Clippers beat Picton 7-4, four key players injured

STOUFFVILLE— It was a costly game for the 'Clippers' as they downed Picton 'Merchants' 7-4 to avenge Sunday's 8-4 defeat by the same club. Four of Stouffville's players left the ice for medical aid and only one returned.

Period one was the big one as the winners struck within the first half minute and then fired five more before the buzzer sounded.

Harold (Ike) Hodgson suffered a ten-stitch cut near the eye before Ray Winterstein incurred a gash on the face. A foot injury sidelined Bill White and Ken Aida lost a few teeth when hit by the puck. To add insult to injury, Picton were only assessed four penalties to Stouffville's eight.

Art Renick was back in uniform and back in stride as he potted a pair of goals. Ray Winterstein and Al Patterson were not to be outdone as they matched his performance. The other counter came off the stick of Bill White.

Last year's steady defensive star, Bob Tripp will not be dressed in red and black as the Whitty club has refused to waive their rights to him.

Stouffville's half dozen first period goals did little to dampen the visitors' spirits as they fought back to score three unanswered tallies in the second stanza to make it 6-3. Patterson was the lone marksman in the last frame. Bill White scored the 'Clippers' other goal.

Don Haynes shone with four assists as he continues to prove his rushing ability.

Whitty will provide the opposition Dec. 2, at 8:30 p.m.

Howie Jones Nets peewee winner

STOUFFVILLE.— Once again the Stouffville IGA Peewee All-Stars came from behind to salvage a tie. This time it was a 4-4 deadlock with Markham.

Howard Jones erased the one-goal deficit in the final minute of play with the help of Craig Waite. Just prior to that, Doug Feasby took a pass from Blair Bangay to put the IGA's within striking distance.

In a previous contest with Ajax, Stouffville were on the short end of a 5-1 score going into the final period. The gap didn't deter the miniature warriors from clicking five times to share the 6-6 stalemate. Dave Mumford led the attack with two markers. Howard Jones, Keith Acton, Doug Feasby and Craig Waite collected the others in a great display of team work.

The Markham club appeared to be headed for an easy victory as they opened early, continued the pressure in the second stanza, and then staggered in the final frame as Stouffville came on strong.

At the 1:40 mark of the initial period, Steve Tar put the visitors ahead. The assist was credited to Bruce Dorey. An unassisted effort by David Mumford balanced the board.

Two Markham goals were unanswered by Stouffville in the second 20 minutes of play. Steve Tar, a constant threat all evening, picked up his second goal after Chris Clarridge set it up. Then Dave Anderson structured a successful play to allow Bob Craig to make it 3-1.

George Field carried much of the play for Markham and Doug Taylor shone for the locals although neither were rewarded on the score sheet.

Keith Acton proved the adage about hope where there is life at 1:35 of the final period. Doug Feasby was part of that pattern. The hope wavered temporarily when Markham's Steve Tar helped Dave Anderson make it 4-2. The stage was set for Feasby and Jones.

Swamp Pickering 14-4

STOUFFVILLE — It was almost no contest as Stouffville's Becker's Milk Midget All-Stars swamped Pickering 14-4 to post their second win of the season. The gap might have been even greater had the victors not lapsed into complacency early in the game when the outcome became evident.

Becker's attack was well balanced as seven players shared the fourteen counters. Bob Bangay was back in stride as his hustling earned him four goals and one assist. In one of his best efforts of the past two seasons, defenceman Paul Brown set up five tallies. Greg Turner continued to shine by collecting a hat trick and engineering a single tally. Frank Roberts' presence was felt as he baffled the Pickering cage keeper twice and was part of four other goals.

In spite of the Stouffville volleys, the plucky Pickering contingent never became demoralized. They always battled back as though victory was still within their grasp. John Laroque gave the visitors reason to cheer when he put the goal judge to work on two occasions. Wayne Book and Don Cummings chalked up the other markers.

Gord Henderson is proving to be one of Becker's most consistent marksmen. In this affair he found the mark twice. Bill Hassard, Rick Glen and Mike Jones were the other sharpshooters. Ken Harman aided the winners' by figuring in the patterns of four goals.

Legion league

STOUFFVILLE — Elva Newmarch led the Legion Ladies' League, Nov. 18, with a 612 triple, including a single game of 235. Not far behind was Ev. McKay with a 603 triple and a 278 single.

Over 200 were Lois Bartley, 222; Gladys Clarkson, 203; Joanne Steel, 214; Winnie Elson, 204; Doris Farthing, 231; and Barbara Thomas, 236.

Team standings: Moon Rocks, 28; Skylarks, 24; Moon Babies, 20; No No's, 18; Stinkers, 16; and Looney Lunars, 14.

Men's League

STOUFFVILLE — Dave McNelly rolled a 337 single and Ron Wilerton an 838 triple to top the scores of the Monday Night Men's Bowling League. Others over 20 were — D. Chase, 234; J. Spang, 220; D. Trotman, 283; J. Lankveld, 242-226; G. Donkers, 221-261-253; R. Falkner, 250; L. Greenwood 230; R. Todd 239; R. Cartwright, 260; P. Whybrew, 231; B. White, 234; J. Hockin 257; P. Melhuish, 255; V. Blake, 241; P. Toth, 247.

Team standings are: Half Dozen, 29; Six Pac, 26; Saddies' Choice, 22; Bottoms - Up, 19; Paul's Fina, 18; Strikers, 8.

'Kinsmen' Juveniles Hot scoring streak

STOUFFVILLE — Jake Harman's 'Kinsmen' Juveniles could be one of the hottest OMLA entries iced here in several seasons.

