

Second Annual Trade Fair hosts thousands of visitors

Snowmobiles were popular display items at the Fair, but none more eye-catching than the exhibit by Bethesda Sales and Service. This high-performance 'Skiroule' is enhanced by 15 year old Bonnie Van Dyke but (unfortunately) was not part of a package deal. —Peter Harris

Stereo winner

STOUFFVILLE — The solid state, 8-track stereo tape player, donated as a lucky draw at the Trade

Fair by Giles Chev-Olds and Gulf Oil, has been won by a Markham district boy David Stapleton, R.R.2, Markham, was present at the Fair when his name was drawn.

A smile and a wave for everyone made 3 year old Teresa Foulds an instant hit in the Trade Fair Fashion Show. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Foulds, Second Street. —Peter Harris.

Firemen's dance

STOUFFVILLE — The Stouffville Fire Brigade

volunteers are holding a dance, Oct. 16 at Cedar Beach, Musselman's Lake. Tickets are available from any department members at $4.00 per couple. All proceeds will go to the Canadian Muscular Dystrophy Association.

The Stouffville Trade Fair Fashion Show drew large audiences to each of its three performances. One of many new outfits shown was this pant suit, modelled by Miss Mary Lou Baker. —Peter Harris.

Pet show popular

STOUFFVILLE — They came in all models, shapes and sizes. There was the long and the short, the big and the little, with tails and without - a wide mixture of entries from within the domesticated animal world. But each, in its master's opinion, was a winner - even a slithery snake called 'Porky'. The second annual Pet Show was part of the

The pet show, under the chairmanship of village deputy-reeve attracted much attention. The winner in the 'best dressed class' was a boxer named 'Queen Bee', entered by 9 year old Nancy Babcock, Stouffville, R.R.4. —Peter Harris.

Saturday Trade Fair program and attracted much interest.

Stouffville deputy-reeve Jim McKellar was in charge assisted by trick rope artist, Dave Stewart of Agincourt.

In the Best Dressed Class, a boxer named 'Queen Bee' took first place. She was shown by 9 year old Nancy Babcock, Stouffville, R.R.4.

For the Dog With the Longest Tail, none could match the wagger on a collie called 'Ben', proudly held by 8 year old Melissa Paterson, O'Brien Avenue. Tiffany Crowhurst's St. Bernard named 'Brandy' was a close second with Roseanne Kamp's 'Scamper' placing third. Judged The Most Outstanding Cat was 'Tilly', owned by 8 year old Sandra Mathews, Rupert Avenue. 'Sam', a cat born with no tail, was second. He was shown by James Edward Bell, Stouffville, R.R.3. Ted Mann and his goat called 'Jack' won a red ribbon as did Kim Joyce's Toy Poodle named 'Gi-Gi'. In the Best Pony Class, Julie Bell with a Palomino named 'Penny' placed first. Julie lives at Stouffville, R.R.3. Wilma vanDolder of Ballantree was second aboard 'Frisky Frolic' and Danny Bingham of Musselman's Lake with 'Tobby' third.

And, oh yes, 'Porky' the snake did win something. A third prize as the pet looking most like its master. But in his mother's opinion any resemblance between 'Porky' and Harvey Schell is purely co-incidental.
