Home club good even in defeat

STOUFFVILLE — Stouffville's hope for a Minor Hockey Championship died last Saturday as the Peeewe All-Stars were beaten by a bigger and better team from Huntsville. Disappointed yes, but tears no. The young hockeyists had done their best and it was good enough to keep them close. It was a 3-1 win for the boys from the north after they had taken a 5-3 decision on Stouffville ice to make it two straight in the best of three series of the semi-finals.

The IGA's kept the winners off the scoreboard in the first frame but trailed 2-0 at the end of the second. The outcome looked evident but Stouffville kept in there and David Mumford was able to get one by Tim Harkness in the Huntsville nets. Another tally by the blue and white made it 3-1.

In the previous game, the initial one of the series, played in Stouffville, it was Harkness who kept the visitors in the game during the first period. His acrobatics performance held the strong Stouffville attack to two goals while his mates managed a single. Doug Feasby was assisted by Howie Jones and Doug Taylor in

For Stouffville's 'I.G.A.' Peeewe's, the season is over. Huntsville swept the playoff series in two straight. But the boys gave it their best against a superior opposition. Shown here, in a breakaway scoring bid is Stouffville's Doug Feasby. His shot was stopped. Peter Harris.

equalizing Dean Payne's score. Ted Assinck took the IGA's in front after David Mumford and Howie Jones structured the play.

Big Mike Peddie went to work in the remaining forty minutes and earned a hat-trick. Number 14 in the blue sweater was head and shoulders above every player on the ice, both literally and figuratively.

His size and ability were overwhelming. Stouffville's Ted Assinck, a never-give-up type of player picked up his second goal of the night with David Mumford and Howie Jones assisting again. Lawrence Peltier got Huntsville's other marker. It was 5-3 and a do-or-die situation to follow.

Coach, Jack Watson, and Manager Jerry Acton are to be commended for their efforts in developing a team that was given little chance to get by the first round but made it to the Peeewe semi-finals and even looked good in defeat.

Andy Leitch

Peeewe hat-trick

STOUFFVILLE — Civitan defeated Mayflower Farms 3-2 in a close Peeewe contest, March 4. Jack Watson scored 2 goals with Glen Gibson getting 1 goal and 1 assist. Eddie Leeger picked up 3 assists. Mark Barry and Tom Machesney scored for Mayflower with assists going to Randy Calhoun, Mark Davis and Ron Assinck.

Hetherington Electric defeated Aldon Kennels 4-2. Scoring for Hetheringtons were Joe Thistel (2), Danny Brazier and Ken Wideman. Assists went to Robbie Bryant (2), Brian Forfar, Joe Thistel and Murray Anderson. Billy Meakes notched one Aldon goal with Terry Wilson and Steve McConnell collecting assists.

Stouffville Police took a 3-1 decision from Master Feeds on the strength of goals by Paul Marshman, Dean Pipher and Brian Mintz. Danny Wagg, Wally Schell, Dean Pipher and Kevin Morley each earned one assist. Wayne Bowes got the lone Master Feeds goal on a pass from Gary Lamers.

Stouffville Co-op edged D & A Construction 4-3. Andy Leitch counted 3 goals and one assist for the winners. Bill Carruthers picked up the fourth goal. D & A got goals from Rick Barkey, Ted Wood and Dennis Kerrigan. Blair Emerson, Ken Kerrigan and Dennis Kerrigan earned assists.

Twenty-two pound rabbit

MAPLE — The next time you see a deer jumping over a fence or bounding across a field, take a second look to make sure it isn't a jack rabbit. Some of these 'jacks' are growing big.

The Department of Lands and Forests in Maple reports that recently a Toronto man, Mr. W. Bardos of Woodville Avenue, shot a giant jack rabbit weighing 21 pounds 14 ounces near Lindsay.

Jack rabbits average 9 pounds, but it is not unusual to have some 13 to 15 pounds.

Whitby's 'mighty Casey'

Strikes out 'Clippers' in final game

STOUFFVILLE — The 'Clipper' ship hauled its colors down for another season, but it did so reluctantly. Whitby's Pat Casey was the 'mighty Casey' who didn't 'strike out'. He used hockey hickory to break Stouffville's heart at the 59 second mark of overtime and give Whitby the 5-4 edge and the right to advance to the Intermediate

'B' finals against Napanee.

It was a large and enthusiastic crowd that followed the 'Clippers' into the Whitby arena. They had much to shout about at the end of the second period when their team left the ice with a 3-1 lead. In the final frame, Stouffville came out and played wide open hockey. It was so wide open that they were caught with their denims down and Whitby bounced in front 4-3 at the 10:10 mark when Casey struck again. With one minute left in regulation play and Glenn Jackson looking towards the bench for instructions, Al Paterson scored from Ray Winterstein and Bob Hassard to force overtime. After blowing a two-goal advantage, but then coming on so dramatically, the emotions of Stouffville's faithful experienced the depths and the peaks of hockey excitement.

In the overtime period, Stouffville put on constant pressure and came within inches of creating a deadlock but Whitby's best goalkeeping was his.

If Glenn Jackson in the 'Clipper' cage is called 'Stoney' as a reference to 'Stonewall', Jackson of Civil War fame, he has been aptly named. He was just that, a stone wall as far as the winners' forwards were concerned. He stood up to a barrage of shots, stopped several breakaways, made skate saves and could not be faulted on any puck that got 'by him. Ken 'red'

Crawford came through with another spartan effort with his effective checking in both ends and the 'Clippers' initial goal. Bob Marshall went all out and scored one brilliant marker after a lengthy rush, which featured tremendous stick handling. The other tally came off the stick of Bob Smith. For Whitby, Casey clicked on three and John Vesters and Bob Tripp chalked up singles.

After their debut season which included an eleventh hour squeeze to make the playoffs and then taking the series to the seventh and final game, only to lose

South Shore 9 - Stouffville 7

Juveniles fade in final frame

STOUFFVILLE — The third period is all part of a hockey game — an important part. And if Stouffville Juveniles hope to remain in the Ontario Title race, they'll have to play as well in the final frame as in the first and second.

At Keswick, Sunday, they were leading 3-1 after the initial twenty minutes. It was 6-4 in Stouffville's favor moving into the third. Then the roof fell in. South Shore, a combined Sutton-Keswick squad, rattled five pucks into the twine with only a single reply. The game ended 9-7.

Stouffville lost the second encounter on home ice, March 4. At press time, they trail 2 games to 1. After Wednesday (last night), the series could be all even or South Shore could hold a commanding 3-1 advantage.

Regardless, the two clubs go back to Keswick on Thursday (tonight) at 8:30 p.m. The sixth game (if necessary) will be on Stouffville ice, Saturday, also at 8:30 p.m.

Jody Holden led the 'Kin' goal-getters, Sunday with a pair. He also collected 2 assists. Angus McDonald, Gord Henderson, Dave Farlow, Bill Hassard and Bill Thornhill fired singles. Wendell Harrison and Harold Crowder each counted two assists.

In March 4 contest, it was Holden with 2 and Farlow, one. South Shore's winner came with less than a minute to go.
