Jackson hurls no-hitter

STOUFFVILLE — Little Britain came to town Sunday for the seventh and final game of the league finals.

But they couldn't see the ball.

Oh, it was there alright. The umpire said so. But their bats couldn't find it.

Glenn Jackson, the methodical southpaw that appears to improve with age, fired a sparkling no-hitter. Stouffville I.G.A. won the contest 5-0 and the championship 4 games to 3.

Roger Todd and company retain the title they won in 1967 and again in 1968.

Gord McMillan was the only Little Britain player to make it past third but Stouffville catcher Ted Suzuki stopped him cold at the plate on a brilliant double-play that rubbed Pat O'Reilly out at first. It was captain Todd that made the initial snag to put the D.P. machine in motion.

The homesters took advantage of an L.P. snooze in the 1st and scored two runs. Bill Lehman and Ken Aida completed the circuit, both on errors.

Lehman crossed the plate again in the 5th, also on a 'goof'. But just to prove his ability with the big bat, he whacked out a triple in the 6th, scoring Larry Spang and Dave Slack.

Clare Osbourne, whose earlier successes pushed the series to the limit, was clipped for 6 safeties. He issued 5 walks.

7 o'clock league

STOUFFVILLE — Mary Haynes led the 7 o'clock Ladies League with a 5-0 triple, including single games of 212 and 206, Oct. 9.

Others over the 200 mark were Doris Redquest, 216; Barb Melhuish, 213, and Shirley Wright, 206.

Team standings are: The Minis, 20; Team Six, 20; The Clackers, 19; Hi Lo's, 19; The Goofers, 4; and Team One, 2.

Ken Crawford back

Team rivals to see 'red'

STOUFFVILLE — The Intermediate "B" practice sessions continue to attract over twenty-five aspirants for reserved seats on the 'Clipper' bench.

A surprise combatant in Tuesday's drill was Ken (Red) Crawford. Crawford has been playing professional lacrosse during the past few years with Montreal and St. Catharines. Should he and Winterstein join the 'Clipper' crew, Stouffville's stock should rise considerably.

Even though the season opener is still several weeks hence, the competition for positions is keen, especially among the newcomers.

Glenn Jackson has made the transition from the diamond to the rink once again and his reflexes and eyes have teamed to make the mesh 'out of bounds' to the hungry sharpshooters. Carrying on from where he left off last season is Dan Pettit who has matured in to a heady and steady rear-guard.

Carl Keffer is in motion this year as are Ken Aida, Bob Smith, Geoff Gaston and Harold (Ike) Hodgson. Although the season is in its infancy, it appears that the only regular missing from the twice-weekly scrimmages is Bob McNeil who retired with a back injury.

Stouffville and Whitty have made strong bids to link up with Cobourg, Napanee and possibly Wellington in the Eastern Division of the Intermediate "B". OHA. The answer to this request is expected in the very near future.

Midgets first

STOUFFVILLE — Running against a biting wind and a constant drizzle, the S.D.S.S. Midget boys' team placed first in a meet held at Bruce's Mill, Oct. 3. They were led by Jim Alty who placed 6th. The girl's team put on a fine effort placing second. They were led by Jenny Bangay who came 3rd. Blaine Burnie stuck near the front of the pack in the junior boys race and placed 5th. Martin Kamps, in his second race, scored a solid 12th in the tough senior competition.

It should be noted that a team of grade 7 boys from our school put on a fine effort by running in the Midget class.

Port Perry visitors

STOUFFVILLE — Port Perry High School's football squad journeys here, Friday, to meet Stouffville in an exhibition match. Competition between Port, now an 'A' school (750 students and over), and Stouffville has always been keen in past years and the encounter promises to be an interesting one. Spectators are welcome at the game to be played at the school at 3 p.m.

N.H.L. 'Oldtimers' here — play 'Clippers' Oct. 21

STOUFFVILLE — Bob Goldham, Harry Watson, Cal Gardner, Sid Smith, Danny Lewicki. Strike a nostalgic chord?

These are a few of 'NHL Oldtimers' expected to arrive in Stouffville next Tuesday. The occasion is an exhibition contest with the 'Clippers'.

This contingent of hockey heroes has established a reputation for substituting 'savvy' where strength and reflexes have waned. Several teams of later vintage have been humbled by these old pros as they travel across Ontario promoting spectator interest in our favourite winter pastime.

'Clipper' coach, Bob Hassard will likely dress in the 'Oldtimers' colors by virtue of his playing days with the Toronto Maple Leafs a few years ago.

The Stouffville 'Clipper' — NHL 'Oldtimers' clash is slated for Tuesday night at 8:15.
