From the minister's study

By V. G. Shillington

Suppose for a minute that all your life you were confined to the indoors, and the house you occupied had no windows. Let's assume as well that no one ever told you of the seasons of the year. Then about the first of December you were permitted to leave your abode. You would see leafless trees and barren land. You would feel the nip in the air, and you would have every right to conclude that the outside world is a cold, dismal expanse of nakedness. That's what happened to me, and to many others like me!

We were born into a world that's as cold and dismal and naked as winter. It's amusing to watch the "positive thinkers" cull a few optimistic notions from the mass of negatives. The kind of optimism we have today is as deadly as 20 below zero. It refuses to face issues as they really are, so the problems deteriorate.

Just to show you the kind of winter in which we are involved, let's take a look at the news of last Thanksgiving weekend. In Ireland four people were killed because native protestants think they are being sold out, and native Roman Catholics think the same; so the civil war rages on. Across North America hundreds of people are killed as a result of road accidents, because they thought that the only way to be thankful was to take some drink and then drive. One man thought he could best celebrate thanksgiving by raping a real estate agent. Another male human decided to try catching a fourteen-year-old girl only a mile from where I live . . . That will do for now. Yes, it was another bleak week-end.

Those of us who have lived in this climate of evil, find ourselves asking "When is spring due?" Believe it or not, a whole host of eminent men have ventured the answer. Let me give it to you briefly.

They say that things will get better when we get more people educated. Crime will diminish when we finally get the people out of the slums, so that everybody has enough. When science reaches a peak of knowledge people will think differently.

Those ideas seem laughable now. I don't need to remind you of the current trend in higher education. You know about the poverty poll and the science strides. You also know about last week-end.

I decided I wasn't getting a very satisfactory answer from the intellectuals, so I went to the Bible. Guess what! I found the answer. It was refreshing; it told of spring. Listen to it.

"Then I saw a new heaven and a new earth; for the first heaven and the first earth had passed away . . . and I heard a great voice from the throne saying, 'Behold the dwelling place of God is with men. He will dwell with them, and they shall be His people, and God Himself shall be with them.'"

H. G. Wells is in a minor league compared with the Bible's view of things to come. Why not believe the authority on the matter. Jesus Christ the Saviour of the world, and get ready for that great springtime that must come.

Nurse aids Indians

STOUFFVILLE — Carolyn Tindall, R.N., daughter of Mrs. Fran Tindall, Lloyd Avenue, Stouffville and the late Roy Tindall, left Oct. 7 to spend two years on the Bolivian plateau to work as a nurse among the Aymara Indians.

Carolyn Tindall, R.N.

Carolyn received her public and high school education in Stouffville, then enjoyed a year of study at the Baptist Training Institute in Brantford. Later, she took her nurse's training at Toronto Western Hospital. Following graduation, she continued on the Western Hospital staff. This spring, she headed the challenge for the need of a nurse in Bolivia. She was quick to respond.

For Carolyn, it is a dream come true. She has always wanted to use her life and talents to assist the needy and underprivileged.

Carolyn will reside near Lake Titicaca, at an altitude of 12,500 feet above sea level. The lake, the highest in the world, is 70 miles wide and 140 miles long.

The nearest doctor is 67 miles away. In cases of emergencies, a pickup truck is available.

Of necessity, some patients will be transported to a hospital in La Paz but the majority will be treated at the clinic or in their Indian huts.

Two or three times each week, Carolyn will visit schoolhouses within a radius of 15 miles to attend patients in wayside clinics. A Baptist Church serves the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Silver

Pretty Ballantrae bride

STOUFFVILLE — Standards of candabra entwined with white rose buds and stephanotis decorated St. James Presbyterian Church, Stouffville, for the wedding of Edith Heather Elizabeth McDermott and Joseph Thomas Silver, Aug. 16, 1969.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McDermott, R.R. 3, Stouffville and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Silver, Riviera Beach, Florida.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Velma Hood. The soloist, Mrs. Mary Hutchinson, sang 'The Lord is my Shepherd' and 'O Father, all Creating'. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fred Cromey.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a full length gown of peau-de-soie with french lace fitted bodice and overskirt, terminating in a chapel train.

A double illusion veil fell from her headpiece of rosebuds, lily of the valley and stephanotis.

She carried a crescent bouquet of pink rosebuds and feathered carnations, highlighted with sprigs of white heather brought from Ulster.

The maid of honor was Donna Kerr and the bridesmaids were Deborah McDermott, sister of the bride, and Susan Silver, sister of the groom. They wore floor length gowns of lilac lace over taffeta, and carried bouquets of yellow rosebuds and carnations with sprigs of purple heather from Ulster.

Michael Wood was groomsmen and the ushers were Ian Lawson and Frank Stroud. The reception followed at Cousin's Fiesta Room in Aurora. The bride's mother received in a pink lace over-crepe ensemble with matching accessories and a pink rosebud corsage.

She was assisted by the groom's mother in an aqua embossed silk dress with white accessories and a yellow rosebud corsage.

Guests were present from Northern Ireland, Florida, New York State, Milton, Streetsville, Rockwood, Toronto, Newmarket and Markham with the bride's grandmother from Coleraine, Northern Ireland. The newlyweds are now residing in Markham.

THE BEST TIME TO BUY A USED CAR

Many economists have declared used cars to be the greatest bargain in terms of real value for the money in our whole economy. This is because, of course, of the very significant drop from the new price in the first few years.

The hitch, of course, is that the buyer must beware of purchasing a worn-out model that has been misrepresented to look like a quality used car. But since dealing with a reputable dealer usually solves this problem, there remains only the fact of depreciation to contend with.

Annual depreciation chaps away continuously at the market price in a series of stages. A significant price decline occurs in July after the Spring rush is over. Labor day is next when buyers looking to winter have made their purchases. The new car announcement follows in October, announcing a new style year. As the car now officially becomes one year older, values go down again. Winter weather in November slackens demand for the fourth time to the all-time low of the year. Prices then level off until the first warm days of March when the cycle resumes.

This then, is a wise time to buy a used car. The market price has reached its low cycle and your resale value stands to decline little, if any, in the next six months.
