

Pickering Council

Discuss refusal Metro dump site

PICKERING TWP. — Jack Anderson, Ward 3 councillor, Twp. of Pickering, has put forward a notice of motion, calling for the municipality to repeal its bylaw permitting Metro to 1,300 acres of property for land-fill sites.

Discussion on the issue is expected Aug. 7. Councillor Anderson says he can see no benefit whatever for Pickering in the deal. He anticipates up to 300 garbage trucks a day on the Brock Road.

"The first step is to repeal the bylaw and see what happens," he said. Since the majority of members were not on Council when the agreement was signed in 1971, this may prove the township's "way out".

Up to now, Metro is reported to have paid Pickering $100,000 in cash and allowed the municipality to dump its refuse free of charge for two years.

The end result could be a return-payment of the $100,000 to Metro.

Under Regional Government, the project will not be the responsibility of Pickering. Instead, the monetary benefits could go to the Region and the refuse to the township. Reeve John Williams is attempting to change this, and have the financial aspect of the program remain with Pickering.

The boys, both 11, are two of the youngest participants in the student exchange program. —Jim Thomas.

Student exchange proves success

PICKERING TWP. — Eleven year old Robert Carson, conc. 7, Pickering Twp., isn't too proficient at speaking French.

His guest, Jean Pierre De Pelteau, also 11, of Ste. Roses, Quebec, finds English a bit of a problem. But the two boys, part of a student exchange program are getting along just fine at Robert's parents' farm, R.R. 2, Claremont.

and Jean have experienced the thrill of a canoe ride, will go for a spin in a go-kart and visit the Science Centre in Toronto. At Jean's place, they went sight-seeing at Man and His World and attended an Expos baseball game. Ste. Roses is a suburb of Montreal.

Robert and Jean are two of the youngest participants in the program. They completed the trip by train.

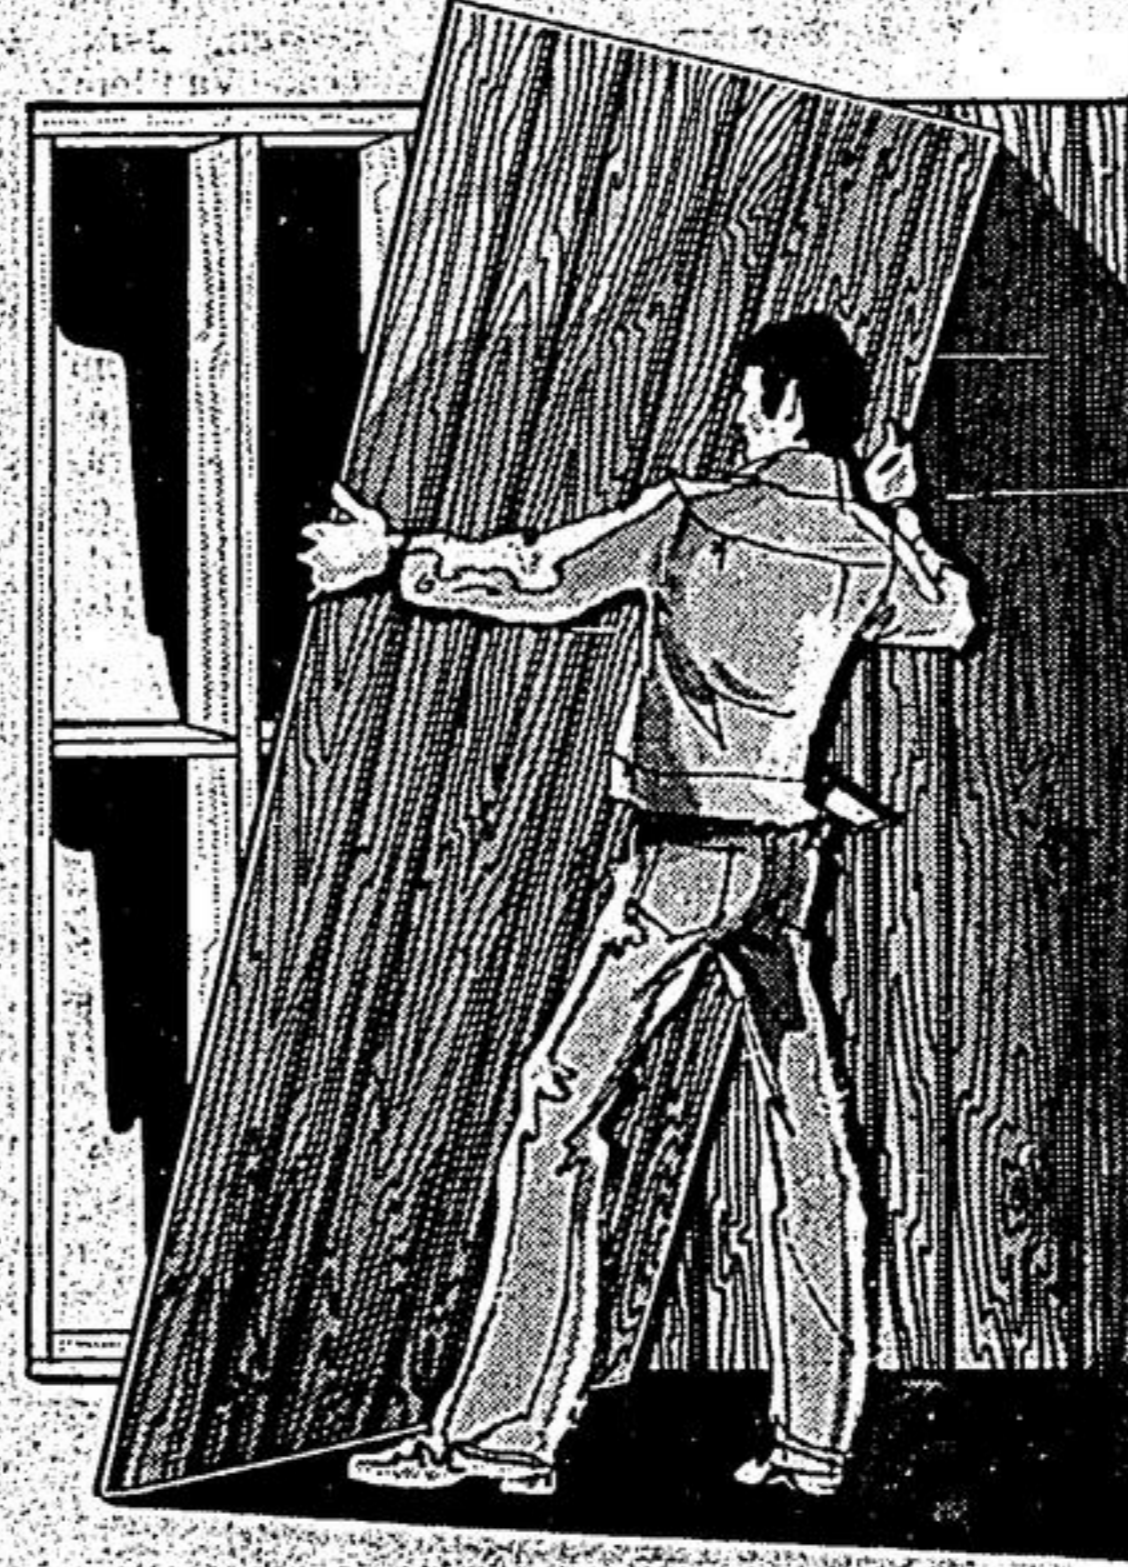

While here, Robert
