A 'golden day' for Markham couple

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Reesor, Main Street North, Markham, welcomed more than 150 neighbors, friends and relatives on the occasion of their Golden Wedding Anniversary, March 3.

MARKHAM -- The Reesor family name is well-known and highly respected in Markham and community.

It was no less popular in 1920. In fact, pretty Eva, daughter of Flavius and Fannie Reesor, liked it well enough to keep it.

The decision was just fine for Joseph. Because he liked Eva too. On March 3, fifty years ago, Eva Reesor and Joseph Reesor were married at her parent's home, conc. 5, Scarborough, Rev. Eltherington, then the pastor at Markham United Missionary Church and Dickson's Hill, performed the ceremony.

Their honeymoon was a trip by train from Locust Hill to Toronto.

On Tuesday, March 3, 1970, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Reesor celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary. More than 150 neighbors, friends and relatives attended the reunion, held at the home of a daughter, Shirley (Mrs. Garnet Beare), Pickering, R.R.2. A second daughter, Dorothy (Mrs. Donald Middleton) resides on Hawkridge Avenue, Markham. There are four grandchildren, Ray and Bruce Beare; Karen and Michael Middleton.

Mr. and Mrs. Sim Reesor, their wedding attendants were pleased to be present at the gathering.

Mr. Reesor was born at lot 11, conc. 5, Scarborough, the son of Menno and Hannah Reesor. He attended public school at Box Grove.

Mrs. Reesor's public school years were spent at Cedar Grove.

With their parents so close, Eva and Joe practically grew up together.

For the past 14 years, they have lived at 131 Main Street in North Markham. They continue to attend service regularly in Zion United Church, Cedar Grove. Mrs. Reesor is an active member of the U.C.W. there.

The couple enjoy good health and love keeping busy - Mrs. Reesor in her cozy bungalow home and Mr. Reesor, cutting grass, weeding his garden or keeping the front walk clear of snow. Both are ardent hockey fans.

As a reminder of the wonderful day, March 3, lovely flowers and dozens of cards still decorate their living room. One of the most prized bouquets is 50 yellow roses from the family. Their daughter Shirley made the anniversary cake.

On the night before the happy event, they received a long-distance telephone call from a niece, Mrs. Helen Bomberger in Williamsburg, Virginia.

The occasion was indeed a 'golden' day they'll long remember. The Tribune is pleased to add its congratulations.

Late David Stouffer

Everybody's friend

Principal speaker

Mr. Harry Hunt, highly recognized principal of Ballantree Public School, will address a social evening at the Whitchurch Centennial Centre, Wednesday, March 18 at 8:30 p.m. His remarks will be centred around the topic "Modern Methods of Education". All parents in the area are urged to attend.

Ron Wallace, formerly of Stouffville and now of Aurora, Ron Willerton, Whitby and Len Greenwood, returned home Sunday following a weekend of skiing at Mt. Tremblant near Montreal

STOUFFVILLE Eighty-nine years is considered a long span in any man's life. But for David Lewis Stouffer, it didn't seem that way. For he enjoyed living far too much that it should ever end.

Whether he was nailing down a loose shingle on a roof, repairing a Massey-Harris binder or sauntering down to the Post Office for the mail, each day had real meaning for him. No Stouffville resident was better known or more highly respected. He was everybody's friend.

David Stouffer was born at conc. 9, Whitchurch, the son of Christian Stouffer, formerly of Ringwood. For most of his life, he farmed at conc. 8, moving to town in 1936. He was a member of the Stouffville United Church and the pastor, Rev. Jas. Carder conducted the service, March 4 from the O'Neill Funeral Home with committal in the chapel. Interment will be made at Dickson's Hill. Besides "his" wife, the former Francis Hoover, he is survived by two daughters, Marion (Mrs. Fred Nicely) and Helen (Mrs. Belfry Hamilton) both of Stouffville.

AUTO SAFETY and THE FUTURE

Long after the hubbub about safety has ceased to be a political issue, the car makers are continuing to do what they have all along — search for new PRACTICAL ways to make cars safer.

One promising device is an air bag that will inflate upon severe impact and protect the car's occupants from collision.

The device is tentatively scheduled to be optional equipment on some 1971 models and standard on some 1972 models. It is now undergoing further study by the National Highway Safety Bureau of the U.S. Government.

