

Every community has its share of pretty girls — talented ones too. Stouffville is no exception. Beginning this week, The Tribune will feature some of them, with a thumbnail sketch about each. Seventeen-year-old Sharon Tramer, Ninth Line North, is a Grade 12 student at S.D.S.S. She is a talented pianist, with interests also tending towards acting and journalism. When not helping with the household chores on her parents' farm, she is employed as a part-time waitress at the Black Rose Restaurant, Main St., Stouffville. —Jim Thomas.
