PRIZE VEGETABLES
By Pat McClennan
Murray Reesor was a casualty at last week's sauerkraut bee. A piece of wood bruised his foot and forced him into a couple of days' rest.
Saturday or Monday — take your pick. It's Apple Butter Festival Time at Cedar Grove. And there's more on the grounds than just apple butter—much more. Drop around and see for yourself. The location is Woodland Park, conc. 10, Markham and Steeles Avenue.
There will be no eucyre in the school Oct. 13. Instead, it will be held Oct. 27.

From the minister's study

By V. G. Shillington.

One of the more recent innovations in the public school curriculum is sex education. Whether that is good or bad or something else, no one really knows.

Some people in the United States got the idea that the youth of America had an inadequate knowledge of sex, so the Sex Information and Education Council of the United States was formed. Not long after the inception of this organization, many public schools offered a course on sex education. You can imagine the stir of emotion such a program incited. Protective parents drew up petitions banning the whole issue as an invasion of personal liberty. But the controversy has subsided now. Young people in the public school system take the subject as a matter of course.

Like many other American novelties, sex education came over the border into Canada. Of course we don't have much to say. After all, if the United States have seen fit to adopt such a program then who are we to oppose it? "The Merry-go-round", a special teen-age film on sex education, caused some commotion when the schools in Ontario used it, but that soon died down.

A lot of good will result from the new idea. Many parents will be made aware of the pressing need for guidance and help in this crucial area. One Christian writer in a recent article was right when he said, "Without question, proper sex education is needed. Even extreme conservatives rarely deny this. Many young people have come to grief because they either were unwarily naive or had learned about sex solely from gutter talk or trashy films. And many others have been sadly stunted by repressive, unwholesome, guilt-producing teaching about sex."

The problem as I see it is not so much a question of how to meet this need, but where and by whom. Is the public school system the best suited situation for such a delicate matter? I'm afraid not. In a pluralistic society such as ours, the subject of sex is taught from a purely humanistic standpoint. It cannot be otherwise. Sex education should be taught in the context of Creation. If it is not then why teach it? If we do not have a moral origin what right have we to impose our own moral intuitions on other "rational" human beings. If we are not responsible to a moral Creator, then we are only responsible to ourselves, no one else.

That's why sex education must begin in the home. Parents must acquire proper terminology, wholesome attitudes and sincere openness on this subject. Christian parents, you see, can teach sex to their children with reference to God the Creator. It then becomes a blessed and beautiful aspect of human experience.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Schram, married Sept. 6, 1969 in First Baptist Church, Clarendon, Ont.

A double-ring ceremony

CLAREMONT — Baskets of white gladioli with white mums and ferns provided a lovely background for a pretty wedding in the First Baptist Church, Clarendon, Saturday, Sept. 6, 1969, when Mr. Keith Schram, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schram of Clarendon took as his bride Miss Ruth Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Taylor also of Clarendon.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Reverend F. Albert Luck. Mrs. Leonard Haddow of Bolton was the organist; Mr. Robert Henry of Bowmanville, the soloist, sang "The Lord's Prayer" before the ceremony and "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length, A-line gown of Lagoda Silk fashioned with a scoop neckline, empire waist and elbow length sleeves, accented with lace appliques. Her detachable train was held by two small bows. A cluster of small organza flowers and imported lace petals accented with seed pearls and crystals held her elbow length silk illusion veil. She carried a cascade of American Beauty roses with fern. She wore a single strand of cultured pearls, the gift of the groom.

Maid of honor, Miss Marian Taylor of Oshawa, sister of the bride, and bridesmaids, Mrs. John Torrance of Dundas, Miss Rosalie Schram of Clarendon, sister of the groom wore identical floor-length gowns of Candy Pink tucked cotton with scoop necklines, elbow-length sleeves, and bustle backs with large bows at the waist. Their headresses were matching bows with streamers worn at the crown, and they carried baskets of white Shasta daisies and pink Sweetheart roses.

Charles Reid of Scarborough was best man with Murray Taylor, Clarendon, brother of the bride, and Fred Schram, Clarendon, brother of the groom, ushering.

For the reception in the church hall, the bride's mother chose a sheath dress of blue chiffon over printed silk with matching 3/4 coat and corsage of yellow Sweetheart roses. The groom's mother assisted in a mint green crepe dress with attached green and yellow flowered Georgette coat and corsage of Woburn Abbey roses.

For travelling, the bride wore an ensemble of bone and dark brown crepe with bracelet length sleeves; brown and bone velvet hat, bone accessories and a multi-color corsage.

Guests of honor at the wedding were Mrs. Lewis of Clarendon, and Mrs. Midgley of Windsor, maternal grandmothers of the bride and groom.

Out-of-town guests were from Windsor, Collingwood, Bolton, Petawawa,

Green Gables Manor

Praise facilities

BLOOMINGTON — Dr. Margaret Arkinstall, medical officer in charge of York Manor, cut the red ribbon, Sept. 27, to officially open the new addition of Green Gables Manor, Bloomington.

Dr. Arkinstall said that in her capacity, she had many opportunities to observe the development of Green Gables and considered it a privilege to participate in the program. She praised the work of managers Ann and Lewis la Vine whose dedication and understanding she said, was apparent from her first visit to the property four years ago.

John Roberts, M.P. (York-Simcoe) congratulated Mr. and Mrs. la Vine on the excellence of interior appointments and furnishings. He suggested the need of additional accommodation in other areas.

Whitchurch deputy-revere Lawrence Henesey was taken on a conducted tour of the premises. Councillor Bob Lewis termed the building a 'sightseeing landmark' in the township.

Special music for the occasion was rendered by 'The Merry Men of Markham' who remained afterwards to entertain the patients and guests while lunch was served. Mrs. Willa DeGuerre, Markham Order of the Eastern Star sang 'Bless This House' accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Whittaker.

Hostesses for the day were — Mrs. Carol Brodie, Mrs. Margaret Henry and Mrs. O. Armstrong of the White Shrine of Jerusalem, Scarborough; Mrs. Evelyn Aiken, Mrs. M. Green, matron of the Markham Order of the Eastern Star and Mrs. Beulah Gorman, General Hospital, Guelph.

Guests present included — Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Lodge, Shoultice Clinic, Thornhill; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cunningham, Stouffville Nursing Home, Mr. and Mrs. C. Brennan, Canadian School of Practical Nursing and Dr. Wm. C. Arkinstall, Newmarket.