On Nov. 19, they slammed West Rouge 7-3 in a hard-hitting contest and the following night, journeyed to Newcastle and handed the homesters there a 6-0 shellacking.

In the first of the two-game stint, Jody Holden struck for 3 goals and 2 assists, raising his point total to 24. Single markers came from the sticks of Dave Farlow, Bob Leger, Bill Thornhill and Dave McNelly. Wendell Harrison collected three assists.

At Newcastle, it was again the fire power of Holden who paced the attack, notching 3 and assisting on one. Dave Farlow potted a pair and Brian Kessel, one. Bill Thornhill had two assists.

On Friday, Stouffville moves into Uxbridge for a 9:15 game and then goes to Markham Sunday at 9:30. Next Wednesday, West Rouge are the visitors here at nine o'clock.

Midget game Best this season

STOUFFVILLE — It was sixty minutes of the best minor hockey played in the Stouffville arena this year as Becker's Midget All-Stars, and Newcastle fought to a 3-3 draw. The entire game featured end to end rushes, sharp forechecking and alert goal tending. Stouffville appeared to have the edge of play although the scoreboard didn't agree.

A late penalty to Becker's, Greg Turner allowed Doug Rickard to score his second goal of the third period. Rick Stephenson assisted.

The Milkmen also took advantage of two Newcastle penalties. Gord Henderson combined with Rick Glen for the only score of the first frame.

In another six on five situations early in the second period, Stouffville were the opportunists. This time Dan Harman did the honours. Greg Turner

Bantam team Retain Uxbridge star

STOUFFVILLE — Steve Pope with a reputation for being more steady than starry, skated into the spotlight as he gave Stouffville's Bantam All-Stars a 3-2 victory over Uxbridge.

As usual, it was the Houston Pharmacy color-bearers trying to contain the explosive Tom Newton. Newton's stature in minor hockey continues to build towards a similar type of adoration that preceded Bobby Orr's entry into the NHL. He appears to have the skills, the size and the mental attitude to take him the same route. Perhaps Stouffville's most notable achievement was in bottling him up sufficiently to allow him a single tally.

Houston's goalie Robert Lewis played one of his better games as he moved out to cut down the angles and handled the rubber disc with growing confidence. Good clutch saves in the final period highlighted his play.

It was 2-1 in Stouffville's favor at the end of the initial period. Finley Macdonald structured a Don Rescor goal while Newton was in the penalty box. Miniature Mike Spragge found the mark with the help of Kevin Barrick. This lead was narrowed when Dale Beverley and Tom Newton combined at 12:28.

A close checking twenty and Mike Jones teamed to make it possible. The locals' final tally was an excellent backhand shot by Bill Hassard from Gord Henderson.

Ray Verburgh in the visitors' net kept the Becker boys off the board for more than twenty-eight minutes while his mates fired three good ones to fashion the tie.

This contest was a repeat performance of an earlier game in Newcastle in which these clubs left the ice deadlocked 2-2.

With Stouffville's recent drubbing of Pickering 9-3, they have a record of three wins, two ties and one loss.

The Midgets, in their new green and white uniforms looked as sharp as their play. Coach, Ed Grimshay has Earl Crowder as club manager.

minutes permitted a single score in period two. It was a family affair with Tom Newton being assisted by cousin Bruce.

The final period was an equally dramatic scene with Uxbridge putting on tremendous pressure without much success. Finley Macdonald engineered the play which provided Steve Pope with the winner.

The next home game is on Nov. 27 at 7:45 when Stouffville hosts Brooklin.

7 o'clock league

STOUFFVILLE — A high triple of 650 including a single game of 290 put Winie Elson on top of the 7 O'clock Ladies League, Nov. 20. Doris Redquest was also over the 600 mark with a 603 triple and a single game of 239.

Topping the 200 mark were Linda Bonnar, 227; Millie Wilcocks, 214; Barb Melhuish, 212; Doris Pren-

Dunlop Bonspiel

Bob Coulter's rink eliminated

WHITBY — In the third week of curling action in the Fourth Annual Ontario Dunlop Invitational Bonspiel at the Whitty Curling Club, Bob Coulter's Unionville foursome met Howie Atkinson of Don Mills Avonlea in their first game and came out on the short end of an 11-8 score. In their second game, the one they had to win to stay in the running, the Unionville foursome met Collingwood's Glen Brock and roared into an early 4-1 lead after three ends, went on to add three in each of the 7th and 9th ends and put the game away at 11-5, the same score which had beaten them in their first game. Coulter's Unionville quartet then met Jake Edwards of Kingston who had also lost his first game but came back to win the second.

Coulter lost the third game 12-8 and was eliminated after having led the Kingston skip by a 5-1 score after five ends.

Other members of the Coulter foursome included Harold Carey (vice); Bob Allan (second) and Mike Huggins (lead).

The last two of an original entry of six rinks from the highly competitive Unionville Club, the Jack Hildebrand and Harry Sheldon quartets, will see action in the fourth and final qualifying draw this Friday. The time is 8:30 a.m.

Already set for action in the third event finals, Saturday, is Bob Harris' rink which qualified with a pair of victories, Nov. 15.

Unionville's Bob Coulter lets go a rock in the heat of competition at the Dunlop curling bonspiel at Whitty. His rink was defeated by Kingston.

League seeks statistician

STOUFFVILLE — The Minor Hockey Dance, held Nov. 14, was a huge success. The Association wishes to thank all those who attended for their support. Another dance is planned for January.

The Association needs a statistician to keep records of league standings, point totals for the players, and other information. This person would be responsible for writing summaries for The Tribune. The job could be done at home and need not mean going to the arena. Interested persons should contact Mr. Keith Sutherland.
