare room. Chinchilla are inexpensive to feed—about $3.50 per year—and are vegetarians.

If you are fond of animals and would like a second income, let us show you why Chinchilla can be a sound investment in your future, starting with as little as $1600.
