By Jean Leaf
BUTTONVILLE — The stewardship campaign at Brown's Corners United Church is gaining momentum. Members are being drawn into active participation which leads to the congregation dinner, Oct. 16. Rev. Bill Askew is the guest speaker. On Oct. 19, members of the church will visit homes in the community.
 Frank Maw, Buttonville's "Clergyman," will be the guest speaker at the Buttonville W.I. Hall, Oct. 15 at 8 p.m. Mr. Maw is earning a fine reputation in his field, and has fashioned his own tools to make wooden works for early Canadian time-pieces.
 The Buttonville Branch of the YCHA met at the home of Mrs. Andrew Glenny, October 2. Mrs. Reg. Allen chaired the meeting. Oct. 23 is Open House at the Markham Hospital, and Buttonville women will assist.
 Mrs. Stephen Mew was guest speaker at a dessert luncheon and Thankoffering Meeting at Brown's Corners United Church.
 Several local residents did well at the Markham Fair. The Joe Robinson family excelled in the cattle show; the Pralets collected several ribbons in the vegetable and flower sections and Mrs. George Barber took a number of prizes for floral arrangements.
