

Dr. Puterbough: "We're puppets on a string"

DR. PUTERBOUGH

Dr. Carl Puterbough of Uxbridge is a candidate for the office of Mayor in the new Twp. of Uxbridge under regional government.

UXBRIDGE — Dr. Carl Puterbough is well-known in Uxbridge. He has worked and lived there for twenty-three years. His dental office is on Toronto St. North near Main, right at the hub of town activity.

As well as working in the centre of town, the doctor has always been at, or closely attuned to, the centre of municipal affairs most of these years.

This month he will be campaigning for the mayoralty of the Township of Uxbridge — the new regional municipality which includes his own Town area, Scott and the existing Uxbridge Township.

By way of introduction to voters not oriented towards the town, the doctor's name is pronounced "Pewterbo". He and his wife, Sheila, live on their farm three miles east of Uxbridge.

A quietly spoken man, he claims he is not a desk-thumping, aggressive politician. "I have always thought," he explains, "that there's no problem that can't be solved by sitting down and talking about it."

Dr. Puterbough was a member of Uxbridge Town Council for two years, followed by two years (1957-58) as Mayor.

"I quit after that because of the demands of my work. Now," he adds, "after twenty-three years in practice, I feel I can coast a little and take time out for municipal affairs."

During the intervening time, he has served on the P.U.C. for eight years and has been a member of the Committee of Adjustment since its inception.

He points out that he has kept an eye on government policies and comments. "I am not in favor of the controls that have been taken away from local municipalities. We are being reduced to puppets on a string."

He concedes that he may be "silly" to enter politics at the advent of regionalization, but adds, "I think I can do as much as anyone to co-ordinate the three areas into the Township of Uxbridge."

Dr. Puterbough is being encouraged in his election campaign by his wife, who is also director of the Dental Department at St. John's Training School; his daughter Wendy, a nurse, and son Michael, who is an accountant.

"My son," says the hopeful candidate, smiling over an odd gesture of confidence, "has a small bet on that I'll lose."
