

A taste of the country

A dozen youngsters, aged 6 to 9, from the Duke of York School in Toronto's Cabbagetown area, enjoyed a taste of the country as they spent an afternoon on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Manchec, R.R. 4, Stouffville, Dec. 13. The children, guests of the Manchec's daughter Susan and several of her classmates from Haverger College in Toronto, enjoyed a visit from Santa, tobogganing and a hayride down the 6th Concession.

Candlelight communion service

By Jean Leaf
BUTTONVILLE — There will be a Candlelight Communion Service in Brown's Corners Church, Christmas Eve at 8.30 p.m. The service will begin with Carol singing, followed by a hort meditation. The Elements of Communion will be served from a common loaf and cup at the steps of the Chancel. Everyone is invited.

Brian and Karen Reynolds entertained the Stewards of Brown's Corners Church for their regular meeting last week. Mrs. Wm. Rodick John and Sylvia and their two small children were guests at the home of Jack and Mary Rodick, Sunday.

For their Christmas meeting, the Buttonville W.I. enjoyed a dessert luncheon in the Hall, Dec. 10. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hooper showed interesting photographs and movies of their recent trip to the Orient and Australia. Gifts of candy were donated for the boys at the Salvation Farm at Concord, and the Harold King

Farm, Keswick. Carols, special music by the two choirs and a fine sermon brought Christmas very near, Sunday morning, in a meaningful White Gift Service at Brown's Corners Church. The Advent Candle was lit by Roy Tutt, and members of the congregation took part in a procession to the creche in the Chancel for the presentation of gifts. On Dec. 21 at 7.30 p.m., the Explorers and C.G.I.T. will present their Candlelight Service, to which everyone is invited. The Christmas Service will be at 11 a.m.

Favors 19 as voting age

STOUFFVILLE — "I personally favor have the voting age set at 19, rather than the suggested 18," said William Hodgson, provincial Conservative member for York North, when asked to comment on whether the voting age should be lowered.

Mr. Hodgson explained his reason for 19-year voting level by saying, that at the older level a person is either completing formal education and entering the work force, or is continuing higher education. At 18, he said, a person will just have completed the introduction to secondary schooling and will not have had as much opportunity to assess the role of those contributing to the economy and the welfare of the community.

Two receive Baptism

Stephen Lewis has been visiting with Grandma and Grandpa Gayman.

Brownie leader, Mrs. Sherwood, wishes to thank all those who generously contributed to the basket for Christmas cheer. A new phase of the program starts in January and there is room for more members. Any girls from 7 to 10 will be welcome.

Keep your temper. Nobody else wants any part of it.

Mrs. J. Nigh
MELVILLE — The Sacrament of Baptism was administered by Rev. George Davison to Marsha Marlene Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Miller and Leanne Marie Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brown, during the Sunday morning service. Sunday services were well attended despite the fact that many have fallen victim to the flu and mumps. Next Sunday church school is at 9:50 and worship service at 11:00. In the evening at 7:30 the children and young people of the congregation are presenting the annual candlelight service. Come and see the Nativity through the eyes of the children.

The U.C.W. meeting at the home of Mrs. Harry Forrester was well attended. An interesting Christmas program was presented by Mrs. Russel Hunt.