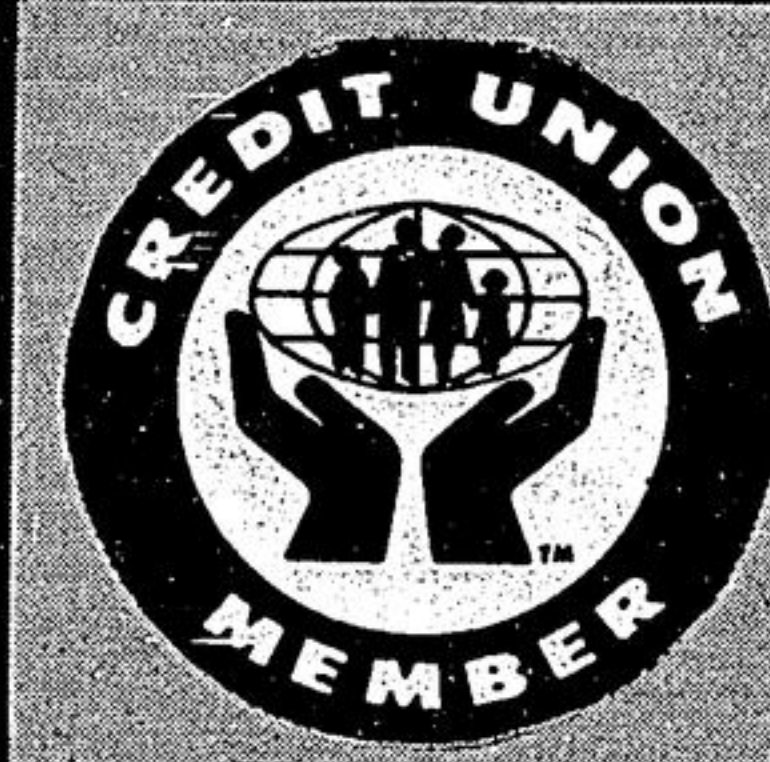

The bags are designed to inflate instantly following a significant impact such as would occur in a collision. The bag would become a buffer between the car's passengers and the windshield, plugging the passengers' back against their seats until it deflates moments later.

Head injuries and whiplash would be prevented as the occupant is held firm against the back of the seat. Seat belts, which most drivers still refuse to make use of, would become unnecessary.

While you're waiting for the safety bags, however, you will greatly increase your chances of surviving a collision by remembering to buckle up your old-fashioned seat belt.

THESE ARE THE FACTS ABOUT YOUR CREDIT UNION

PART 3 OF A 5-PART SERIES

LOANS...

How does a credit union provide credit?
By loaning money to its members, for provident or productive purposes.

What is meant by a "provident or productive purpose"?

Any purpose that will benefit the borrower. Is there any restriction on loans to members?

The credit union sets the maximum amount which may be loaned to a member with or without security, within the limitations of the Credit Unions By-Laws.

Who approves loan applications?

The Credit Committee, who carefully check the applicant outlining the purpose of the loan, the security offered, and the terms of repayment. The Credit Unions Act provides for approval of small loans, and for loans up to the value of a member's savings, by the treasurer, or manager, subject to certain conditions. The act now also provides for the hiring of a loan officer to lighten the burden of the credit committee in larger credit unions.

What is considered security for a loan?

Shares, wage assignments, assignments of monies receivable, co-signers, chattel mortgages, are accepted as security.

Are credit union loans ever made without security?

Yes. Credit Unions may loan money on the signature of a borrower, with the approval of the credit committee, up to an amount stipulated in the Credit Unions By-Laws.

What does a credit union loan cost?

The Credit Unions Act limits loan interest to 1% per month on the unpaid balance. This is equivalent to a rate of 12% per annum simple interest. However if for example a loan of $1,000.00 is repaid in equal monthly instalments over a period of one year, the interest paid would be approximately $65.00, or 6 1/2% of the principal amount. Most credit unions charge the maximum rate of 1% per month, and then pay a rebate out of surplus at the year end, thus reducing the effective rate of 12% per annum. Credit union interest rates are lower than many other lending institutions, and compare favourably with personal insured loans of the Chartered Banks.

Are credit union loans insured?

Yes. Through a contract between the credit union and the CUNA Mutual Insurance Society, loan balances of insurable borrowers up to $10,000 may be protected in the event of death or permanent disability. CUNA Mutual also offers to members of league-affiliated credit unions individual life insurance.
