Dear Mr. Thomas: Minor Hockey Week was celebrated across Ontario last month and, once again, the Stouffville Minor Hockey Association had a very successful program.

Four hundred and fifty minor hockey players sold 1,255 strips of tickets. Everyone should be aware that it is their work which enables us to continue the hockey program in Stouffville. I would like to thank them, and all the coaches and managers who assisted in the campaign for funds.

How Sterling Trusts can help you beat the tax man and pile up $100,000.

The secret? A Sterling Trusts Registered Retirement Savings Plan. The Government of Canada wants you to live well when you retire. So they allow you to deduct contributions to our Retirement Savings Plans from your taxable income. We pay you compound interest on the plan, and they don't tax that, either.

So if you contribute steadily, you can accumulate a nice little fortune. For example, let's say you're married with two children, you earn $15,000 per year, and you can contribute $1,000 per year.

Your plan will be worth well over $100,000 in 35 years. (Based on current income tax rates and an interest rate of 6 1/2% compounded). You can contribute more—as much as $4,000 a year, or 20% of your salary, whichever is less—or you can contribute less. In fact, you can start a Sterling Trusts Retirement Savings plan for as little as $100. And a Sterling Trusts Plan can often be coupled with an existing company pension plan.

You're eligible to save 1972 tax money until March 1st, 1973. Any contribution you make to a Sterling Trusts Registered Retirement Savings Plan by March 1st is deductible from your taxable income for 1972. That could put you in line for a good sized rebate in the Spring.

Don't let this opportunity slip by. Apply now. For full information either mail the coupon or call or visit one of our offices listed below.
