

Pickering ponies were tops

A first place was won at the C.N.E. in the pleasure pony driver class by this entry owned by Mrs. Fred Small of Claremont shown driving before the judge in the upper

Agree to improve the lighting

DICKSON'S HILL — It's not traffic signals, but it may be the next best thing in an attempt to reduce motor vehicle collisions at the intersection of 19th Avenue and Hwy. 48.

The decision is the culmination of a long battle by Ward 6 councillor Ron Moran to improve visibility at this location.

Plan fall planting

Markham Town Council Tuesday agreed to share 50-50 the cost of improved lighting at this corner.

Gardeners should be making plans now for fall landscaping with evergreens. Evergreens transplant well in the fall, says D.B. McNeill, a horticultural specialist from the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

Late August or early September are the best times to plant new evergreens or move present plants. However, if you don't have the time then they can still be planted until very late in the season, with excellent results.

One reason for the success in transplanting evergreens in the fall is that they start to develop new roots to ready themselves for winter.

By planting them now or later in the fall, gardeners can take advantage of this natural process. Other factors in successful fall planting are that evergreen growth has stopped or slowed, considerably, summer heat is past, and fall rains have started.

If you did not complete your landscaping last spring, or if there are some changes you still want to make, visit your local garden center. They should have a good selection of evergreens to choose from. Successful transplanting is almost guaranteed in the fall.
