ed until Monday because of the storm.

Bert Tapscott had a snowy beginning on Monday morning, his first day on the R.R. 1 mail route.

The CGIT Vesper Service stirred Cedar Grove gently into the Yuletide season with clear, well rehearsed voices.

At the November meeting of CGCC held last week at the home of Phyllis and David Ritchie, the directors for the coming year were elected and it was announced that Hally Reesor will manage. Cedarena again this year with Bert Tapscott in charge of the booth. A Pot Luck Supper will be held in the schoolhouse on Dec. 29 and members are asked to bring a long new neighbour in the community.

Our young accident victims are coming along well. Artie Milroy and Bill Dawson are home again and Geene Shoudy should be out of the hospital before long. Mrs. MacNeil, whose foot was badly crushed, is still undergoing treatment but reports now look hopeful. Looks like mumps may be with us for Christmas—Bruce Beare is the first victim.

Gordon Dimma joined the Archie Little family to attend Brian Rowbotham's wedding in Napanee on Saturday. Brian is Helen Little's nephew and two carloads from this area attended the wedding and the reception afterwards at Kingston.

Jack and Eileen McIntosh were hosts for Eileen's mother's 90th birthday dinner on Saturday evening. Mrs. Swindells, a perky, bright, young nine, thoroughly enjoyed a visit with her family including her son Elliot.

Several Cedar Grovers attended the annual Pennsylvania Dutch Dinner at Victoria Square over the weekend.

Euchre winners for Nov. 24: Cecil Latcham, Jean Hunter, Edna Ogden and Margaret Coathup.

Cedar Grove's final Euchre for the year will be held in the schoolhouse, Dec. 8, at 8:20 p.m. Among draws for many prizes, will be a turkey draw. Special refreshments will be served.

The Sunday School Christmas Pageant will be presented in Zion Church, Dec. 12, at 7 p.m.

Donations of gifts and money will be most welcome at the White Gift Service to be held in the Zion Church, Dec. 14, at 11:15 a.m.

The Mothers' Club December meeting will be held at the home of Evelyn Whittamore, and will have a Christmas theme. Any one having favorite Christmas music or records is invited to bring them along.

Awards received at Commencement

By Pat McClennan
CEDAR GROVE — Several young people from the community received awards at the Markham District High School Commencement, Nov. 28. Gord Milroy, Jacqueline Davis and Sharon Lapp received graduation diplomas. Arthur Lapp, who received his three year honor pin, played in the band during the program, and gave a tuba solo.

The weekend snow provided enjoyment for some, and inconvenience to others. It gave Janet Bielby and Ron-Dean a few extra hours with friends they were visiting in Buffalo over the weekend. Cars and planes there were ground-
