

Fifty calves lost in Green River barn fire

Flames roar through a large barn on the former Alf Michell property, Hwy. 7, east of Green River. Destroyed in the fire were fifty calves, the property of Frank Clark, R.R.1, Locust Hill. Volunteer brigades from Claremont and Brougham were able to save the house and other adjacent buildings. —Peter Harris.

Holiday in Malta

By Barbara St. John
GOODWOOD — Mr. and Mrs. Tony Schembri have returned from a month's holiday in Malta. Tony has friends and relatives there. The children's grandparents stayed with them while their parents were away. Goodwood friends attended a shower for John Marshman and June Carter at the home of Mrs. Howard Storry. Mary McQuaker and friend Raymond visited with Raymond's parents at Massey, Ont. What a way to celebrate a birthday. Mrs. Dorothy Yake was confined to bed with the flu. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith entertained several of their Sunday School pupils to a corn roast at their home, Saturday. Sympathy is extended to Mrs. George Striebich on the death of her husband. Mr. Striebich was the owner of Woodland Electric and was well known throughout the area. The community welcomes the Craigs back to Goodwood. Their son Fred and his wife will be living with them for awhile. Joanne Bunker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bunker, has entered Western University at London. Mrs. May Wilson is in ill health. She has been staying with her daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Coburn had Marina's mother and stepfather with them for Sunday supper, Mr. and Mrs. Bingham. Barb and George Smith spent the weekend with Barb's mother, Mrs. Doreen Bainbridge. Mr. Thomas Upton spent last week visiting at the home of Jerry and Margo O'Flanagan. As your Goodwood community correspondent, I would sincerely appreciate a call with regard to news in the area. My number is 640-3280.

If it isn't snow, it's ghosts.

Unless it's cable. (Then it's pure, clear reception.)

Cable Television is the best thing that's happened to television since television. No snow. No ghosting. No static. Cable does away with these annoyances by bypassing interference. And you get not only great reception but you get more—you get eleven channels. With Cable, your television set truly becomes a great home entertainment center. And, more importantly, it becomes an educational center, too. Cable brings you not only more stations with more educational programs but also special educational channels. Just thumb through the pages of any television listing, and you will readily see all the great programs being broadcast today—many of which are available only through Cable. As a matter of fact, with all the great new UHF programming in the works for the Fall, (for example, Channels 17 and 19), Cable is a wise choice now. Because Cable not only gives you consistently excellent reception of both local and distant channels, but you get UHF channels also. That means you don't have to go through the costly process of converting your present set and installing a UHF antenna. Don't let snow, ghosting, static or lack of choice ruin your television enjoyment any longer. For only pennies a day, you can have the most up-to-date Cable coverage in Canada. Don't wait for tomorrow. There are great shows on tonight. Make that call now.
